

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

James A. McCallum Bernice D. Halliday

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

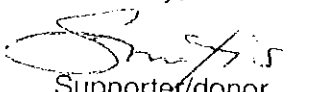

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

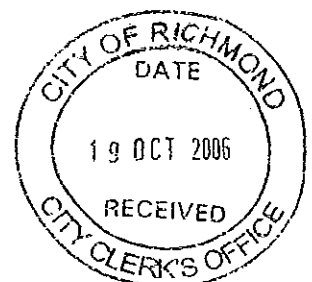

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor
METIS SETIAN

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Dianne Bidd
Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

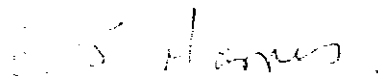

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

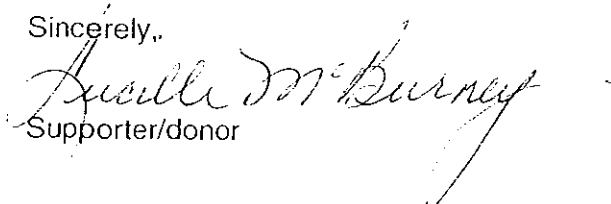

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

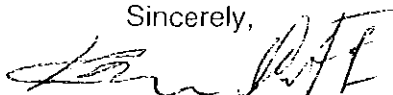

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Corinne Vasilyev
Mark Genshaft

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

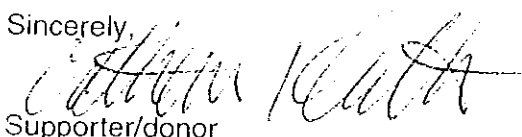

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

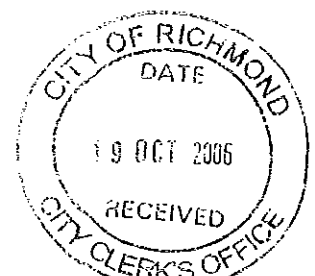

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

CATHERINE KLUTHE

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Malcolm Brodie & Hilda H. Booth

Supporter/donor

cc B.C. SPCA.

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

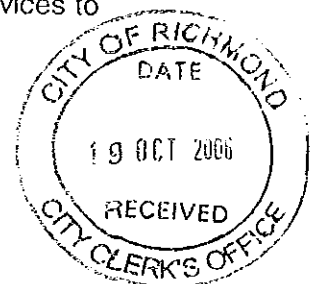

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,
SHARON D. MOORE
Sharon Moore
Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

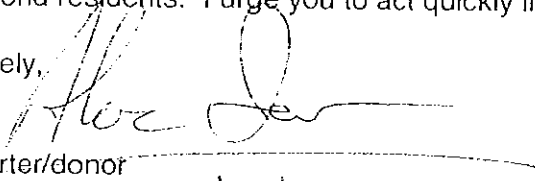

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

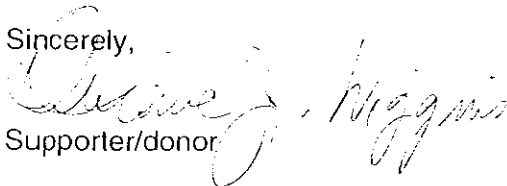

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

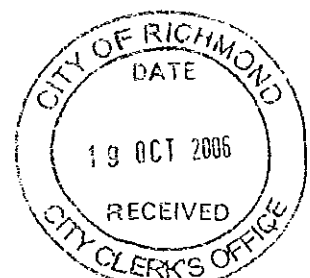

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Patricia Eburne

Supporter/donor

*Patricia Eburne
308-7890 Melfort Rd
Richmond, B.C. V6Y 1X8*

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

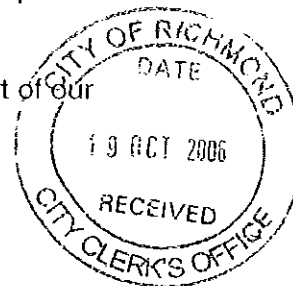

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Murray Brown
5271 Hollisford Dr
Richmond BC V7E 5B7

2-75 400 3

October 10, 2006

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

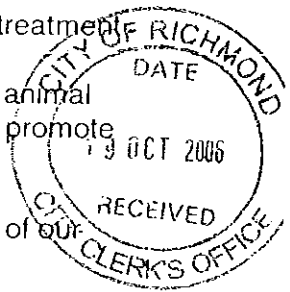

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Murray Brown

Supporter/donor

Murray P Brown

P.S. We have had excellent service from the SPCA and I would hate to see another group take over just for the sake of a new bid.

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

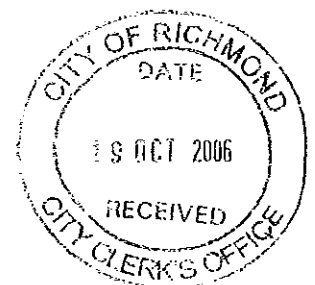

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Elvera Johnson
43-12880 Railway Ave
Richmond BC V7E 6G4

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

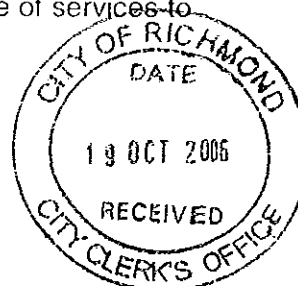

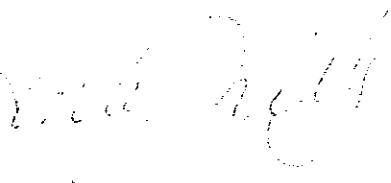

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

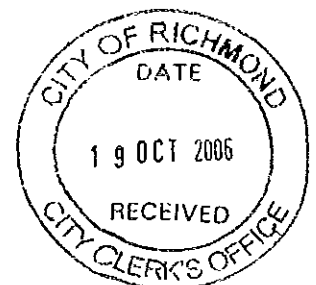

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office
October 10, 2006

*PC: Manager, Community
Bylaws for info.*

Oct 20/06

	INT
✓ DW	DW
GJ
KY
DAW
DB
WB

0775-60-244

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,
Mary J Lucas

Supporter/donor

6271- MINOR BL

October 19/2006

5771 Gibbons Ave.

Richmond

VA 23226

		INT
RDW	DW
GJ
KY
JAN
B3
WS

0775-50-294/

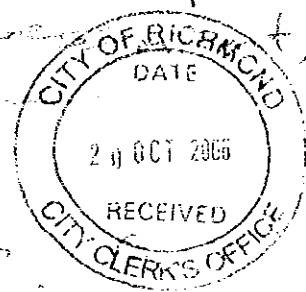

Dear Mayor Proctor and Members of Council
Re: Renewal of BCSPCA Medical Control Contract

I and my family have been supporters of the BCSPCA for many years, partaking in some of the programmes offered and enjoying activities that it has sponsored.

We believe in this organization's committee to, and advocacy for, animal welfare. We feel strongly that a central unified and experienced voice, to speak for not only our pets but also for all creatures who cannot speak for themselves, is necessary.

How would Richmond Council propose to supply the same level of education, advocacy, complaint investigation and action, and quality programmes, if all other aspects of the BCSPCA's mandate?

We would urge council to negotiate its position vis-a-vis the Byron & A. and understand the new company etc

It is a very interesting and brings things not mentioned in concerns' could you please let us know how appreciate the effort you have made on our behalf in the past concerning a very difficult situation on Gibsons side

Yours Sincerely

African

(MR. & MRS. NORRI & NICOLA FRIESEN)

5711 GILBODSTONE

Richmond BC V7C 2G6

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Virginia Smeldt Raan
Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

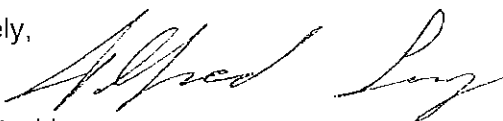

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

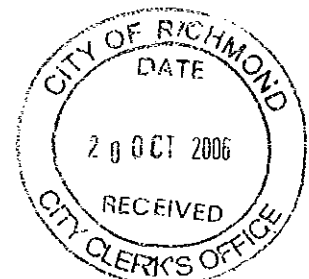

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Alfred Lenz

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty):
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

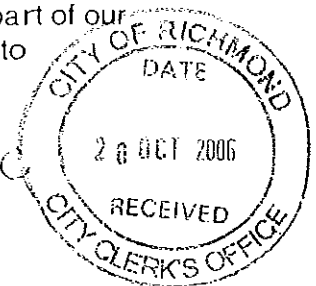

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely, Mrs Florence Gibson
#37, 10740, Springmont Drive Richmond B.C.
VME 1w1
Supporter/donor ✓

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Ignacio Sorrenti

Supporter/donor

Michael Smart

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

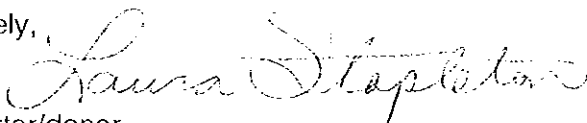

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

October 10, 2006

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

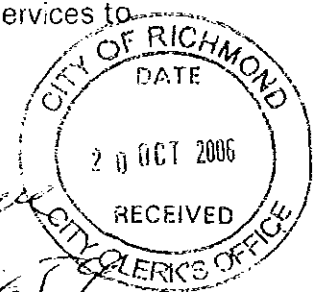

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

*Edna & Karina Towers, 7th Ave
#25 11391
Richmond B.C. V7E 4J7*

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

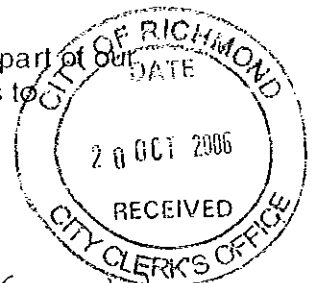

Sincerely,

Janet G. Lawton

Supporter/donor

#6-10771 GILBERT RD
RICHMOND V7E 6E3

R.N. (Ret'd)

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

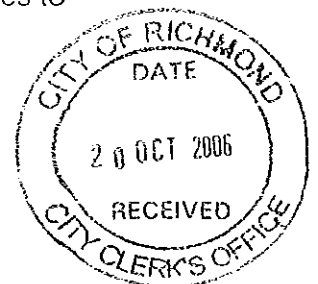

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor Mrs. Josephine Garcia

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Matilda Mansfield
129-3411 Springfield Rd
Richmond B.C.
MEIZI

