RE:

FUNDING REQUEST - RICHMOND COMMITTEE ON DISABILITY FOR THEIR

DISABILITY RESOURCE CENTRE

The Finance Select Committee, at its meeting held on July 26th, 2001, considered the attached report, and recommends as follows:

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATION

- (1) That funding of $20,493 be approved to cover the cost of facility rental for the Disability Resource Centre for 2001.
- (2) That the above funding be taken from the 2001 Gaming Revenue Account, which has a balance of $25,000 unallocated.
- (3) That staff continue looking for appropriate facility space for the Disability Resource Centre.
- (4) That the Richmond Committee on Disability report to Council on an annual basis regarding their Advisory capacity.
- (5) That staff review the grants criteria to ensure that on an annual basis all groups receive equal opportunities based on impact in the community and that any increased funding be referred to the Finance Select Committee for further consideration.
- (6) That future requests from the Richmond Committee on Disability be referred to the grant process for consideration.
- (7) That staff examine an equitable funding formula for the Disability Resource Centre in the 2002 budget, contingent on the fact that as with all other centres which are funded by the City, the City would have staff guidance in that centre; and
- (8) That staff report on how the City would operate the Disability Resource Centre with the Richmond Committee on Disability, if at all.

Councillor Kiichi Kumagai, Chair Finance Select Committee

VARIANCE

Please note that the Committee added Parts (7) and (8) to the staff recommendation.

STAFF REPORT

ORIGIN

The Richmond Committee on Disability requested $70,000 of city funding to support the Disability Resource Centre. At the May 7th meeting of Council, the following referral was sent to staff:

"That the impact of (i) the City contributing $70,000 to the Richmond Committee on Disability's Resource Centre, and (ii) including this project in the budget for future years, be referred to staff for review and report to the Finance Select Committee."

In addition, staff were directed to research and report on:

- the lines of communication which had been established by City staff between the various community groups and agencies and the City;
- (b) the amount of staff time provided to such groups and agencies; and
- (c) the relationship between the Therapeutic Equestrian Society and the Resource Centre

FINDINGS OF FACT

Below is a summary of the kinds of support the City provides to various social agencies in Richmond:

A. City Support to Social Service Agencies through provision of facilities / space
In recognition of the value of the service that a number of agencies are providing to meet a need in the community, the City has entered into operating agreements with a number of organizations, to provide access to facilities and/or land provided by the city. Land is provided to the groups at a nominal rental fee per year as summarized in Appendix A.

In addition, a number of groups receive City support through an agreement with Richmond Caring Place, which is a facility that houses many community service agencies. Caring Place was built on City land and leased to the Richmond Caring Place Society at a rate of $10 for 60 years. The City forgives the payment of taxes on this land. Agencies lease space in this building and pay the Caring Place Society an annual lease fee of $12 per sq. foot. Several of the agencies located in the Caring Place also receive city funding through the grant process for operating or program costs. (Appendix A)

B. Support for Organizations through the City Grants program

Social Agencies/Organizations can also apply for support from the City through the annual grant process. Grant criteria are outlined in Appendix B. Total grants allocated to Health and Social Service organizations in 2001 were $ 247,700. Requests exceeded the total grant amount available in this category by $328,283.

Some of the organizations the City supports through the provision of facilities/land also receive funding through the city grants program. (Appendix D)

C. Council appointed Committees on Social/Community issues

Council also has appointed committees to advise, provide research and do project work on behalf of the city as outlined in Appendix C. Representatives are appointed from the community to deal with various social issues and have defined terms of reference with the Policy Planning department, staff support and an administrative budget. Committees include the Seniors Advisory Council, Childcare Development Board, and the Advisory Committee on the Environment. These committees have a formal reporting structure in place through Policy Planning staff.

The Richmond Community Services Advisory Council (RCSAC) is an advisory committee to council. 2 citizens are appointed by Council to serve two-year terms and remaining members consist of representatives from community agencies. The RCSAC receives $9,200 in funding for administration costs and can apply to the Policy Planning Department for project funding.

The Richmond Committee on Disability (RCD) also plays an advisory role to the City. On May 24, 1988 Council adopted the following resolution:

That Richmond Council designate the Richmond Committee on Disability as the official committee on issues affecting persons with disabilities in Richmond, and participate in the Committee as required.

The RCD has advised and worked with the city on issues such as housing, transportation, and recreation. Some accomplishments include the establishment of the Disability Resource Centre, Steveston Residence, facilitating the development of Richmond Therapeutic Equestrian Society, Universal Housing Guidelines and public transportation workshops.

The RCD receives $9,600 in operating funds as a City budget item to fulfil this role on behalf of the city. At this time there is no formal reporting structure.

RCD request for funding for the Disability Resource Centre

The RCD is a registered society whose mission is to give people with disabilities the opportunity to participate in the community to the fullest extent of their ability and to improve the quality of life of people with disabilities by working for inclusion, independence and empowerment.

The $70,000 request to the city is to support the Disability Resource Centre (DRC), which is a program of the RCD. The funding is raised by the RCD as a non-profit society. The vision of the DRC is to help people with disabilities hold the key to their own independence, to give people with disabilities the opportunity to participate in the community to the fullest extent of their ability and to enjoy an improved quality of life.

