Att. 1

Staff Report

Origin

Under section 148 of the Local Government Act, the Chief Election Officer must submit a report of the election results to City Council.

Analysis

The election held on Saturday, November 19th, 2005, was the sixth election using the automated vote counting system. Again, voter satisfaction with the system was very high because the machines detect over-voted ballots and provide the voter with the opportunity to re-make their ballot if it has been accidentally spoiled. The automated vote counting units also allow the election results to be rapidly compiled following the close of voting. This year, all results were in and reported live to the City's website by 8:38 pm on election night.

In addition to the technological success noted above, the City also ran a successful pilot project which involved the use of a computerized voters list at three selected voting places. The system not only performed extremely well from a technical point-of-view, but it also allowed election staff to process electors very effectively. In fact, at two of the pilot project sites, extra voting booths had to be set up because voters were processed so efficiently at the registration tables that line-ups were forming for people waiting to get into a voting booth. Typically, it is the registration and processing of voters at the tables that takes the most amount of time, but at the pilot project sites, the registration and processing of voters was significantly stream-lined allowing election staff to provide a level of customer service that was not possible before. This system offers many other administrative efficiencies as well as benefits for candidates and scrutineers in relation to election day reporting.

Attached are the overall results, together with the "poll by poll" breakdown for each candidate for each office (Attachment 1). Noted below in the table are the voter statistics for 2005 along with the figures from the last number of elections. Of particular note is the dramatic jump in the number of registered electors between 2002 and 2005 due to the merger of the federal and provincial voters lists. The result of the merger was the immediate addition of over 800,000 registered electors to the provincial voters list, Richmond's share of that number being approximately 37,000 new registered electors. While this may have contributed to the larger number of people actually voting at the civic election, the effect of the increase in the base number is that the voter turn-out, when expressed as a percentage, appears to have dropped dramatically, even though 3,500 more people actually voted than in 2002

Year	Number of People Voting	Number of Registered Electors	Voter Turn-out as a Percentage
2005	30,051	116,892	25.71 %
2002	26,528	79,120	33.65%
2001 (By-election)	23,727	73,980	32.07%
1999	22,602	69,694	32.50%
1996	20,730	71,589	29.36%

Financial Impact

None.

Conclusion

That the Official Results of the Richmond 2005 General Local and School Election be received for information.

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "David Weber". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned to the left of the typed name.