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Maureen Margolis

Supporter/donor

10470 Truce Dr.
Richmond, B.C.

V7E 5B4

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

B. H. Shaw
B. H. Shaw
20 OCT 2006
CITY CLERK'S OFFICE

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

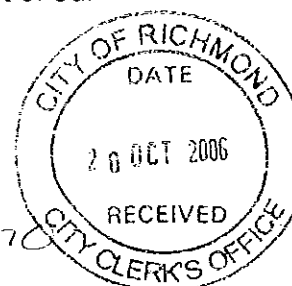

Sincerely,

Yasmin J. DASH

Supporter/donor

MARCIA DASH

604 275 4670

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

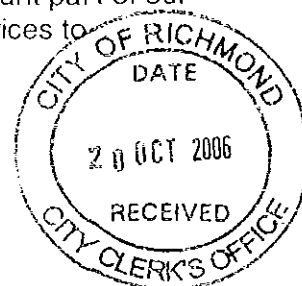

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

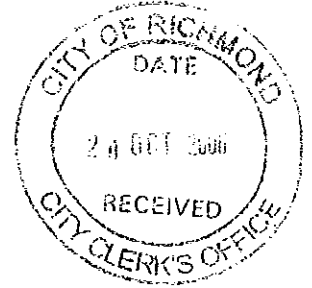

Brigid Achea
Supporter/donor

Mayor and Councillors

From: Elaine Leung [yeeeling@hotmail.com]
Sent: Thursday, 19 October 2006 11:51 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: yeeeling@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
5911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Elaine Leung, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes yeeeling@hotmail.com

British Columbia

Mayor and Councillors

From: Laurie Matthews [ljmatthews99@hotmail.com]
Sent: Thursday, 19 October 2006 9:56 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: ljmatthews99@hotmail.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Laurie Matthews, Supporter, Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes lmatthews99@hotmail.com #204-5880 Dover Cres.

Richmond

British Columbia

V7C 5P5

(604)-244-2911

Mayor and Councillors

From: Verena Sexsmith [verena@legearpelling.com]
Sent: Friday, 20 October 2006 5:08 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: verena@legearpelling.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

I do not live in the City of Richmond, but I am a partner in a business here in Richmond and feel that the BC SPCA is doing a wonderful job and should stay here with your support.

Sincerely,

Verena Sexsmith, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No verena@legearpelling.com

British Columbia

Mayor and Councillors

From: Liz Padgett [elizabeth.padgett@shaw.ca]
Sent: Friday, 20 October 2006 11:35 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: elizabeth.padgett@shaw.ca; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Liz Padgett, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes elizabeth.padgett@shaw.ca

British Columbia
V7E 6T4
604-275-0520

Mayor and Councillors

From: john lubzinski [john.lubzinski@gmail.com]
Sent: Saturday, 21 October 2006 3:48 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: john.lubzinski@gmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

John Lubzinski, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes john.lubzinski@gmail.com
106 - 4100 Chatham Street
Richmond
British Columbia
V7E 2Z8
604-241 4940

Mayor and Councillors

From: Christine Patmore [cj2patmore@hotmail.com]
Sent: Saturday, 21 October 2006 11:50 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: cj2patmore@hotmail.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Christine Patmore, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No cj2patmore@hotmail.com 8140 Laval Place
Vancouver British Columbia V5S 4B2

Mayor and Councillors

From: Deborah Koyanagi [woofnit@yahoo.com]
Sent: Saturday, 21 October 2006 9:05 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: woofnit@yahoo.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Deborah Koyanagi, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes woofnit@yahoo.com

British Columbia

-

Mayor and Councillors

From: Christine Patmore [cj2patmore@hotmail.com]
Sent: Saturday, 21 October 2006 11:50 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: cj2patmore@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Christine Patmore, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No cj2patmore@hotmail.com 8140 Laval Place
Vancouver British Columbia V5S 4B2

MayorandCouncillors

From: Colin Gibson [candpgibson@shaw.ca]
Sent: Saturday, 21 October 2006 2:28 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: candpgibson@shaw.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,
C. Gibson

Colin Gibson, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes candpgibson@shaw.ca

British Columbia
V7A 2E8

-

Mayor and Councillors

From: Dave McKinnon [wdmck@telus.net]
Sent: Saturday, 21 October 2006 8:38 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: wdmck@telus.net; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Dave McKinnon, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes wdmck@telus.net
11764 Fentiman Place
Richmond
British Columbia
V7E 6M6
604-271-6546

MayorandCouncillors

From: Eliza Bang [sushib@telus.net]
Sent: Saturday, 21 October 2006 9:50 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: sushib@telus.net; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,
Eliza Bang
Eliza Bang, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes sushib@telus.net

British Columbia
V7E 6C9

-

Mayor and Councillors

From: Judith Matheson [judithmatheson@telus.net]
Sent: Sunday, 22 October 2006 9:07 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: judithmatheson@telus.net; cdaniell@sca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Judith Matheson, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes judithmatheson@telus.net
#1-3555 Westminster Highway

British Columbia
V7C 5P6
778-882-8797

Mayor and Councillors

From: peggy moradi [pmoradi@shaw.ca]
Sent: Sunday, 22 October 2006 10:02 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: pmoradi@shaw.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

peggy moradi, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes pmoradi@shaw.ca
122 4280 moncton street
richmond
British Columbia
v7e6t4
604-274-0466

MayorandCouncillors

From: christian mattenley [cmattenley@hotmail.ca]
Sent: Sunday, 22 October 2006 10:03 AM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: cmattenley@hotmail.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

christian mattenley, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes cmattenley@hotmail.ca
122 4280 moncton street
richmond
British Columbia
v7e6t4
-

Mayor and Councillors

From: Margaret Chan [margaret_chan@canada.com]
Sent: Monday, 23 October 2006 11:08 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: margaret_chan@canada.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Margaret Chan, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes margaret_chan@canada.com 3720 Regent Street
Richmond British Columbia V7E 2N6
604-241-4057

Mayor and Councillors

From: The Dear Animal Hospital The Dear Animal Hospital [thedearanimalhospital@telus.net]
Sent: Monday, 23 October 2006 3:49 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: thedearanimalhospital@telus.net; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

The Dear Animal Hospital The Dear Animal Hospital, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes thedearanimalhospital@telus.net

British Columbia

-

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

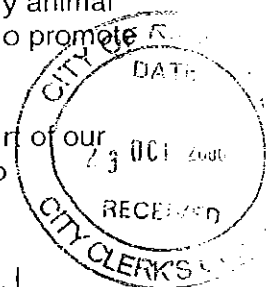

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

So many pets bought in petshops end up, when novelty has gone with SPCA
we got our cat there and also refer people to the SPCA for animals who otherwise would die. They rescue all sorts of animals please let us keep our organisation who

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

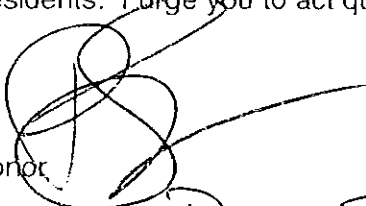

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

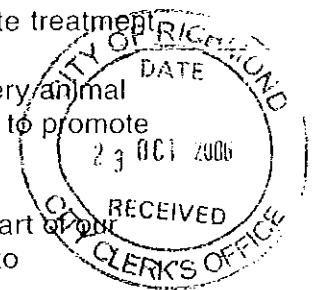

Supporter/donor

Paula Stohaim
V6V 1J4

Nicole St. Louis
V6H 7T7

SIMON LINDENHOFF
V6M 2G4

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

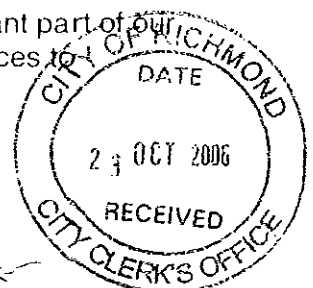

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

J. M. [Signature]

Supporter/donor

I ADOPTED MY DOG "OLIVER" FROM THE RICHMOND SPCA. HE IS A REAL TREASURE TO ME AND IS WELL LOVED. THANK YOU SPCA.

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

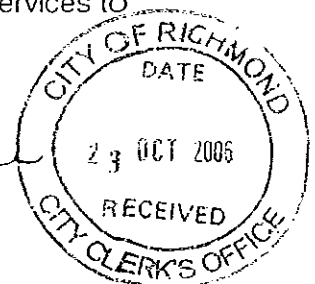

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Alanna

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

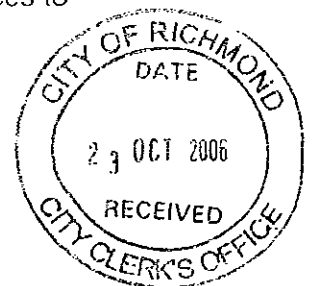

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Lolaine B. Wells
Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

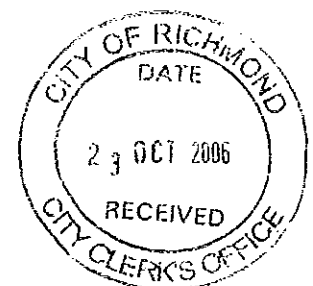

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Marguerite Cassidy
Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

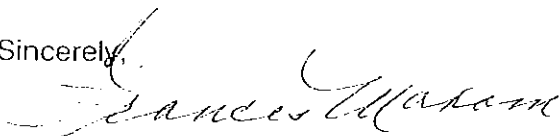

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

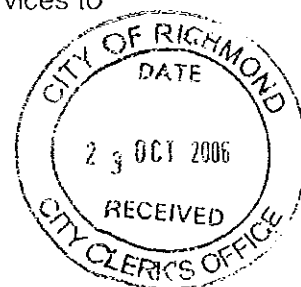

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

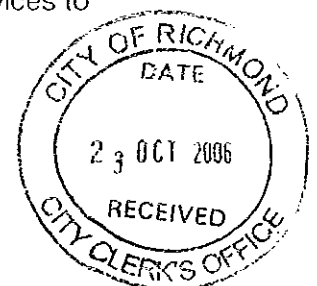

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Janice Ferguson
Supporter/donor
2330 DYKE RD
RICHMOND BC V6V 1E1

