Analysis

In January 2019, important changes were implemented regarding the collection of Uniform Crime Reporting Survey data.¹ As a result of significant media attention in February 2017 regarding sexual assault reporting, the Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics (CCJS) and the Police Information and Statistics Committee of the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police worked to develop recommendations for changes to police records methodology, with particular attention on classifying founded and unfounded cases. These changes have impacted police statistics across Canada with effects on various crime types, not only sexual offences. The new standards classify a case as founded unless there is evidence that the offence did not occur. As a result, there was an increase in many police/crime statistics in 2019. These changes have created notable challenges when conducting comparisons with previous years' data. The information presented in this section must be evaluated within the context of this limitation. It is anticipated that the CCJS scoring changes will have a minimal impact in 2020 for year over year comparisons; however, comparisons using the five-year average will continue to be affected.

Activities and Noteworthy Files

Arrests

On December 2, 2019, Richmond RCMP officers responded to the 11000 block of Seaton Road for reports of a break and enter in progress. Two suspects rang the doorbell and when there was no answer, they broke into the home via a locked rear door. The homeowner was inside and contacted police, who set up a security perimeter and were able to arrest the suspects quickly. Charges have been laid against two Richmond residents.

¹ Statistics Canada, <https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/pub/85-002-x/2018001/article/54973-eng.htm>

Suspicious Fire

On December 6, 2019, the Richmond RCMP released a video of suspects associated with a suspicious fire in a large business complex located in the 8100 block of Capstan Way, which occurred on March 30, 2019. Through a collaborative investigation between partner agencies, investigators located evidence which suggested the fire was deliberately set. Police have asked the public to report any information related to this incident.

Holiday Safety

On December 6, 2019, the Richmond RCMP issued a media release outlining helpful safety tips relating to home, vehicle and personal safety. These tips included:

- Make your home appear lived in all year long;
- Secure all windows and doors;
- Do not leave valuables in plain sight;
- Remove or keep garage door openers hidden;
- Make eye contact with drivers when you are crossing the road; and
- Only cross roadways in designated areas.

Pedestrian Fatality

On December 7, 2019, Richmond RCMP officers responded to a pedestrian fatality on Highway 99 near Steveston Highway. The deceased male sustained injuries consistent with being struck by a vehicle. The driver did not remain at the scene. The Richmond RCMP is assisting RCMP Deas Island Freeway Patrol with the investigation.

Sexual Offences

On December 21, 2019, the Richmond RCMP issued a media release advising that charges had been laid against a 49-year old Richmond man. In August 2018, the Richmond RCMP initiated an investigation into the accused, who was suspected of committing crimes against vulnerable women. On December 17, 2019, the BC Prosecution Service approved 14 charges against the accused, which included sexual assault, administering a noxious substance, transmitting intimate images without consent and possession of child pornography.

Analysis of Police Statistics

In December 2019, there was one reported incident of arson, which is down two incidents from the previous month and down three incidents from December 2018. No patterns or trends have been identified. The number of arsons this month is within the five-year average range. There was an increase of one incident in the number of arsons in 2019 compared to the previous year.

Assault Serious (Assault with a Weapon)

There were seven assault serious events in December 2019, which represents a 50 per cent decrease from November 2019 and no change from December 2018. No patterns or trends have been identified. The number of serious assaults this month is within the five-year average range. The number of serious assaults in 2019 increased by one incident over the previous year's total.

Auto Theft

There were 28 auto theft incidents this month, which represents a 27 per cent increase from the previous month and a 24 per cent decrease from December 2018. No patterns or trends have been identified. The number of auto thefts this month is within the five-year average range. In 2019 the number of auto thefts decreased six per cent compared to 2018.

Drugs

In December 2019, there were 119 drug incidents, which represents an 18 per cent increase from the previous month. The number of drug incidents this month is approximately four times the number recorded in December 2018 and is significantly above the five-year average range. No patterns or trends have been identified. The number of drug offences in 2019 increased 31 per cent from 2018.

In the last three months, the number of drug offences has been significantly above the average range. The majority of these offences have originated as Canada Customs seizures at YVR and the increase in drug offences is largely attributed to the processing of a backlog of drug exhibits.

Mental Health

There were 192 mental health incidents in December 2019, which is up 14 per cent from November 2019 and up 32 per cent from December 2018. No patterns or trends have been identified. Mental health-related incidents increased by 49 per cent compared to 2018.

