Analysis

Activities and Noteworthy Files

Injured Pedestrian

On January 8, 2019, Richmond RCMP officers responded to the area of St. Alban's Road and General Currie Road for reports of an injured pedestrian. A 31-year-old woman was transported to hospital suffering life threatening injuries after being struck by a vehicle. The driver of the vehicle remained on scene and was cooperative with police. The Richmond Criminal Crash Investigation Team is investigating the collision.

Suspicious Occurrence

On January 20, 2019, Richmond RCMP Detachment (the Detachment) issued a media release warning the public of individuals going door to door posing as security firm employees. The warning came, after Richmond RCMP was notified of social media posts indicating multiple residents in the Hamilton area had a similar experience. According to the posts, these individuals were asking homeowners questions about their security systems and, in some cases, even attempted to gain access to the residences.

Vehicle Collision

On January 21, 2019, Richmond RCMP officers responded to the area of No. 6 Road and Blundell Road after reports of a single-vehicle collision with a hydro pole. Two occupants were removed from the vehicle and transported to hospital. The driver sustained critical injuries and the passenger had serious, but non-life-threatening injuries. The accident caused power outages throughout the area. The Richmond RCMP Road Safety Unit and Integrated Collision Analysis and Reconstruction Service are investigating.

Robbery

On January 21, 2019, Richmond RCMP officers responded to a residence in the 5000 block of Walton Road for reports of a robbery of a vehicle. The victim was approached by a suspect, who produced a weapon and smashed the vehicle window. The victim sustained non-life threatening injuries and was transported to hospital. The vehicle was located later that morning by the Vancouver Police Department that resulted in the arrest of two suspects. The Richmond RCMP is investigating.

Weapons

On January 23, 2019, Richmond RCMP officers responded to a residence in the 8000 block of No. 2 Road for a domestic disturbance with a weapon. A 29-year-old male suspect surrendered to police after a one hour standoff. An infant that was located in the residence was unharmed. RCMP officers from the Lower Mainland Integrated Police Dog Services secured the area and a neighbouring school was placed on a hold as a precautionary safety measure. The Richmond RCMP is investigating.

Analysis of Police Statistics

In January 2019, important changes were implemented regarding the collection of Uniform Crime Reporting Survey data.¹ As a result of significant media attention in February 2017 regarding sexual assault reporting, the Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics (CCJS) and the Police Information and Statistics Committee of the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police worked to develop recommendations for changes to police records methodology, with particular attention on classifying founded and unfounded cases. These changes will impact police statistics across Canada will affect all crime types, not only sexual offences. The new standards will provide more stringent criteria to classify a case as unfounded. As a result, there will likely be an increase in many crime statistics and clearance rates will conversely decline. This change creates numerous challenges when conducting comparisons with previous years' data. The information presented in this section must be evaluated within the context of this limitation. Further analysis will be provided throughout the year.

Arson

In January 2019, there were three incidents of arson, which is down one incident from the previous month and up one incident from January 2018. The number of arsons this month is within the five-year statistical average range.

Assault Serious (Assault with a Weapon)

There were 14 assault serious events in January 2019, which is double the number from the previous month. The number of reported serious assaults this month is outside the five-year average range and represents a 56 per cent increase from January 2018. Six of these files were domestic-related. The elevated number of files this month is primarily explained by the new standards for CCJS reporting and/or non-operational reasons. No patterns, trends or files of note have been identified.

Auto Theft

There were 33 auto theft incidents this month, which is an 11 per cent decrease from December 2018 and a 106 per cent increase from January 2018. For the second consecutive month, the number of auto thefts is outside of the five-year average range.

Auto theft numbers were high in the second half of 2018. A number of these thefts continue to be linked with Residential Break and Enters, which has been an active crime type for the last few months.