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

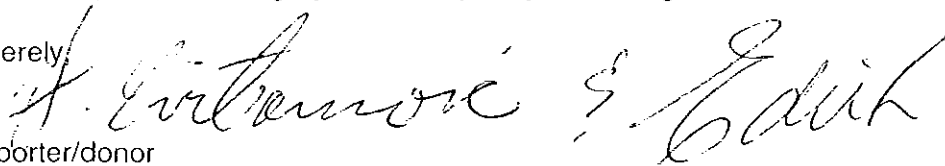

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

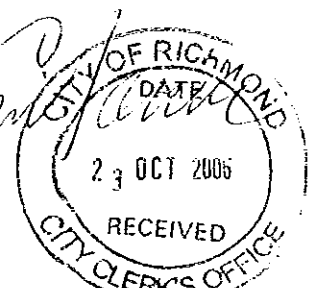

Supporter/donor

Proud Supporter of the BC SPCA

Edith Cvitanovic
9451 Patterson Rd
Richmond BC V6X 1P8

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

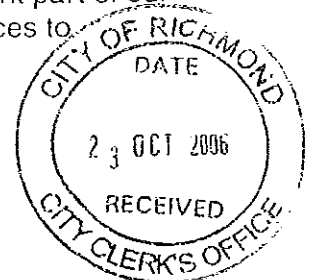

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals, and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely, James Finlayson
7160 Petta Road
Richmond BC
V7A 1T7

Supporter/donor

604-271-1222 (no email)

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

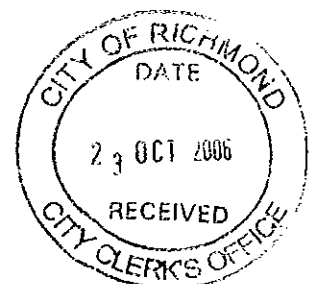

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Patricia N. Luchanan

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

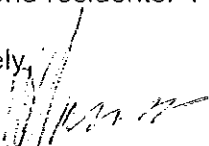

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

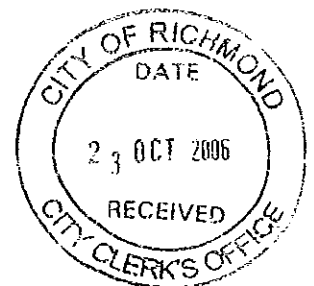

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

5900 Douglas Cll
RICHMOND BC
V7C5R4

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

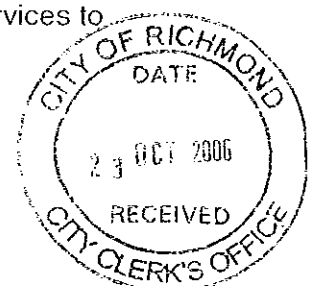

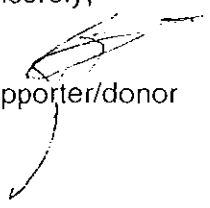

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

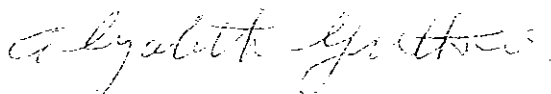

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

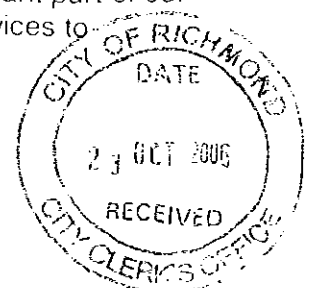

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie, a Member of Council.

Oct 18, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Member of Council:

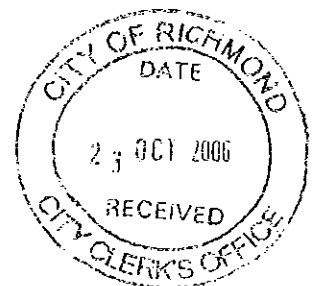

I am humbly writing to express my very strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of SPCA and to request that the city of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the B.C. SPCA.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the city itself assumed responsibility for animal services.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed services to Richmond residents. I ask you act quickly on this regard.

Sincerely,

Gabe Johnson

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

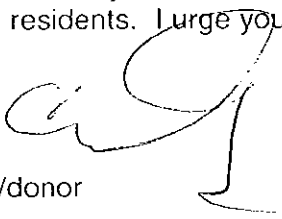

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

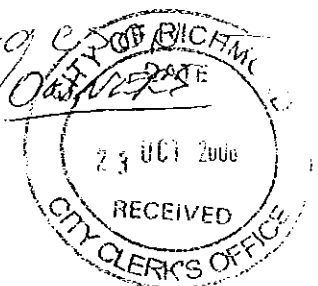

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Carol & Colin George
3191 Broadway St
Richmond, BC
V7E 3X2

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

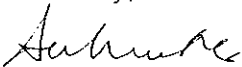

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

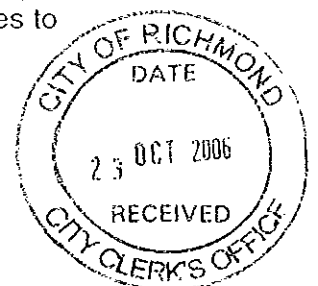

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

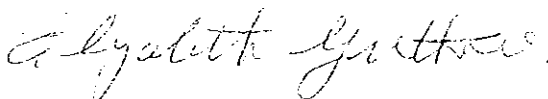

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

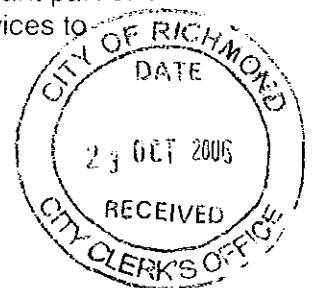

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Member of Council

Oct 18, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Member of Council:

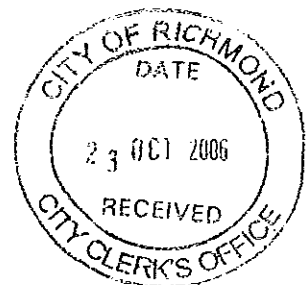

I am hereby writing to express my very strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of SPCA and to request that the city of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the B.C. SPCA.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the city itself assumed responsibility for animal services.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the B.C. SPCA remains a part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much needed services to Richmond residents. I ask you act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Yake Jackson

MayorandCouncillors

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office

From: polly braconnier [polly_canuck@yahoo.ca]
Sent: Tuesday, 24 October 2006 12:48 AM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: polly_canuck@yahoo.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

*pc: Wayne Mercer
for information*

0715-50-2941

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Oct. 24/06

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

polly braconnier, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No polly_canuck@yahoo.ca

British Columbia

-

Mayor and Councillors

From: Jessica Tung [jessie.cat@hotmail.com]
Sent: Tuesday, 24 October 2006 8:10 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: jessie.cat@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Jessica Tung, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes jessie.cat@hotmail.com

British Columbia

Mayor and Councillors

From: Marilyn Smyth [mare111dc@yahoo.ca]
Sent: Tuesday, 24 October 2006 11:16 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: mare111dc@yahoo.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Smyth, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes marell1dc@yahoo.ca 7120B No. 1 Road Richmond
British Columbia V7C 1T6
604-295-0911

Mayor and Councillors

From: Gloria Ng [gloria.trend2000@telus.net]
Sent: Tuesday, 24 October 2006 12:32 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: gloria.trend2000@telus.net; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Gloria Ng, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes gloria.trend2000@telus.net

British Columbia

-

MayorandCouncillors

From: Diana Gopp [dianagopp@hotmail.com]
Sent: Tuesday, 24 October 2006 2:47 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: dianagopp@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Diana Gopp, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes dianagopp@hotmail.com

British Columbia

-

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

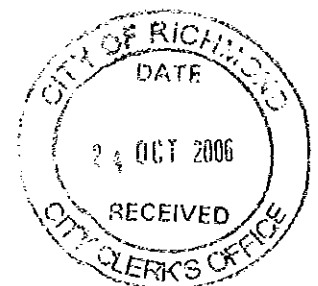

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

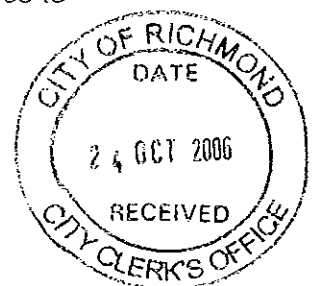

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Malcolm Brodie
Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

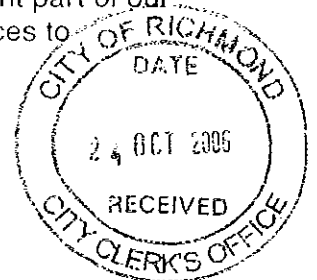

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Ms. L. Sutherland

Supporter/donor

3 Please I urge you to continue with the spaid on No 3 hold + do not put it out to tender

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

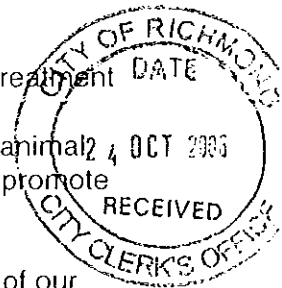

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

D. A. Vance
#112 9300 Glenacres
Richmond V7A 1Y8

You are doing a good job

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

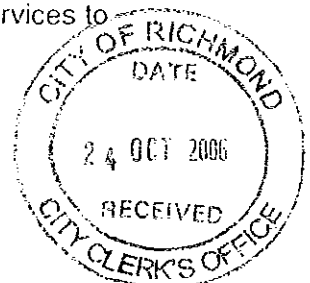

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

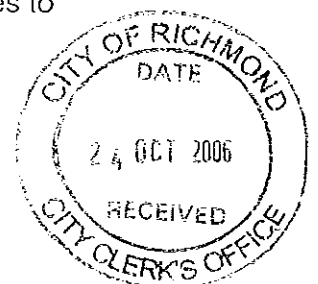

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely, darlene
Darlene A. Tait
~~Darlene A. Tait~~
Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

