Staff Report

Origin

In response to the initiatives of the Cat and Dog Companion Animal Task Force, Council directed staff to bring forward bylaw amendments to address various issues identified and highlighted by the force.

Analysis

One of the issues identified by the task force as needing attention was the health and welfare of animals in pet store businesses.

In conducting our research, staff were somewhat amazed that, with the exception of the Corporation of The City of North Vancouver, no other lower Mainland Municipalities have any regulations in place for control or protection of animals in pet stores, and neither did the S.P.C.A.

Based on observations, together with input from the public, staff are of the opinion that it would be appropriate to have a bylaw to regulate the carrying on of a pet store business in the City of Richmond for the purposes of preventing cruelty to animals and protecting the public by preventing and minimizing nuisances and misleading business practices.

The regulations contained in Amendment Bylaw No. 7223 which amends Business Regulation Bylaw No. 7148 were developed based on the concerns identified by the Cat and Dog Companion Animal Task Force and in consultation with the SPCA who will be charged with enforcement of the new provisions. The proposed regulations require animals in pet stores to be properly cared for. Pet store operators would also be required to keep a record of all animals offered for sale, including where the animals come from. This may assist the SPCA in addressing issues surrounding 'puppy mills'.

Financial Impact.

Nil.

Conclusion

A bylaw that regulates the carrying on of a pet store business and controls and protects the health and welfare of animals is clearly a responsible approach.