Drugs

In January 2019 there were 45 drug incidents, which represent a 55 per cent increase from the previous month and a two per cent increase from January 2018. After numerous months of below average numbers of drug offences, correlated to the legalization of cannabis on October 17, 2018, and decline in cannabis-related offences, the number of drug offences this month is within the five-year average range.

Mental Health

There were 190 mental health incidents in January 2019, which represents a 31 per cent increase from December 2018 and a 71 per cent increase from January 2018. The number of mental health incidents is significantly above the five-year average range and the number recorded this month is the highest number since 2012.²

It should be noted that 60 of these incidents (approximately 32 per cent) can be attributed to one individual, who has been identified as a high volume client for a number of years. These calls did not require police resources and are linked to the individual's health condition. Further analysis indicates that the number of police apprehensions has remained steady; indicating that the overall police workload for mental health related incidents has not changed even though the number of files has increased. The elevated number of files this month is primarily explained by non-operational reasons. No patterns or trends have been identified.

Residential Break and Enter

There were 104 break and enters to residences in January 2019, which is a three per cent increase from the previous month and a 39 per cent increase from January 2018. The number of residential break and enters this month is above the five-year average range

Richmond RCMP Detachment has deployed additional resources to target property crime. Persons/groups of interest have been identified through criminal analysis, which has resulted in targeted enforcement. This month, the Detachment issued a media release advising that a lengthy police investigation, including four search warrants, led to 15 property crime charges against a Richmond resident. Over one thousand items were seized including numerous luxury goods.

Commercial Break and Enter

In January 2019, there were 44 break and enters to businesses, which represents a four per cent decrease from December 2018. This number represents a 37 per cent decrease from January 2018, during which a statistically high number of commercial break and enters were reported. Commercial break and enters remain within the expected range.

Robbery

There were 10 robbery incidents in January 2019, which is up three incidents from the previous month and double the number of incidents from January 2018. However, this number remains within the five-year average range.

Sexual Offences

There were 26 sexual offence files in January 2019, which represents a 117 per cent increase from the previous month. The number of sexual offences this month marks an eight per cent increase from January 2018, during which a statistically high number of offences were reported. This month's total is significantly outside the five-year average range.

The elevated number of files this month is linked to the CCJS scoring changes. In addition, this month the Detachment's Serious Crimes section forwarded five files related to the BC Integrated Child Exploitation Unit. The elevated number of files this month is primarily explained by the new standards for CCJS reporting and/or non-operational reasons. No patterns, trends, or files of note have been identified.

Shoplifting

There were 78 shoplifting thefts in January 2019, which is a 70 per cent increase from the previous month and a 26 per cent increase from January 2018. This month, reported shoplifting thefts are outside the five-year expected range.

The increase in reported shoplifting thefts this month can be largely attributed to a two-day project with local Loss Prevention Officers (LPO). Approximately 20 LPOs participated with 17 Richmond RCMP Officers in this annual project, which resulted in 30 arrests this year.³

Theft from Auto

There were 183 theft from auto incidents in January 2019, which represents a five per cent decrease from the previous month. This number marks a 16 per cent decrease from January 2018 and is below the five-year average range.

³ Participation included RCMP members from the Prolific Offender Suppression Team, Property Crime Unit and General Duty.

Crime Trends Across Jurisdictions

Data on crime rates is presented below (Figure 1).⁴ Out of the four largest municipalities policed by the RCMP in the Lower Mainland District (LMD), Richmond has the second lowest violent crime rate. Richmond has also maintained the second lowest property crime rate. These low numbers can be attributed to the quick identification of targets and resulting enforcement, in addition to successful collaboration with partner agencies for multi-jurisdictional offenders.

Auxiliary Program

In January 2019, Richmond Detachment had a complement of 37 Auxiliaries.⁵ Auxiliaries provided a total of 262 volunteer hours during the month of January.