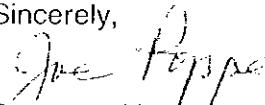

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

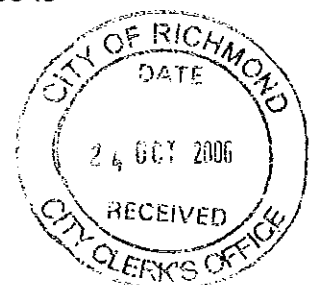

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

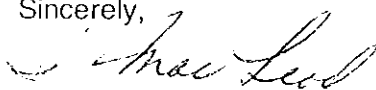

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

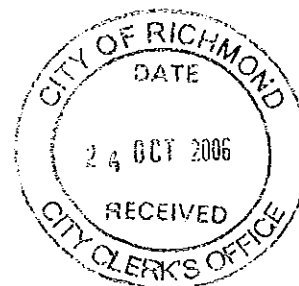

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

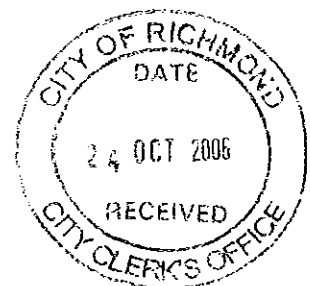

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Gordon & Sheila Parsons
Supporter/donor
(Gordon & Sheila Parsons)

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

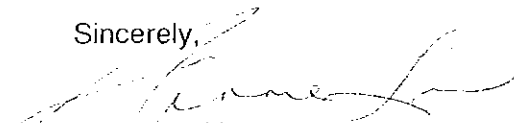

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

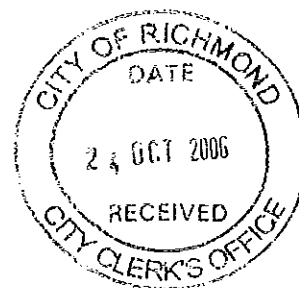

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

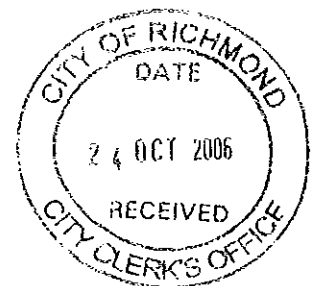

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

 RICHMOND JOHN SINGER
Supporter/donor

MayorandCouncillors

From: Jay Morrison [jay_m@telus.net]
Sent: Wednesday, 25 October 2006 12:38 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: jay_m@telus.net; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Jay Morrison

Jay Morrison, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes jay_m@telus.net
4731 Princeton Ave

British Columbia

V7E4N8

778-233-3910

Jennifer Ivey
7431 Grandy Road
Richmond, B.C.
V7C 3T5

October 23, 2006

Mayor Malcolm Brodie and Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, B.C.
V6Y 2C1

		INT
	DW
	GI
	KY
	CA
	DB
	WE

0775 50 2941

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Re: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing in support of the work done in Richmond by the Richmond SPCA.

As a thirty year resident of Richmond, I have had a number of first-hand experiences with the Richmond SPCA and found their services to be very satisfactory. Over the years, I have called upon them regarding: dogs running loose; squirrels nesting in my chimney; and to remove the remains of a muskrat killed by an automobile. In each instance, their response was timely, effective and professional.

In 2005, I adopted a dog from the SPCA, which has further strengthened my opinion of the services they provide. Thanks, in part, to their guidance, it has been a very rewarding experience in every way.

I believe the SPCA is the most capable organization to provide animal control services for Richmond, and hope that the City of Richmond will continue to fund them in their valuable work.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

24
October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

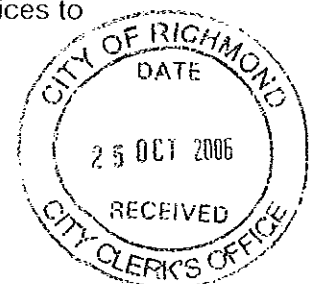

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Dianna Dunbar
Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

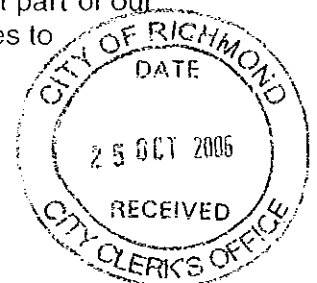

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Beverly Koesteritz
Supporter/donor
Beverly Koesteritz
#313 - 12911 Railway Ave
Richmond BC V7E 6L8

(604 241-7106)

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

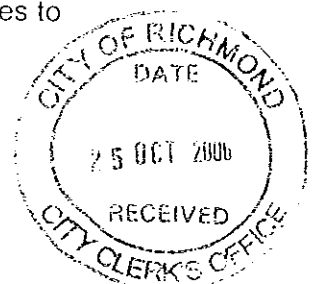

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Roberta J. Emery

Supporter/donor

Copy - Craig Daniel for SPCA

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
from: City Clerks Office
October 10, 2006

6 letters

		INT
	DA
	GC	[initials]
	KY
	DAW
	OB
	WB

001 2 6 2006
[Handwritten signature]

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

077530-2941

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

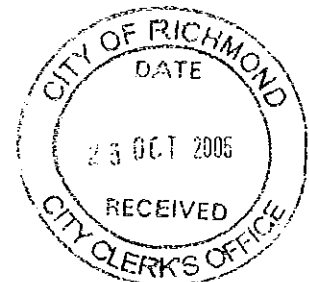

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

[Handwritten signature]
Supporter/donor

MayorandCouncillors

From: Dionne D'Ascenzo [deelicious90@yahoo.com]
Sent: Wednesday, 25 October 2006 7:02 AM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: deelicious90@yahoo.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

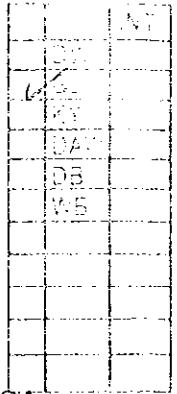

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

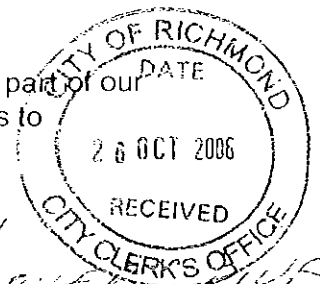

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

M. SHUMSKI
68-11771 KINGFISHER DRIVE
RICHMOND, BC
V7C 3T1

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORM. ON
From: City Clerks Office

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

pc: Wayne October 10, 2006
Mercer for information

		INT
OW	GI	eps
KY	DAW
DB
WB

PROCESSED

OCT 26 2006

John
CITY CLERK

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

0975-50-24

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely, E. Bos [ELS BOS]

Supporter/donor

9591, Deagle Road,
Richmond,
British Columbia
V7A 1P7
604-277-0728

October 23, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council,

Please find enclosed form letter from the SPCA. We're forwarding this because we agree with what it says but do not have time to write the whole thing out again. By putting the service out to tender you may find a group that can do some of what they do cheaper but will they be able to do it as well, if at all? We have supported the SPCA for many years, and have always found they were quick to respond to any concerns or complaints and their adoption service has been excellent.

Sincerely,

Eleanor Pickett

Norman and Eleanor Pickett

Mayor and Councillors

From: Linda Budd [summerbreeze@telus.net]
Sent: Thursday, 26 October 2006 10:07 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: summerbreeze@telus.net; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Linda Budd, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No summerbreeze@telus.net

British Columbia
V5N 2A9

-

MayorandCouncillors

From: Yun-Chia Chen [fionchen88@hotmail.com]
Sent: Thursday, 26 October 2006 5:26 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: fionchen88@hotmail.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Yun-Chia Chen, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes fionchen88@hotmail.com
1002-8288 Saba Road
Richmond
British Columbia
V6Y4C8
778-8690558

MayorandCouncillors

From: Anthony Tseng [realhp@shaw.ca]
Sent: Thursday, 26 October 2006 5:27 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: realhp@shaw.ca; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Anthony Tseng, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes realhp@shaw.ca
4-4811 Blair Drive
Richmond
British Columbia
V6X4E3
604-8128888

MayorandCouncillors

From: Francise Dustin [frandustin@hotmail.com]
Sent: Thursday, 26 October 2006 5:29 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: frandustin@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Francise Dustin, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes frandustin@hotmail.com
113-13982 Cambie Road
Richmond
British Columbia
V6V2K2
604-2337060

Mayor and Councillors

From: Fion Chen [fion@capwork.com]
Sent: Thursday, 26 October 2006 5:32 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: fion@capwork.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

pc: Wayne Mercer
0775-50 2nd P

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

02/1/06 RI

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

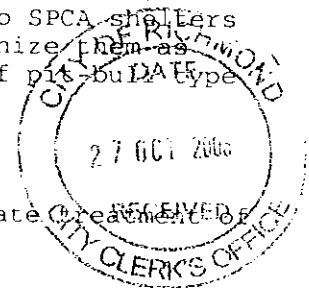

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Fion Chen, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes fion@capwork.com
2105- 4871 Shell Road
Richmond
British Columbia
V6X4E3
604-2482268

MayorandCouncillors

From: Rosemarie O'dell [rodell65@hotmail.com]
Sent: Friday, 27 October 2006 5:22 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: rodell65@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Rosemarie O'Dell

Rosemarie O'dell, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes rodell65@hotmail.com

British Columbia

-

Mayor and Councillors

From: Winnie Cheung [winnie228@hotmail.com]
Sent: Friday, 27 October 2006 7:35 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: winnie228@hotmail.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

MayorandCouncillors

From: Jennifer Wang [peace_groovy@hotmail.com]
Sent: Friday, 27 October 2006 10:06 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: peace_groovy@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) <http://www.qklinkserver.com/lm/rtl3.asp?si=92&k=pit%20bull&st=1> onmouseover="window.status='Search for: pit-bull'; self.q1_skeyphrase='pit%20bull'; if(window.event) self.q1_sevent=window.event.srcElement; self.q1_timeout = setTimeout('q1_doMouseOver(1)', 1000); self.q1_isOverLink=true; return true;" onclick="if(self.q1_timeout) clearTimeout(self.q1_timeout); self.q1_isOverTip = false; q1_closeiframe(); self.q1_skeyphrase='pit%20bull'; window.status='Search for: pit-bull';return true;" onmouseout="window.status=''; if(self.q1_timeout) clearTimeout(self.q1_timeout); self.q1_isOverTip = false; setTimeout('q1_closeiframe()', 1500); ">pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office
October 10, 2006

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

ZW
G
KY
J&G
EP
WS

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

John

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

0775-30-2941

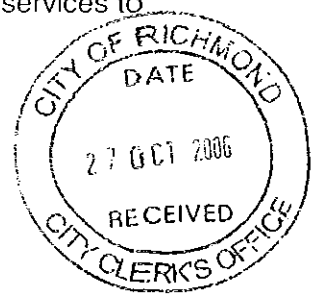

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,
Alan James
Supporter/donor

MayorandCouncillors

From: Kin Choi Wong [john_wong520@hotmail.com]
Sent: Saturday, 28 October 2006 1:43 AM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: john_wong520@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Kin Choi Wong, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes john_wong520@hotmail.com
#52-7151 Moffatt Rd.