There were 76 police apprehensions this month and hospital wait times averaged 86 minutes, indicating that both numbers have remained steady in recent months. A large number of the mental health-related files in 2019 were created by the Richmond RCMP Vulnerable Persons Unit, which have been forwarded to the Richmond RCMP Mental Health Car team for follow-up action.

Residential Break and Enter

There were 44 break and enters to residences in December 2019, which represents a 23 per cent decrease from the previous month and a 56 per cent decrease from December 2018. No patterns or trends have been identified. The number of residential break and enters this month is below the five-year average range. In 2019 there was a significant 28 per cent reduction in residential break and enters compared to 2018.

The Richmond RCMP Property Crime Unit (PCU) conducted a number of successful investigations which helped contribute to this notable reduction in residential break and enters.

PCU collaborated with outside police agencies to target multi-jurisdictional crime groups and successfully arrested priority property crime offenders.

Commercial Break and Enter

In December 2019, there were 34 break and enters to businesses, which represents a 17 per cent decrease from November 2019 and a 26 per cent decrease from December 2018. No patterns or trends have been identified. The number of commercial break and enters this month is below the five-year average range. In 2019, commercial break and enters increased four per cent over 2018.

Robbery

There were six robbery incidents in December 2019, which is down three incidents from the previous month and down one incident from December 2018. No patterns or trends have been identified. The number of robberies this month is within the five-year average range. There was a 38 per cent increase in robberies in 2019 compared to 2018.

The number of reported robberies was elevated in June and July this year but significant arrests were made in August 2019 which helped contribute to the reduction observed in subsequent months. CCJS scoring changes also contributed to this increase.

Sexual Offences

There were 12 sexual offence files in December 2019, which represents a 29 per cent reduction from the previous month and no change from December 2018. No patterns or trends have been identified. The number of sex offences this month is within the five-year average range. Sexual offences in 2019 increased 56 per cent compared to 2018.

Crime analysts have identified that this increase is likely due to CCJS scoring changes.

Shoplifting

There were 93 shoplifting thefts in December 2019, which represents a 45 per cent increase from the previous month and is approximately double the number reported in December 2018. No patterns or trends have been identified. Reported shoplifting thefts in December 2019 were above the five-year average range. Overall, incidents of reported shoplifting increased 46 per cent in 2019 compared to 2018.

The high number of shoplifting incidents in 2019 can be attributed to the targeted enforcement efforts of the Richmond RCMP Strike Force. The Strike Force is an enforcement and investigative team which targets property crime and prolific offenders.

Theft from Automobile

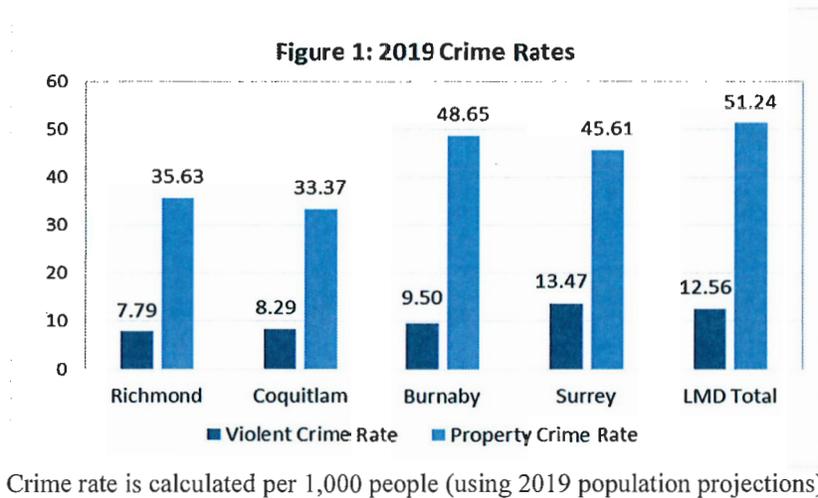

There were 200 thefts from automobile incidents in December 2019, which represents a seven per cent increase from the previous month and a four per cent increase from December 2018. No patterns or trends have been identified. The number of thefts from automobiles this month is within the five-year average range. In 2019 there was an eight per cent decrease in thefts from automobiles compared to 2018.

