Staff Report

Origin

Permissive exemptions are provided to various properties in accordance with sections 220 and 224 of the Community Charter and Council Policy 3561. The exemption bylaw must be adopted by October 31st each year to be effective for the following year.

Analysis

There are a number of additions and deletions for the 2011 Permissive Exemption Bylaw. The changes as listed in Appendix I are:

- Two properties previously owned by the Vancouver Gospel Society were sold in 2010 and should be removed from the exemption list.
- Two properties owned by Oval 3 Holdings and Oval 4 Holdings were used by the City for the 2010 Winter Olympics. The agreement between the City and the property owners regarding its use has terminated and the properties will revert back to taxable status.
- Since the Olympic games closure, parts of the Oval has been leased to commercial tenants. The bylaw must be amended to reflect the taxable use and to ensure that the tenants are responsible for the 2011 property taxes.
- The property at 7431 Francis Road was purchased by the Young Israel of Richmond group in 2007 and is currently operating as a synagogue. The group was unaware of the requirement to apply for a permissive exemption status and, consequently, was required to pay property taxes for the past 2 years. The organization meets the religious requirement as set out by the Community Charter.
- The Thrangu Monastery at 8140 No 5 Road had its grand opening in August of 2010. The sanctuary and a portion of the building used for religious purposes meet the religious requirement as set out by the Community Charter. However, on site dormitories do not meet the requirements of section 224 of the Community Charter and Council Policy 3561 and therefore, those portions of the building will remain taxable. Schedule D of the bylaw specifically states the taxable status of the dormitory.

Thrangu Monastery have planted a variety of fruit trees on the backland to meet the necessary farming requirements for properties on No 5 Road.

- The property at 8160 No 5 Road, has a large storage shed and is owned and used by the Thrangu Monastery to store large religious artifacts that cannot be stored in the Temple. Aside from the shed, the remaining property has not been developed and the backlands have not been properly farmed. At the time of visit, representatives of the Thrangu Monastery suggested that they will plant cedar trees on the backland in order to meet farming requirements. Staff discouraged this suggestion since planting cedar trees is not considered farming unless they plan on selling trees every 2 to 3 years. Since this is not their intention, staff suggested planting other trees or bushes that will yield edible crops. They agreed to this suggestion for the coming Spring.

Since the shed is currently used to store religious artefacts, it is recommended that only the shed and the land that it sits on be exempted for 2011 taxes. Should the property not meet farming requirements by summer of 2011, the property should be removed from the following year's exemption bylaw.

Visits were also made to the various religious organizations on No 5 Road to ensure farming on the backlands. All organizations are meeting their farming requirement.

In the 2010 Permissive Exemption Bylaw report to Council, a concern was raised regarding the Shia Muslim Community and their non-compliance to the farming requirement. Since then, the Shia Muslim Community has invested over $52,000 in the preparation of their backland and the planting of fruit trees and blueberry bushes. At the time of visit, all fruit trees were properly maintained and many trees bore fruit. A subsequent email from the Shia Muslim Community indicated that they had generated $1,500 in revenue from the sale of fruit to their community group.

Property tax exemptions impact City finances by reducing the total assessed value of properties subject to taxation. This results in the City recovering the shortfall through tax increases to general taxpayers.

Church properties represent the largest number of permissively exempted properties and accounts for approximately $385,400 in direct municipal taxes waived in 2010. Non-City owned properties exempted account for approximately $415,700 in waived taxes, and City owned or leased properties account for approximately $1,218,500. Total municipal taxes exempted for 2010 was $2,019,600.

Conclusion

Bylaw 8629 will provide tax exemptions in accordance with Provincial legislation and Council policy.