British Columbia
V6Y3G9
604-2790657

MayorandCouncillors

From: Lisa McKillop [lmck55@yahoo.ca]
Sent: Sunday, 29 October 2006 5:25 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: lmck55@yahoo.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Lisa McKillop, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes lmck55@yahoo.ca

British Columbia

V6X1A8

-

MayorandCouncillors

From: Jennifer Burns [jennifer.burns@telus.net]
Sent: Sunday, 29 October 2006 8:29 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: jennifer.burns@telus.net; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

As a tax payer in Richmond, I do not support the possibility of this kind of service being privatized or contracted to a non-government agency that is for-profit.

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

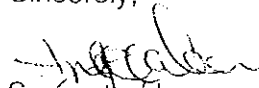

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

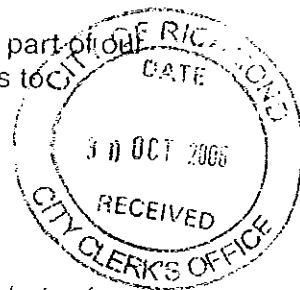

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Angela Woo # 507-8197 6911 No. 3 Road Richmond, BC V6Y 2C1

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

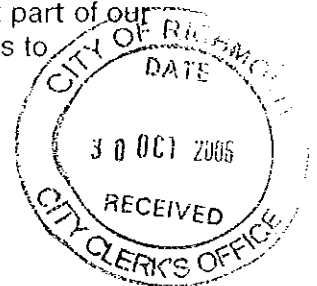

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

W.S. CHAU # 107-8297 SUBARU, Richmond, BC V6V 4G5

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Yi Stevenson
224-11675 7th Ave
Richmond BC V7E 4X4

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

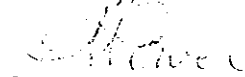

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

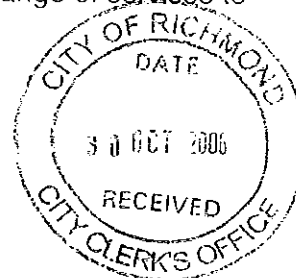

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

over
↓

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

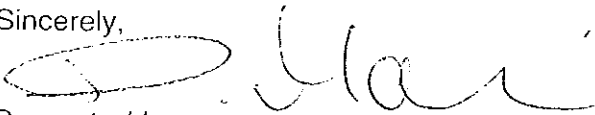

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

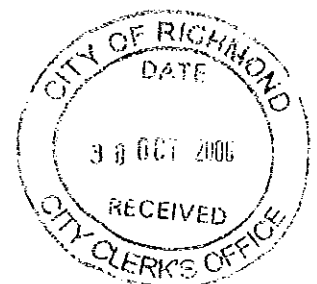

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

D. Gallinger

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office

MayorandCouncillors

From: Helen Read [maxread@telus.net]
Sent: Saturday, 28 October 2006 11:58 AM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: maxread@telus.net; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

*cc: Wayne
Here for information*) via email

2005-50-2941

glin

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am sure you have seen a number of the form letters provided by the SPCA. I agree with everything that's in them, but wanted to add in my own words some comments on the question of offering the animal control contract out for tender.

There are many kind-hearted individuals who devote their time and money to caring for animals in need. While they are to be commended and encouraged in their individual efforts, they will not be able to offer Richmond the same level of professionalism, competence, experience and legal sanction that the SPCA does. This will, despite their best efforts, hamper them in their ability to provide the services to animals on which Richmond has come to depend.

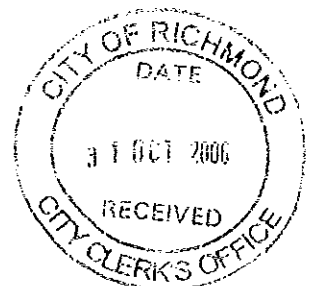

In addition, the SPCA has, over the years, learned that the urge to help all animals must be tempered with care for the community in which those animals will live - hence their careful assessment of dogs' temperaments to ensure that they are not inappropriately adopted, and their spay/neuter programs to reduce the number of unwanted animals in Richmond.

I urge you to renew the City of Richmond's contract with the SPCA, so that they can continue their care of Richmond's needy animals.

Sincerely,

Helen Read
8540 Demorest Drive
Richmond, BC V7A 4M1
604-448-0977
maxread@telus.net
Helen Read, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes maxread@telus.net 8540 Demorest Drive
Richmond British Columbia V7A 4M1
604-448-0977

MayorandCouncillors

From: Dan Urbani [danu@petcetera.ca]
Sent: Tuesday, 31 October 2006 2:52 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: danu@petcetera.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Dan Urbani
President and CEO
Canadian Petcetera
Dan Urbani, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No danu@petcetera.ca Suite # 285-4611 Viking Way
Richmond British Columbia V6V 2K9

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
DW
DB
KY
DAA
DS
SB

0725-50-2541

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

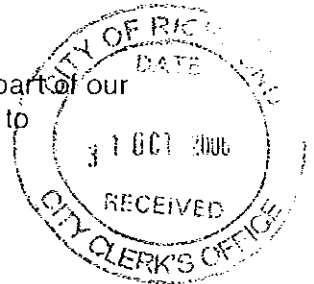

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Craig Daniel
Craig Daniel C.E.D.

Supporter/donor ✓

*For the Richmond B.C.A. c/o B.C. SPCA 1245 7th Ave E
Surrey B.C. V5T 1R1*

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
	DW
	GJ
	KY
	DAW
	DB
	WB

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

0775-50-2941

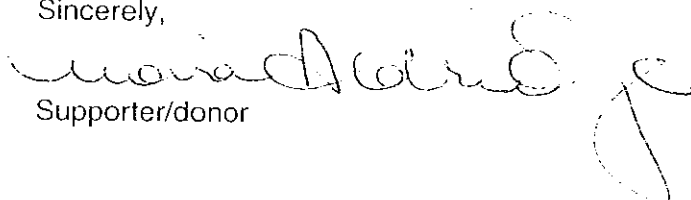

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

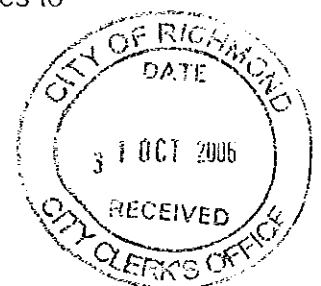

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Morag A. Henderson
Supporter/donor
*11-6860 Lynas Lane
Richmond, BC V6C 2E1*

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

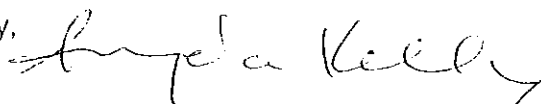

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

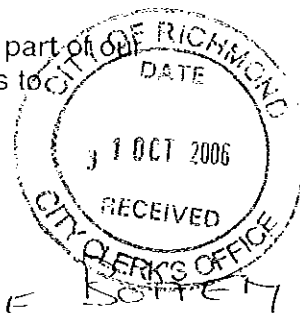

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

P.S. I DON'T THINK A PRIVATE COMPANY WHOSE KIND IS ~~THIS~~ IS IN THE BEST INTEREST OF THE ANIMALS. DON'T SKIMP ON THIS ISSUE PLEASE!

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

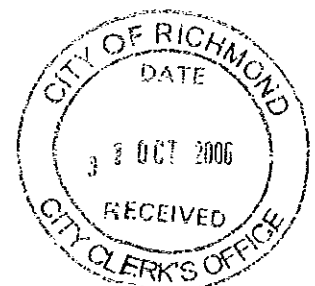

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

(Handwritten signature)
Supporter/donor

(Handwritten address)
224-1437 Moffatt Rd.
Richmond, BC

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
 FOR INFORMATION
 From: City Clerks Office
 October 10, 2006

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
 City of Richmond
 6911 No. 3 Road
 Richmond, BC
 V6Y 2C1

	INT
✓ DW	gs
✓ GJ
KY
DAW
DE
WB

[Handwritten signature]

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

0775-50-294

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

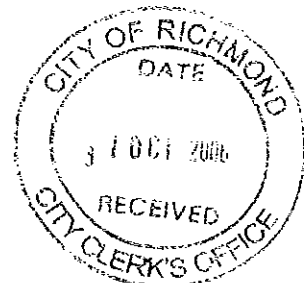

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

[Handwritten signature]

Supporter/donor

Mayor and Councillors

From: Ken Burkholder [lotsOfWork@shaw.ca]
Sent: Wednesday, 1 November 2006 2:52 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: lotsOfWork@shaw.ca; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Ken Burkholder, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No lotsofwork@shaw.ca

British Columbia

-

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Susan Estelle
Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Rachelle Eburne Christopher

Supporter/donor

Rachelle Eburne Christopher

7341 No 5 Rd

V6Y 2Y3

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
/	DW
	GJ
	KY
	DAN
	DB
	WS

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

0775 50-2941

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

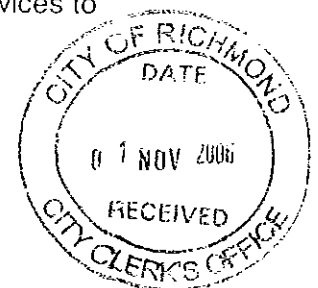

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

[Handwritten signature]
Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
	DW
	GI
	KY
	DAW
	DB
	WE

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

0775 50 2957

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

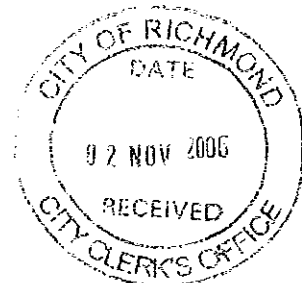

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
 City of Richmond
 6911 No. 3 Road
 Richmond, BC
 V6Y 2C1

TO: MAYORS & COUNCILLORS
 FOR INFORMATION
 From: City Clerks Office
 October 10, 2006

Per. Wayne Mercer

RECEIVED

NOV 2 2006

City of Richmond
 & DISTRICTS

		INT
DW
GU		30
KY
DAW
DB
WB

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

0775-50-2541

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,
Wayne Mercer

Supporter/donor 3946 Lockhart Rd. Lund.