Crime Trends Across Jurisdictions

Data on crime rates is presented below (Figure 1). Out of the four largest municipalities policed by the RCMP in the Lower Mainland District (LMD), Richmond had the lowest violent crime rate as well as the second lowest property crime rate in 2019. These rankings remained steady throughout the year.

In these jurisdictions, violent crime rates in 2019 increased between 22 and 51 per cent, with the LMD violent crime rate increasing 39 per cent compared to 2018. Richmond recorded a 35 per cent increase. These increases are largely attributed to CCJS scoring changes. Property crime rates also increased between three and 23 per cent in these jurisdictions, with an overall increase of 13 per cent in the LMD. Richmond recorded a nine per cent increase in the property crime rate in 2019 compared to 2018.

Community Police Station Programs

Community police stations continue to enhance the Detachment's policing services by providing an array of crime prevention resources and community safety initiatives. City staff and volunteers pursue safety initiatives to enhance crime prevention program awareness, community engagement and police accessibility. Youth Section

The Detachment's Youth Section focuses on strategies that contribute to safe and healthy behaviours essential to the development of productive and civic-minded adults. During the month of December, Youth Section highlights include:

- RCMP Youth Section members concluded this year's Youth Squad. This eight-week long program consisted of weekly classes at the Richmond Detachment which gave youth a better understanding of careers in emergency services. A total of 34 high school students were selected for the program. Participating agencies included Richmond Fire-Rescue, BC Ambulance and a variety of RCMP units including the Police Dog Section and the Emergency Response Team.
- Members in Youth Section participated in 14 DARE graduations.

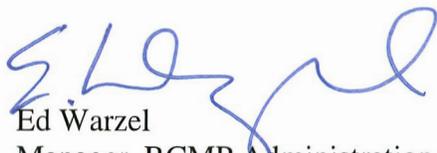

Financial Impact

None.

Conclusion

During the month of December, the Richmond RCMP issued media releases advising of notable arrests. One incident involved a break and enter in progress and another was the result of a lengthy investigation into multiple sexual offences against vulnerable women.

In December 2019, both residential and commercial break and enters were below the five-year average range, while statistics for 2019 indicate that a number of crime types experienced elevated numbers. These increases have been attributed to a number of factors including the Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics scoring changes, increased enforcement and other non-operational reasons. The Officer in Charge of the Richmond Detachment will continue to ensure that Richmond remains a safe and desirable community.

RICHMOND RCMP

This chart identifies the monthly totals for founded Criminal Code incidents, excluding traffic-related Criminal Code incidents. Based on Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) scoring, there are three categories: (1) Violent Crime, (2) Property Crime, and (3) Other Criminal Code. Within each category, particular offence types are highlighted in this chart. In addition, monthly totals for Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (CDSA) incidents and MHA-related calls for service are included. Individual UCR codes are indicated below the specific crime type.

In 2019, changes were implemented regarding the collection of UCR data. The new standards provide much more stringent criteria to classify a file as unfounded. As a result, there will be an increase in many crime statistics, and clearance rates will conversely decline. This creates numerous challenges when comparing previous years' data. Full details on the Uniform Crime Reporting Survey are available at Statistics Canada: <https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/pub/85-002-x/2018001/article/54973-eng.htm>. For more information, contact Richmond Crime Analysts.

