Richmond Intercultural Advisory Committee 2017 Annual Report

Introduction

Richmond City Council established the Richmond Intercultural Advisory Committee (RIAC) in February 2002 to assist the City in working towards its corporate vision of making Richmond the “most appealing, liveable, and well-managed community in Canada”. RIAC has up to 18 Council appointed members with representatives from Richmond Community Services Advisory Committee, social and public service organizations and individual citizen appointees. The mandate of RIAC, as outlined in its Terms of Reference, is to “enhance intercultural harmony and strengthen intercultural co-operation in Richmond”. RIAC achieves this mandate by providing information, options and recommendations to City Council regarding intercultural issues and opportunities and responding to intercultural issues referred by Council. RIAC’s annual work program is intended to complement the prioritized actions of the City of Richmond’s Council Term Goals and Social Development Strategy.

In Fall 2017, the City of Richmond began work on a Cultural Harmony Strategy. The Strategy will support the City’s vision and further enhance and build on the City’s cultural inclusion practices. RIAC has provided input on the Cultural Harmony Strategy at multiple points as opportunities have arisen.

The 2017 RIAC Annual Report is prepared for Richmond City Council in accordance with requirements in the Terms of Reference. This document serves as a summary of RIAC’s activities during the 2017 calendar year. It is prepared based on RIAC members’ input, with support from the Staff Liaison.

Strategic Directions

To help achieve the Intercultural Vision, the RIAC 2017-2022 Intercultural Strategic Plan outlines four strategic directions to help guide the work program of the Committee:

- 1) Address language, information and cultural barriers
- 2) Address the perception and reality of racism
- 3) Explore areas of alignment between RIAC Intercultural Vision and governmental and stakeholder systems
- 4) Support the development and integration of Richmond’s immigrants

Strategic Direction 1: Address Language, Information and Cultural Barriers

Initiative: Continue to provide input on the Newcomer’s Guide

RIAC discussed the ongoing importance of the Newcomer’s Guide. This resource has been a well-received for people new to Richmond. The printed copies have been very popular and versions are currently available in English, Chinese, Tagalog, Punjabi and Russian at www.richmond.ca/newcomers. The Newcomer’s Guide webpage on the City website receives between 50 to 60 “hits” per month.

Strategic Direction 2: Address the Perception and Reality of Racism

Initiative: Support a range of inter-ethnic dialogues that focus on all types of diversity

Diversity Symposium

In 2017, the City of Richmond hosted the Diversity Symposium. Held at City Hall for the third consecutive year, it reached 101 attendees representing over 40 organizations. Participants included City staff, Community Association staff and board members, staff from the School District, Vancouver Coastal Health, and numerous community social service organizations. Many RIAC members attended and volunteered to introduce the presentations.

During the planning phase, RIAC provided input on the 2017 Diversity Symposium theme: “Fostering Intercultural Curiosity and Community Connections”. The Committee put forth this theme to encourage stakeholders in Richmond to explore how to facilitate intercultural curiosity. A post-event evaluation report is expected to inform the planning process for 2018.

RIAC Participation in SUCCESS Community Forums Hosted

RIAC members participated in two community forums hosted by SUCCESS. The first forum resulted in a robust discussion on immigration and racial discrimination, including a discussion of the relative merit and use of words such as “assimilation”, “integration”, “inclusion” and “participation”. Two RIAC members participated (Wendy Yuan and Joan Page).

The second SUCCESS session, All Our Neighbours Roundtable discussion, was one of a series of events held across the Lower Mainland to explore sense of belonging and inclusion in the context of diverse communities. Several RIAC members participated in the dialogue. The dialogue created space for open sharing of diverse perspectives and attitudes towards immigrants to encourage more understanding of others’ views.

Initiative: “Hi Neighbour” initiative in Richmond

The committee identified that a key factor in promoting intercultural harmony is to intentionally promote the sense of social connectedness in neighbourhoods so that community members new and old have the opportunity to get to know one another.

In 2017, research continued and a project working group was convened to develop a plan to implement a small-scale “Hi Neighbour” project that encourages neighbourliness among Richmond residents.

RIAC endorses the importance of considering social connectedness in neighbourhoods both in social programming and physical planning of neighbourhoods and community spaces.

Strategic Direction 3: Explore Areas of Alignment between RIAC's Intercultural Vision and Governmental Stakeholder Systems

Initiative: Work to ensure the intercultural vision is reflected in City events and operational practices

Distribution of RIAC 2017-2022 Intercultural Strategic Plan

RIAC members shared the RIAC 2017-2022 Intercultural Strategic Plan with the organizations they represent and communities they are linked to. The document is an effective tool to raise awareness of RIAC's intercultural vision and to encourage stakeholder input and buy-in to help achieve the vision.

RIAC Feedback on Richmond World Festival

The group discussed the importance of the Richmond World Festival and considered how RIAC's intercultural vision should be incorporated into arts and cultural events. Bryan Tasaka, Manager, Major Events and Film for the City of Richmond was invited to the RIAC meeting to discuss: a) World Festival's alignment with the intercultural vision; and b) possible ideas that can improve World Festival's alignment with the vision. Key recommendations shared with City staff included:

- Incorporate programming at events that intentionally promotes cross-cultural learning (e.g. storytelling by performers, short activities that facilitate learning and involve a large group of festival-goers accomplishing a task together).
- Feature First Nations acts and storytelling more prominently and intentionally.
- Add a 'Why World Festival?' page to the event's website and refer to RIAC's Intercultural Strategic Plan.