The DRC provides specialized information, resources and programs that are not available or easily accessed within the region. These include, but are not limited to:

- an information and referral service
- peer support programs
- access to specialized resources
- skills training and individual advocacy training programs
- volunteer opportunities
- partnership program development opportunities including recreational and social activities not currently available in the community
- creative solutions to everyday problems for people with disabilities

In it's first year of operation the DRC has progressed from handling 15–20 calls per month upon first opening to over 500 calls in both May and June 2001. Prior to the establishment of the DRC, city staff often received calls for information relating to these services and provided information and referrals; however, were not always able to provide appropriate assistance to residents due to the variety and often unique nature of the calls.

The DRC runs a program called Navigating the Waters that assists people with disabilities in finding employment, volunteer opportunities or just getting involved in the community. In nine months, 92 individuals, all Richmond residents, have taken part in the program. The national average over a twelve-month period is 39.

In 2001, the RCD applied for $50,000 through the city grant process to assist with the operational and programming costs of the DRC and received $1,500. They also applied and received $25,000 through Casino Grants for a specific project on addictive behaviour in people with disabilities.

The RCD initially approached the city for space to operate the DRC but no accessible city space was available for them. They also applied to the Caring Place Society when an adequate space was available but were not successful in their bid. They were offered a small office space that was not appropriate for their needs.

The RCD searched and found an accessible commercial location and were able to negotiate a 3-year lease with comparable rates to Caring Place. The lease was signed as outlined below:

Term	Monthly rate	Price per sq. ft.	Sub-total	GST	Total
04/01/00 to 03/31/01	$1,500	$12.65	$18,000	$1,260	$19,260
04/01/01 to 03/31/02	$1,650	$14	$19,800	$1,386	$21,186
04/01/02 to 03/31/03	$1,750	$14.75	$21,000	$1,470	$22,470

As a non-profit society, the RCD is able to claim back half of the amount paid in GST.

Relationship between Richmond Therapeutic Equestrian Society and DRC

The Richmond Therapeutic Equestrian Society (RTES) is a separate and distinct society. The RCD facilitated the development of the Society.

RTES serves as a recreational activity for children and youth with disabilities that are unable to participate in many other activities in the community. Their role is to try and provide a service that is an aid in treating various physical, mental and emotional disorders through horseback riding.

Both of these groups serve clients who have disabilities. Both groups also have board members who serve with both organizations.

ANALYSIS

Based on the information gathered and the demand for services, it is recognized that the DRC is providing much needed services in Richmond. Unfortunately, at this time, accessing City support has been difficult because there are no appropriate city facility space available. The grants budget has been declining, with requests growing, making it difficult to add new groups. The following options have been identified for city support to the DRC:

Option 1

That the City continue searching for space which is suitable for the DRC. Until such time as space is found, no city support be provided. The RCD can continue to apply on an annual basis for City Grants.

Option 2 (recommended)

Because the City provides support to a number of agencies providing valuable social services in the community (through land/space and/or grants), the city could fund the facility lease cost for the DRC as outlined above.

The City continues to look for space to house the DRC upon expiry of their current lease agreement.

Option 3

That the $50,000 requested through the City Grants Program be approved (less the $1,500 granted to the RCD) and that the 2001 Grants Budget be increased to cover this amount. This would represent a .065% base level increase. This approach would contravene the current grants policy that specifies one grant application per year.

Option 4

That the $70,000 funding request be granted and that the 2001 Grants budget be increased to cover this amount. As in option 3, this would contravene current city grants guidelines. The financial impact would represent a .077% base level increase. To include the amount in the 2002 base level budget, it would represent a .073% increase.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Funding for 2001 would total $20,493 and could be taken from the 2001 Gaming Provision account (2461-10). Within this account, $100,000 allocated for City of Richmond Initiatives – Miscellaneous as shown on Appendix E. $75,000 has already been allocated for projects.

For 2002, the Grants budget could be increased by $21,735, which would represent a .022% base level increase and would have to go through the additional level request process.

CONCLUSION

It is clear that the DRC provides a valuable services in Richmond and that there is a significant demand for these services. While the city does not have direct responsibility for social services, it does provide support to a number of social agencies in the community to meet the needs of specific high needs target audiences.

RICHMOND GRANTS POLICY

The City of Richmond supports the enhancement of a positive quality of life for all its residents, and the Council recognizes that one means of helping to achieve this goal is through an annual grants program.

Applications from non-profit or registered charitable organizations and/or groups are eligible for a City grant on the basis that they:

- Offer projects, programs, services or events that have a demonstrated need in the community;
- Provide the greatest benefits to the highest number of Richmond residents;
- Exercise co-ordination and co-operation with other groups to prevent duplication of projects, programs, services or events:
- Provide evidence of having sought funding from a variety of sources;
- Promote volunteer participation and citizen involvement;
- Apply a "user pay" philosophy, where applicable;
- Use innovative approaches and techniques in addressing community issues;
- Provide documentation supporting the financial need for funding, including, but not limited to, the current financial statements of the applicant:
- Show real and financial need and demonstrate the impact that would occur following non-funding from the City;