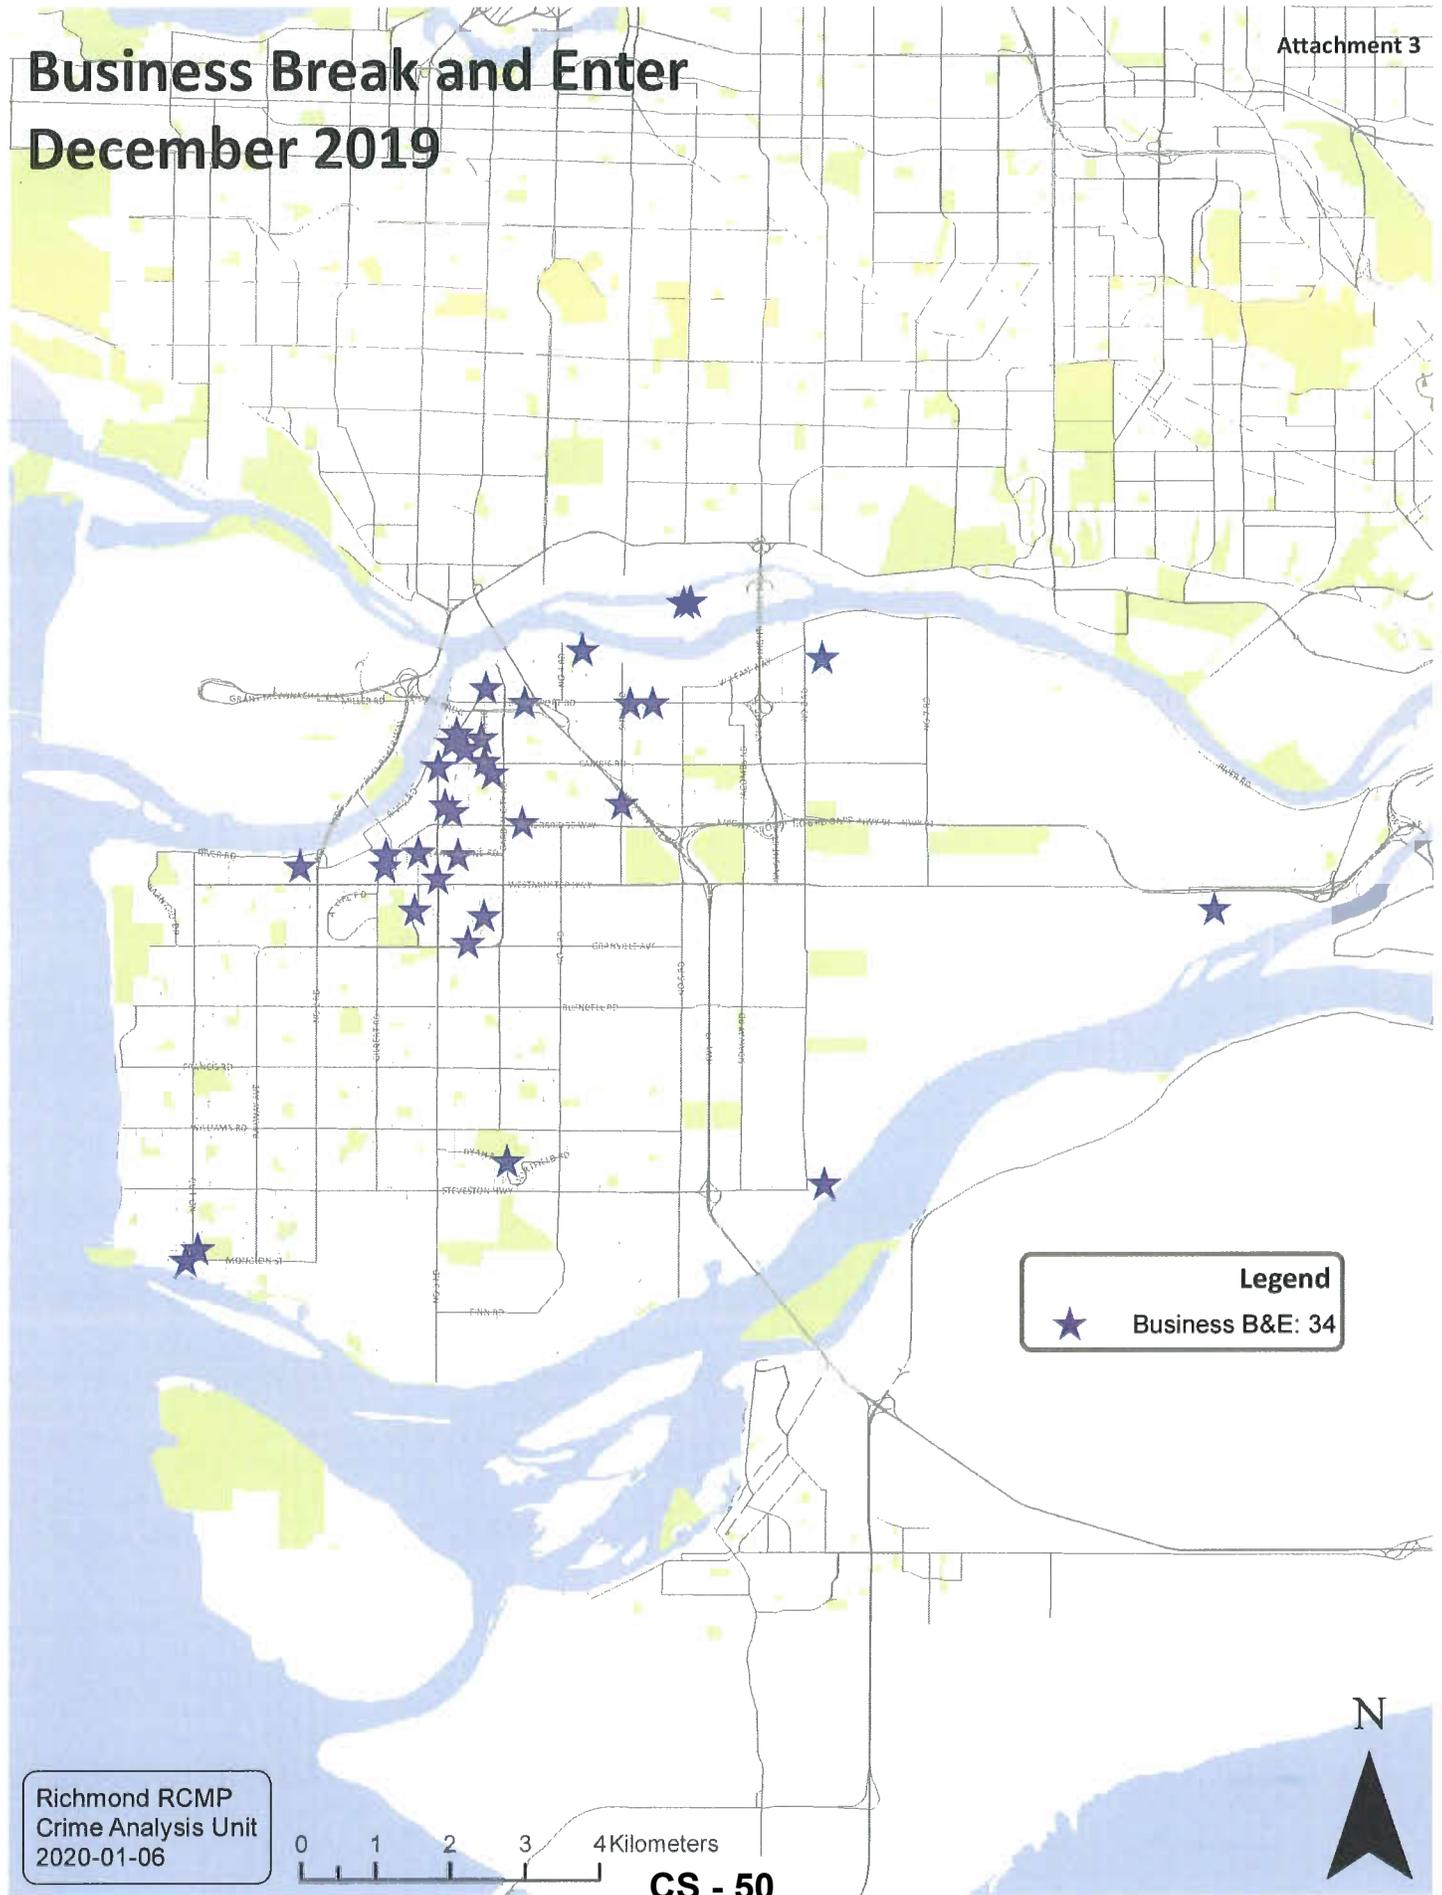

The 5 year average range data is based on activity within a single month over the past 5 years. If the current monthly total for an offence is above the expected average range (using one standard deviation) due to crime trends, patterns, or spikes, it will be noted in red. If the current monthly total for an offence is above the expected average range due to primarily non-operational reasons such as the new UCR standards or other scoring issues, the total will be noted in purple. Below expected numbers will be noted in blue.

Year-to-Date percentage change is used to numbers from the prior year, but the new CCJS/UCR standards reduce the utility of this metric. 2019 YTD numbers will be biased to increase from the 2018 totals, despite any positive police action.