RIAC Participation in Minoru Vision Plan Process

There have been significant recent changes in Minoru Park, such as the addition of new multi-use sports fields and development of the Minoru Centre for Active Living. There is also a rapidly increasing residential population in the City Centre. City staff are working towards the development of a vision plan and guiding principles for the future renewal of Minoru Park. RIAC input was sought to help ensure the redeveloped Minoru Park meets the needs of all community members. RIAC Chair, Joan Page, attended this session.

RIAC Participation in Community Wellness Strategy Update

The Community Wellness Strategy Update was a collaborative effort involving the City, Vancouver Coastal Health (VCH) and the School District. City advisory bodies were invited to a presentation to provide input on the draft vision for community wellness. An online survey was also made available to those unable to attend in person. RIAC Chair, Joan Page, attended this session.

RIAC Participation in Cultural Harmony Strategy

RIAC members participated in a facilitated discussion to provide input on the Cultural Harmony Strategy. The discussion focused on the strengths and opportunities to promote intercultural harmony in Richmond. Subsequently, RIAC members provided suggestions to facilitate an inclusive community consultation process to garner community members' thoughts on the upcoming draft recommendations.

RIAC Participation in Resilient Streets Grant Workshop

The City of Richmond received a Resilient Streets Grant from BC Healthy Communities. The City received planning support from BC Healthy Communities in the form of an in-person facilitated workshop to develop the grant's implementation plan. RIAC members were asked to participate in this workshop to provide advice on how the initiative can promote neighbourhood connections. RIAC members, Mohinder Grewal and Linda Sum, attended this session.

Strategic Direction 4: Support the Development and Integration of Richmond's Immigrants

RIAC members invited presentations from different member organizations to learn more about their initiatives that support the development and integration of Richmond's residents.

- BC Responsible and Problem Gambling Program: RIAC member, Phyllis Chan, Prevention Specialist and Clinical Counsellor, provided an overview of her work as a prevention specialist and clinical counsellor with this Provincially-funded program. Counselling services are provided free of charge and an appointment can be secured within 24 hours. There are approximately 120,000 problem gamblers in BC, but less than 1% seek counselling.
- Chimo Community Services: RIAC member, Diane Sugars, Executive Director, provided an overview of the broad range of crisis and preventative services available to community members, many of whom live in low income situations. In 2016 their transition house (Nova House) aided 200 women and 120 children, and had to turn away approximately 100 women a month due to a lack of capacity. Chimo staff are able to communicate in over 25 languages.
- Richmond RCMP: RIAC member, Nigel Pronger, gave an in-depth explanation of the BC RCMP Hate Crimes Unit. In Canada, a hate crime is defined as any criminal offense against a person, group or property that is motivated by hatred or prejudice towards an identifiable group, such as:
  - Race, colour, ethnicity and language
  - Religion
  - Age, mental or physical disability
  - Sex or sexual orientation
  - Any other similar factor: Hate crimes and incidents are any crime or incident which is targeted at a victim because of the offender's hostility or prejudice against an identifiable group of people. As society evolves, new identifiable groups emerge.
- School District 38 – English Language Learning (ELL) Program: RIAC member, Hieu Pham-Fraser, Curriculum Coordinator, ELL & Inclusive Cultural Education, provided an overview of additional language services available to students. It can take 5-10 years to fully acquire a language academically. There are over 5,000 ELL funded students in Richmond.
- Vancouver Coastal Health (VCH): RIAC members received a presentation from Belinda Boyd, Leader of Community Engagement with VCH on the “End of Life Strategy”. The Committee provided ideas on respectful and effective ways of having a conversation with different cultural communities on end of life issues.

Conclusion and Acknowledgements

RIAC conducted group planning exercises to collectively establish its priorities and work plan actions. The result is a 2018 work program emphasizing RIAC's key role as an advisory body to City Council and staff. RIAC will continue to proactively provide recommendations and options to the City, participate in and provide input to planning, and respond in a timely manner to requests from the City.

RIAC was provided exemplary support by Alan Hill, Staff Liaison and received notice of his resignation with great regret. RIAC is pleased to welcome Donna Lee, Staff Liaison who has brought significant expertise and experience to her role. RIAC also acknowledges the significant commitment and contributions of departing members in 2017. Diane Bissenden, former Chair of RIAC and a long-time representative of VCH, left RIAC on retirement. Committee member, Mr. Lawrence Lim, provided years of leadership in the development and expansion of the Newcomers Guide, successfully establishing funding sponsorship. Other Committee members, Ms. Shashi Assanand, Ms. Parm Grewal, Ms. Neelu Kang, and Ms. Wendy Yuan are also recognized for their support to RIAC.

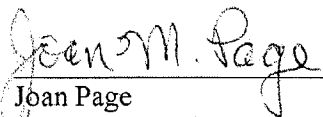

All RIAC members have worked diligently and with enthusiasm throughout the year, bringing awareness and opportunities to RIAC. Lively discussions and debates have better informed the work of RIAC. The continued support of Mayor and Councillors is acknowledged and the participation of Councillor Derek Dang (RIAC Council Liaison) at RIAC meetings, raising awareness and bringing updates on a range of City initiatives, is greatly appreciated.