Mayor and Councillors

From: ilona Stead [ilona.stead@gmail.com]
Sent: Thursday, 2 November 2006 12:58 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: ilona.stead@gmail.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Ilona Stead, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No ilona.stead@gmail.com

British Columbia

-

MayorandCouncillors

From: Casey Parish [beagle@telus.net]
Sent: Friday, 3 November 2006 4:45 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: beagle@telus.net; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Mayor and Councillors

From: Deborah Green [dlgreen@shaw.ca]
Sent: Sunday, 5 November 2006 11:42 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: dlgreen@shaw.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Deborah Green

Deborah Green, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes dlgreen@shaw.ca 212-8200 Jones Road

British Columbia

V6Y 3Z2

604 276-9181-604 276-9181

MayorandCouncillors

From: Michelle HO [mrbaileyboo@hotmail.com]
Sent: Sunday, 5 November 2006 6:12 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,
Michelle Ho
Richmond, BC

Say hello to the next generation of Search. Live Search - try it now.
<http://www.live.com/?mkt=en-ca>

MayorandCouncillors

MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office

From: Yvonne Wong [pinchichi@hotmail.com]
Sent: Sunday, 5 November 2006 11:01 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: pinchichi@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

pc: Wayne Mercer
for information

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Yvonne Wong, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes pinchichi@hotmail.com

British Columbia
V6V 2T6
604-721-8693

MayorandCouncillors

From: Jacqueline Bramall [jaxb@shaw.ca]
Sent: Monday, 6 November 2006 11:14 AM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: jaxb@shaw.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Jacqueline Bramall, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes jaxb@shaw.ca
247-7671 Minoru Blvd

British Columbia
V6Y1Z3
604-278-3642

MayorandCouncillors

From: Amy Wilson [agemmell@interchange.ubc.ca]
Sent: Monday, 6 November 2006 3:55 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: agemmell@interchange.ubc.ca; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Mayor and Councillors

From: Jennifer McMann [jenlmc@telus.net]
Sent: Monday, 6 November 2006 8:46 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: jenlmc@telus.net; cdaniel@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Jennifer McMann, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No jenlmc@telus.net

British Columbia
V3S 7L4

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

J Mitchell

Supporter/donor

Jennifer Mitchell
6410 Chatsworth Rd
Richmond BC
V7C 3S3
478 878 2535

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Oct 25/06

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

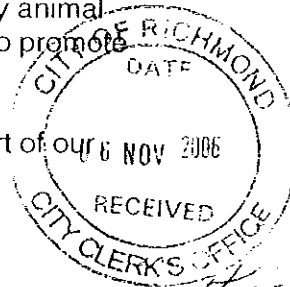

Lois Akana
9700 Ryan Crescent
Richmond BC V7A 2H2

204-277-4243

Supporter/donor

Lois M. Akana

*PS.
Help us your putting
this out for tender?*

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

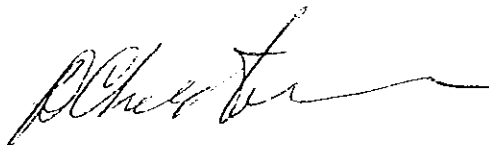

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

I support the BC SPCA
Shirley and Dennis Christensen
9411 No. 4 Rd
Richmond BC V7A 2Z1

e/c B.C. SPCA

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

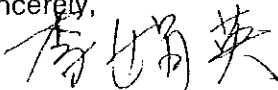

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

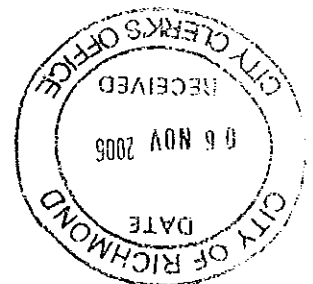

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

KUEN YING LEE

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

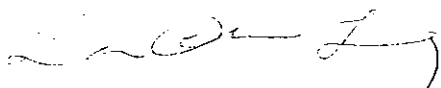

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

LAI CHU LEUNG

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor HILDA Foo

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

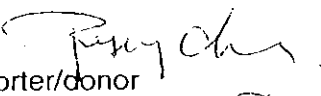

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded:

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

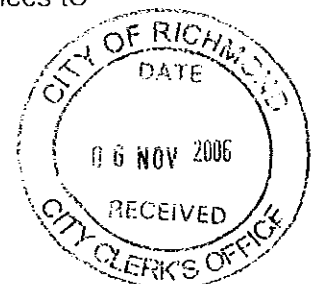

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely, :

Supporter/donor

PEGGY CHUNG

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

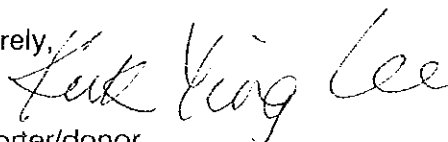

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

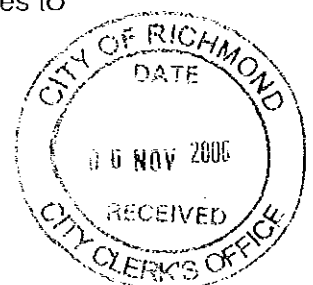

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

KUK YUNG LEE

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

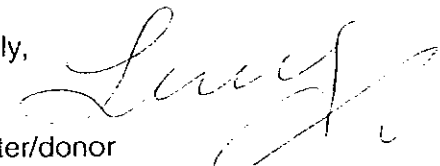

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

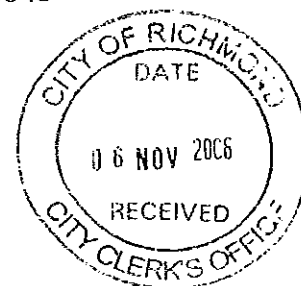

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

HUILING CAO

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
	DW
✓	GJ	JS
	KY
	DAW
	DB
	WB

NOV 6 2006

Handwritten signature

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

077550-294/

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded:

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

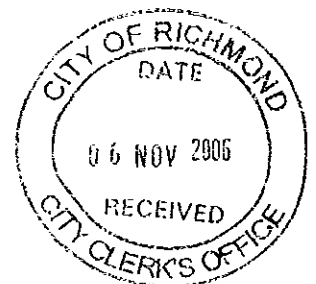

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Handwritten signature

Supporter/donor

HENZIE BE

MayorandCouncillors

From: Linda Larsson [apelsinturkos@hotmail.com]
Sent: Tuesday, 7 November 2006 8:48 AM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: apelsinturkos@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,
Linda Larsson
Linda Larsson, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes apelsinturkos@hotmail.com

British Columbia

-

MayorandCouncillors

From: Chris Holdsworth [thechurch21711@hotmail.com]
Sent: Tuesday, 7 November 2006 9:10 AM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: thechurch21711@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely, Chris Holdsworth.

In Ontario, animal control contracts were awarded to outside services and it has proved to be a complete failure. Here in Ontario, B.C. is considered the Humanitarian Province, it is an example that many of us here try to follow. Only the SPCA can carry out this service the way it should be carried out. To outside services, it is just a job, to SPCA employees it is a passion.

Chris Holdsworth, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No thechurch21711@hotmail.com
21711 Kennedy Road
Queensville,
Ontario
LOG 1R0
905-473-3567

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Malcolm Brodie

Supporter/donor

Sharon Sutherland
SHARON SUTHERLAND

To: Mayor + Councillors
(via Council's Lounge Binder)
re: Wayne Mercer for info.

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
✓	DW	DW
	GJ
	KY
	DAW
	DB
	WB

NOV 7 2006

[Handwritten signature]

07215-50-2941

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

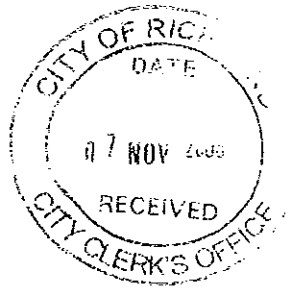

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Janine & Colin Choi

Supporter/donor

Richmond Residents.