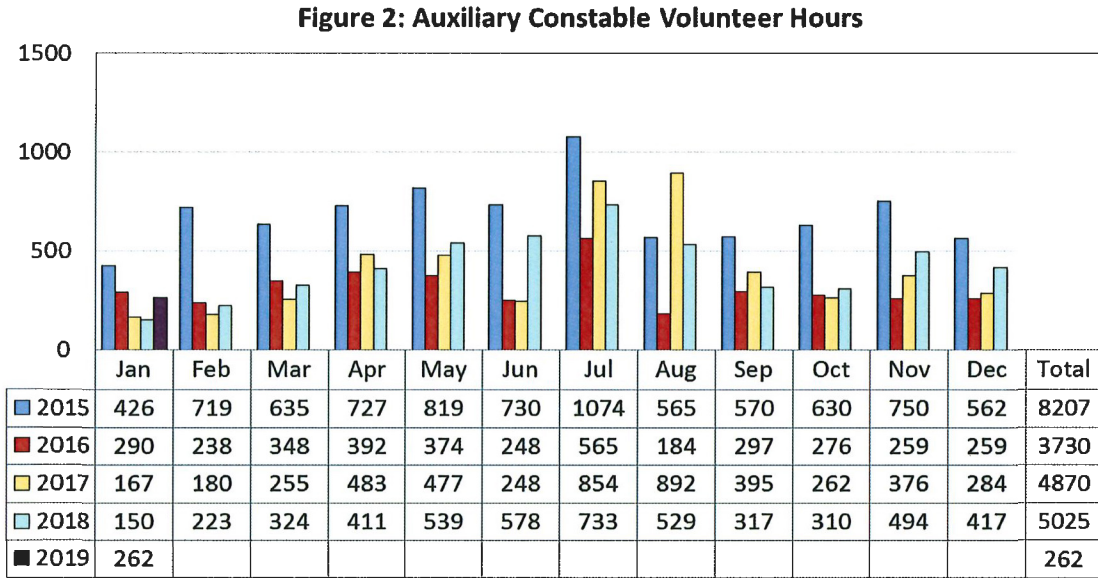

In the coming months, the Province of BC and RCMP “E” Division are expected to announce the training standards for the Tier 3 Auxiliary program.⁶ Once these details are known, the Detachment will commence recruitment of a new troop of Auxiliaries. The RCMP recently announced that for the immediate future there will be no changes to the current Auxiliary uniform.

⁴ Crime rate is calculated per 1,000 people (using 2019 population projections)

⁵ Previously referred to as Auxiliary Constables.

Community Police Station Programs

Community police stations continue to enhance the Detachment’s policing services by providing an array of crime prevention resources and community safety initiatives. City staff and volunteers pursue safety initiatives to enhance crime prevention program awareness, community engagement and police accessibility. These initiatives help to reduce anxiety and fear related to crime. The program activities vary from month to month reflective of weather conditions, seasonal initiatives, events and the availability of volunteers.

⁷ The variance from previous months’ data is due to an ongoing database upgrade. Revised numbers will continue to reflect more accurate participation data.

During the month of January volunteer highlights included:

- The deployment of 33 foot/van patrols totalling 226 hours.
- 41 Fail to Stop deployments took place, which resulted in 1,783 warning letters.

JANUARY 2019 STATISTICS

RICHMOND RCMP

This chart identifies the monthly totals for founded Criminal Code incidents, excluding traffic-related Criminal Code incidents. Based on Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) scoring, there are three categories: (1) Violent Crime, (2) Property Crime, and (3) Other Criminal Code. Within each category, particular offence types are highlighted in this chart. In addition, monthly totals for Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (CDSA) incidents and MHA-related calls for service are included. Individual UCR codes are indicated below the specific crime type.

For 2019, CCJS scoring standards have been modified. Previously, unsubstantiated files were not captured in this data, but effective 2019-01-01, this CCJS category has been collapsed. 2019 files of this variety are now considered as founded. For more information, contact Richmond Crime Analysts.