Condominium Safety

With more condos and high rise structures being built, it is important to consider the different steps you can take for keeping your home, self, and property safe. It is always strongly encouraged to know your neighbours and the regulars of the building such as cleaners, property managers, and concierges. This will make you more alert when someone you haven't seen before tries entering the building. Even though you require a key or fob to enter the building, always keep your front and patio doors along with all your windows locked. When you move into the building, be sure to change the locks as you do not know who still has a key for the old ones. Always inform the building concierge or strata if you lose the key or fob for the building. Do not hold the door for people that you don't know and always wait for the parking garage gate to close before driving away. When walking in the parkade, take into consideration your own personal safety. It is important be aware of your surroundings and always know where the closest exits are. Always keep your vehicle locked and never leave valuables in sight. Be confident in your actions and trust your instinct. Look before entering the elevator and do not enter if you feel uncomfortable. If something feels wrong, remove yourself from the situation. Storage lockers are targets of theft due to being in isolated areas of the building. Do not leave valuables in your storage unit and always keep the door closed and locked.

Keeping Thieves off your Property

- Install a fence with a gate to clearly divide the public space from your private residence
- Have security cameras installed that cover entrances to your home and can be seen by potential thieves
- Install motion sensor lights around your home to remove the cover of darkness for criminals

- Keep your lawn clear of valuables as this can attract thieves to your property
- Make sure your shed/ storage around your home is secured
- Maintain low shrubs and cut low tree limbs around windows and doors to reduce places for hiding
- Place caging around lights and cameras so they cannot be tampered with
- Make sure there are unobstructed views of your home from the street to increase natural surveillance

Preparing our Captains for an Emergency

In late November, Block Watch hosted an event for Captains and Co-Captains to prepare themselves for a potential large-scale emergency. The emergency Preparedness Team came out to help educate everyone about the importance of having a plan in place and what are the steps that can be taken to prepare themselves and their neighbourhood. The Block Watch Program is working to connect residents with their neighbours to form a cohesive bond within the neighbourhood. In collaboration with other Community Safety units, Block Watch hopes to provide residents of Richmond with invaluable information to keep people safe in all aspects of life.

To start a Block Watch group:

1. Select a Block Captain and a Co-Captain

- ◇ Each Captain/Co-Captain must submit an application and be deemed a suitable candidate by passing a Criminal Record Check.

2. Recruit and build your group

- ◇ Recruit homes on your side of the street, across the street and behind you. Try and get at least 10 households to participate.

3. Captain and Co-Captain must complete a Captains training session

4. Setup 1st Block Watch group meeting/training session with participants

5. Activation of your group

- ◇ Submit a participating household list of your group then a Block Watch street sign will be provided and activation is complete.

WORKING TOGETHER TO PREVENT CRIME

NEWSLETTER

Parkade Security

- Install gates and pedestrian entrances to your parkade that require either FOB or key access. Have gates close within 5 seconds of the vehicle passing through to reduce the possibility of another car following in behind without legitimate access to the parkade.
- Require key or FOB access to enter main building from parkade.
- Keep the parkade clean and well-lit. Replace burned out lighting, remove any unwanted writing from walls, and maintain the space with regular upkeep. Illuminate any dark or deep recesses that can be used as cover by potential criminals

- Make sure signs are large and clear to show the location of stairwells and exits

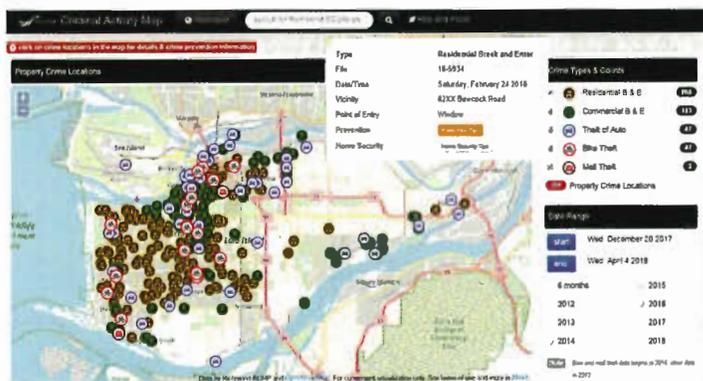

- Paint the ceiling white

- Clearly mark stalls and levels of parkade to help users locate their vehicle.

- Maintain good sightlines throughout the parkade to reduce risk of individuals being targeted and increase the safety of patrons. Reduce the number of hiding places for criminals to use.

- Expose stairwells and hallways with doors that have glass panelling and windows between the staircases and the parking area. This can also include using convex mirrors to eliminate blind corners for people.

- Install security cameras that are noticeable and that cover areas which can be more likely to be targeted. Have security do roving patrols of the parking garage on an always varying schedule.