CC: Colin Choi, City Clerk, BC SPCA

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

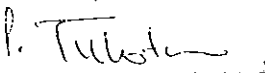

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

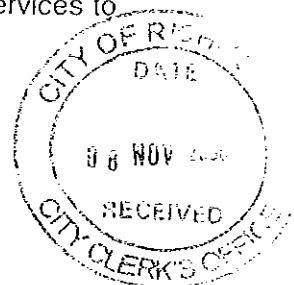

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Loren Senly

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

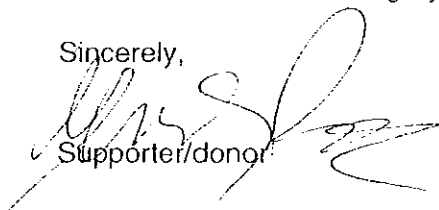

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

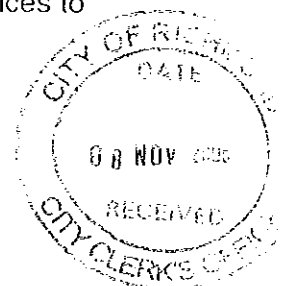

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

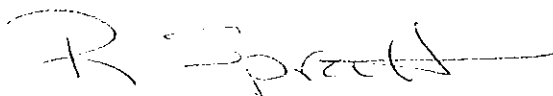

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

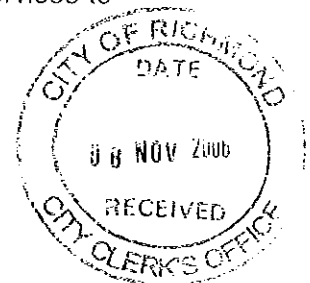

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty):
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

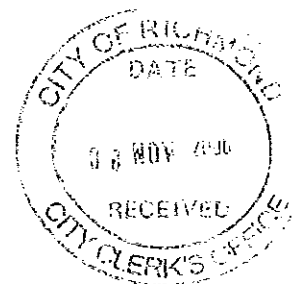

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

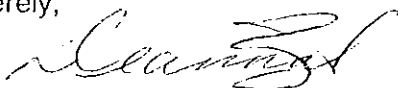

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

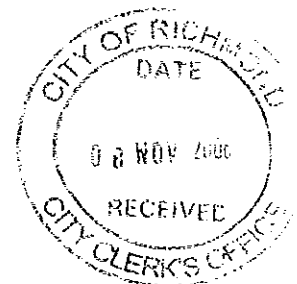

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

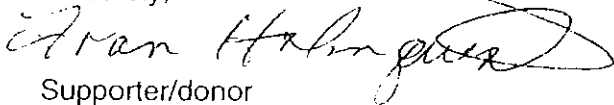

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
✓	DW
	CS
	KY
	DAW
	DS
	WB

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

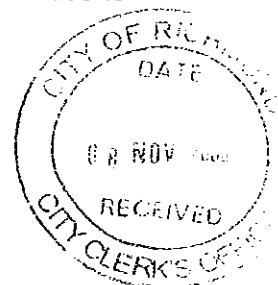

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Marny Ingham
Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

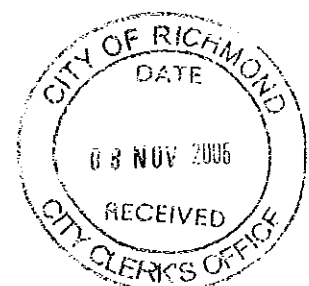

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Linda Chandler

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

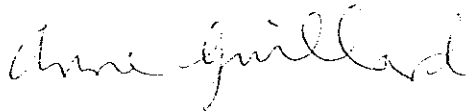

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

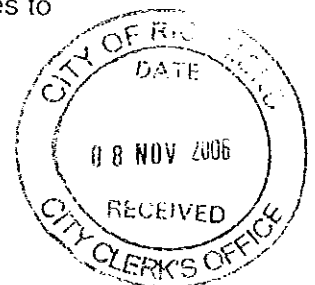

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

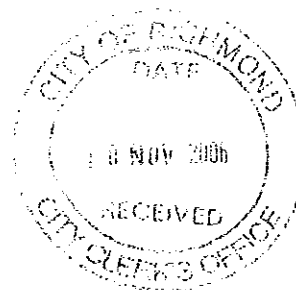

Supporter/donor

MayorandCouncillors

From: tatiana bobko [starfoxes@hotmail.com]
Sent: Thursday, 9 November 2006 6:53 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: starfoxes@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

tatiana bobko, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No starfoxes@hotmail.com

vancouver
British Columbia

604-312-6052

MayorandCouncillors

From: Nicole Stevenson [stevens1809@shaw.ca]
Sent: Thursday, 9 November 2006 8:26 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: stevens1809@shaw.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Nicole Stevenson, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No stevens1809@shaw.ca

British Columbia

-

MayorandCouncillors

From: Karen Wong [kky2000wong@yahoo.ca]
Sent: Friday, 10 November 2006 12:37 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: kky2000wong@yahoo.ca; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Karen Wong, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes kky2000wong@yahoo.ca
6151 Cassell Crescent

British Columbia
V7C 2K4
604-7621272

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

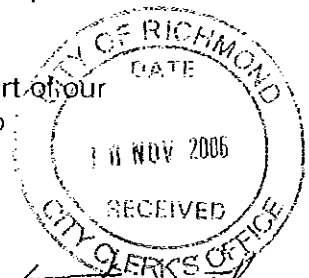

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely, Elizabeth Lambert

Supporter/donor ✓ Please sign a new long term contract with BC SPCA) the #5 Rd. ^{shelter} needs to be kept running as is for the great job they do for abused, unwanted animals who can't speak for themselves.
Thank you

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Jo Schwartz
Supporter/donor

2006-50-2041

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerk's Office

Mayor and Councillors

From: Diana O'Kane [okanes@shaw.ca]
Sent: Friday, 10 November 2006 2:15 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: okanes@shaw.ca; cdaniell@sca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

(via Councillor Leanne Barker) for info.

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

glin

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Diana O'Kane, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes okanes@shaw.ca 10640 Argentinia Drive

British Columbia

V7E 4K5

604-761-7786

MayorandCouncillors

From: Eva Ferguson [peter.ferguson@telus.net]
Sent: Saturday, 11 November 2006 3:29 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: peter.ferguson@telus.net; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard. It is vital that this organization remain in place as it provides the best of care for the animals people discard like garbage sometimes.

Sincerely,

Peter & Eva Ferguson

Eva Ferguson, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes peter.ferguson@telus.net 10240 Defoe Street

British Columbia

V7E 4G3

604-271-6272

MayorandCouncillors

From: Barbara Kosmonek [myshasta@shaw.ca]
Sent: Sunday, 12 November 2006 3:25 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: myshasta@shaw.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

MayorandCouncillors

From: samuel lackner [samlack@shaw.ca]
Sent: Monday, 13 November 2006 6:46 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: samlack@shaw.ca; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Samuel Lackner, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes samlack@shaw.ca
8655 Cook Cres

British Columbia
V6Y1X1
604-2703477

Mayor and Councillors

From: Brenda & Ron LaTorre [brenda.latorre@gov.bc.ca]
Sent: Tuesday, 14 November 2006 1:14 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: brenda.latorre@gov.bc.ca; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Brenda & Ron LaTorre, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No brenda.latorre@gov.bc.ca

British Columbia

604-535-6560

MayorandCouncillors

From: Kathleen Olson [kandmolson@telus.net]
Sent: Tuesday, 14 November 2006 3:51 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: kandmolson@telus.net; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

In this day and age we, as humans, are FINALLY making some headway in properly addressing the needs of animals who are regularly abused, neglected and abandoned. I have lived in Prince George for 15+ years, after moving from the Lower Mainland and am over joyed at the positive changes I have seen with the local SPCA branch here and we still have a ways to go.....please don't take yourselves off the map by not supporting the SPCA now, it certainly won't save anything in the long run.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Olson, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No kandmolson@telus.net

Prince George
British Columbia

-

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
/	DW
	GU
	KY
	DAW
	DB
	WB

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA. 077550-294.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
/	DW
	GI
	KY
	DAW
	DB
	WB

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA 0775-30-244 and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

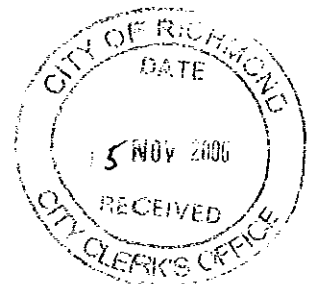

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
 FOR INFORMATION
 From: City Clerks Office

October 10, 2006

pe: Wayne Mercer
 784-100-1100

NOV 15 2006

John
 & DISSEMINATED

		INT
✓	DW
	GJ	gs
	KY
	DAW
	DB
	WB

0775-50-2941

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
 City of Richmond
 6911 No. 3 Road
 Richmond, BC
 V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

W. E. Lythe

Supporter/donor

Please help.

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
	D-V
✓	GU
	KY
	DAW
	DB
	WB

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

0775-50-294

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office
October 10, 2006

pc: Wayne Mercer
for info.

		INT
	DW
	GE	JS
	KY
	DAW
	DB
	WS

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

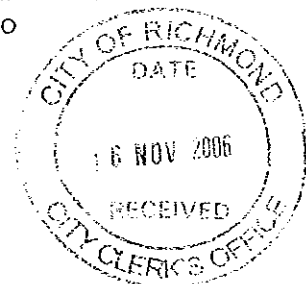

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

(Mrs) G. Pelzer

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
	DW
✓	GJ
	KY
	DAN
	DB
	WE

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA. 0775-SD-294

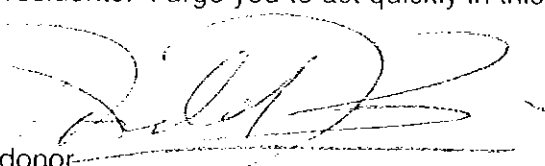

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
	DW
	GE
	KY
	DAW
	DS
	WS

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA. 0775-5029

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor and Councillors

From: Else Godkin [emgodkin@shaw.ca]
Sent: Saturday, 18 November 2006 10:12 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: emgodkin@shaw.ca; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Else Godkin, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No emgodkin@shaw.ca
8056 York Ave, Crofton.

British Columbia
V0R 1R0
250-246-9498

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
 City of Richmond
 6911 No. 3 Road
 Richmond, BC
 V6Y 2C1

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
 FOR INFORMATION
 From: City Clerks Office
 October 10, 2006

PC: Wayne Mercer
 for information

		INT
✓	DW
	GI	gjs
	KY
	DAW
	DB
	WB

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

0775-50-2941

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Spicy McKeen
 Supporter/donor

D.M. McKeen

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office

Mayor and Councillors

From: heidi sawyer [jssawyer@telus.net]
Sent: Sunday, 19 November 2006 2:43 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: jssawyer@telus.net; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

*Re: Wayne Mercer via email
for info*

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

0775-50-2941

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

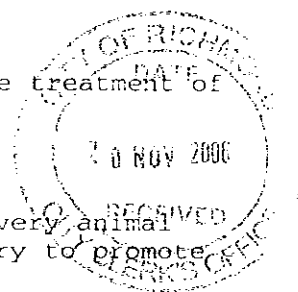

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

*NOV 20
Jim*

Sincerely,

heidi sawyer, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No jssawyer@telus.net
6617 1 A Ave
delta
British Columbia
v4l1a6
604-9435330

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office

Mayor and Councillors

From: Pamela Lee [pamela_c_lee@hotmail.com]
Sent: Monday, 20 November 2006 8:25 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: pamela_c_lee@hotmail.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

675-502941

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
5911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

NOV 21 2006
[Handwritten signature]

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

NOV 21 2006
CITY OF RICHMOND
CLERKS OFFICE

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Pamela Lee

Pamela Lee, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes pamela_c_lee@hotmail.com

British Columbia

-

FOR MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office

Mayor and Councillors

From: Lachmi Asnani-Ma [lachmima@telus.net]
Sent: Tuesday, 21 November 2006 12:05 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Re: Wayne Mercer) via email
for information

0775-50-2941
 RECORDED

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
 City of Richmond
 6911 No. 3 Road
 Richmond, BC
 V6Y 2C1

NOV 22 2006
 & DISTRICTS

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

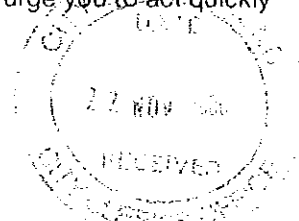

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

2006-11-21

Lachmi Asnani-Ma

Mayor and Councillors

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office

From: maureen mullin [Maureenmullin@shaw.ca]
Sent: Tuesday, 21 November 2006 9:08 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: Maureenmullin@shaw.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

PC: Wayne Mercer
for information) Via email

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

maureen mullin, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes Maureenmullin@shaw.ca 5600 Cantrell Road
Richmond British Columbia V7C 3H1
604-2726945

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

		INT
	DW
✓	GI
	KY
	DAW
	DB
	WB

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

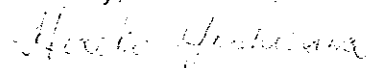

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

0775-50
11/10

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor and Councillors

From: Laura Keenan [lkeenan@hotmail.com]
Sent: Wednesday, 22 November 2006 12:14 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: lkeenan@hotmail.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

cc: Wayne Mercer) via for information) email

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

RECEIVED

NOV 23 2006

John
& Distribution

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Laura Keenan, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes likeenan@hotmail.com
6511 Housman Place
Richmond
British Columbia
V7E4A8
-

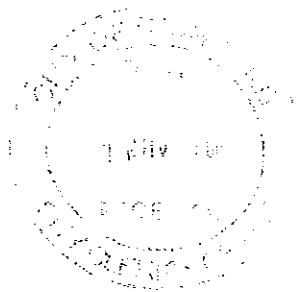

Mayor and Councillors

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
FROM: City Clerks Office
Via Councillors Lounge

From: Leane van Beusekom [echo44@canada.com]
Sent: Friday, 24 November 2006 11:18 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: echo44@canada.com
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Binder
for Manager, Community Bylaw
(via email)
0775-50-2441

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

MayorandCouncillors

From: Alex Novkovic [an_69@hotmail.com]
Sent: Saturday, 25 November 2006 11:34 AM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: an_69@hotmail.com
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Alex Norkevic

Alex Norkevic, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes an_69@hotmail.com

British Columbia

-

Mayor and Councillors

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office

From: Julie Wilburn [juliewilburn@gmail.com]
Sent: Saturday, 25 November 2006 5:28 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: juliewilburn@gmail.com
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

*PC: Wayne Mercer
for information*) via email

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

*W. Mercer
11/25/06*

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
 - After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
 - Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
 - State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
 - Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
 - Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
 - Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;
- and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,
Julie Wilburn
Julie Wilburn, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes juliewilburn@gmail.com

British Columbia

MayorandCouncillors

From: deb hobbs [davehobbs@telus.net]
Sent: Wednesday, 29 November 2006 8:59 AM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: davehobbs@telus.net; cdaniel!@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

dab hobbs, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: No davehobbs@telus.net 7119-115th st north delta
British Columbia v4e 1x8
604-691-7901

Mayor and Councillors

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office

From: Christie Lynn Webb [christielynn@shaw.ca]
Sent: Wednesday, 29 November 2006 10:22 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: christielynn@shaw.ca; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

*PC: Wayne Mercer
for information via email*

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

NOV 30 2006

0778-50-2041

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs.);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Christie Lynn Webb

Christie Lynn Webb, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes christielynn@shaw.ca

British Columbia

V7A 4S2

604-836-8664

Mayor and Councillors

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office

From: Holly Longstaff [holly_angibb@hotmail.com]
Sent: Thursday, 30 November 2006 6:42 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: holly_angibb@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

*pc: Wayne Mercer
for information* via

0775-50-2951

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

DEC - 1
ylm

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal control contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of service to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Mayor and Councillors

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerk's Office

From: Johanna Tsai [jo.tsai@gmail.com]
Sent: Monday, 4 December 2006 2:55 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: jo.tsai@gmail.com; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

PC: Wayne Mercer
for information } via email

0775-50-2041
PROCESSED

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

DEC - 4 2006

Ylin
& DISTRIBUTED

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

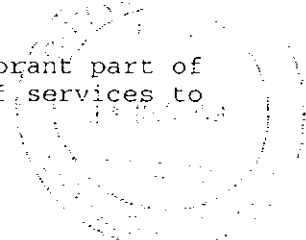

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

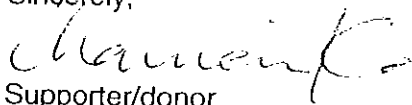

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

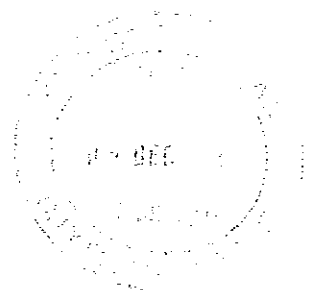

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

October 10, 2006

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Supporter/donor

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council
City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office
October 10, 2006

	INT
OW
GJ	JS
KY JAW
DB
WB

cc: Wayne Mercer
for information
PHOTOCOPIED

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

DEC - 4 2006

Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

William
DISTRIBUTED

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

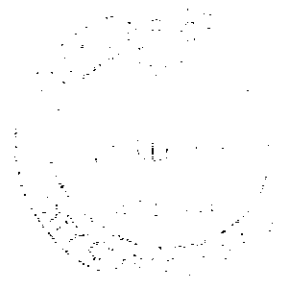

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals; and
- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

[Handwritten signature]
Supporter/donor

MayorandCouncillors

From: Petra Ashton [petra.ashton@shaw.ca]
Sent: Monday, 4 December 2006 2:36 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: petra.ashton@shaw.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Petra Ashton, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes petra.ashton@shaw.ca 11580 Granville Avenue

British Columbia
V6Y 1R6
604-2792092

MayorandCouncillors

From: Craig Ashton [craig.ashton@shaw.ca]
Sent: Monday, 4 December 2006 2:37 PM
To: MayorandCouncillors
Cc: craig.ashton@shaw.ca; cdaniell@spca.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Craig Ashton, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes craig.ashton@shaw.ca 11580 Granville Avenue

British Columbia

V6Y 1R6

604-2792092

Mayor and Councillors

From: Elizabeth Bull [adoreoscarwilde@hotmail.com]
Sent: Monday, 4 December 2006 11:51 PM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Cc: adoreoscarwilde@hotmail.com; cdaniell@sPCA.bc.ca
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

 Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract **

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth C. Bull

Elizabeth Bull, Supporter/Donor

I am a resident of the City of Richmond: Yes adoreoscarwilde@hotmail.com

British Columbia

-

0778-10 2891

TO: MAYOR & COUNCILLORS
FOR INFORMATION
From: City Clerks Office

Mayor and Councillors

From: Deborah Sumner [deborahsumner@gmail.com]
Sent: Tuesday, 5 December 2006 12:04 AM
To: Mayor and Councillors
Subject: Renewal of BC SPCA Contract

*pc: Wayne Mercer
for information*) via email

Mayor Malcolm Brodie & Members of Council City of Richmond
6911 No. 3 Road
Richmond, BC
V6Y 2C1

Dear Mayor Brodie and Members of Council:

* Renewal of BC SPCA Animal Control Contract ****

I am writing to express my strong support for the work of the Richmond Branch of the BC SPCA and to request that the City of Richmond urgently negotiate a long-term animal contract with the BC SPCA.

As the largest and most experienced animal welfare organization in BC, the SPCA has provided an invaluable service to the animals and residents of Richmond for many years. Now, more than ever, it is essential for Council to ensure the partnership with the SPCA is continued and expanded.

The SPCA provides many services to animals that would simply not be available at the same level, or at all, if other animal organizations or the City itself assumed responsibility for animal services. These services include:

- Investigation of all animal cruelty complaints (note: the BC SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in BC entrusted with the legal authority and mandate to investigate complaints of animal cruelty);
- After-hours emergency response to injured animals;
- Spay/neuter programs that result in the reduction of pet-overpopulation in the community;
- State-of-the-art assessment of animals (the SPCA is the only animal welfare organization in Richmond to have this validated system) to ensure that dangerous dogs are not adopted into the community and that animals and adopters are successfully matched;
- Transfer of surplus Richmond animals to other SPCA shelters, thereby avoiding the euthanasia of animals for reasons of space. Because of its province-wide structure, the BC SPCA is also able to move adoptable (non-aggressive) pit-bull type dogs to SPCA shelters in other communities to find loving homes rather than unnecessarily euthanize them as other groups would have to do. (Richmond's by-law prevents the adoption of pit-bull type dogs);
- Cruelty prevention programs for youth in our community;
- Humane education programs and initiatives that encourage the compassionate treatment of all animals;

and

- The demonstrated experience of the staff and volunteers who ensure that every animal entering the animal shelter is provided with the care and treatment necessary to promote excellent animal welfare.

Council has a wonderful opportunity to ensure that the BC SPCA remains a vibrant part of our growing community and is able to provide a full and much-needed range of services to Richmond residents. I urge you to act quickly in this regard.

Sincerely,

Deborah Sumner
Supporter and former Surrey SPCA Humane Educator