Staff Report

Origin

The mandate of the Richmond Community Services Advisory Committee (RCSAC) is to encourage and promote social policies and community services that contribute to the well-being and quality of life of Richmond residents and to develop the capacity of the community service sector.

While an advisory body, the RCSAC is only partially a City-appointed committee (i.e. only two citizen representatives are Council-appointed). The City supports the RCSAC by providing an annual operating budget, a Council Liaison and a Staff Liaison.

This report supports Council's Strategic Plan 2018-2022 Focus Area #1 A Safe and Resilient City:

Enhance and protect the safety and well-being of Richmond.

1.4 Foster a safe, caring and resilient environment.

This report supports Council's Strategic Plan 2018-2022 Focus Area #4 An Active and Thriving Richmond:

An active and thriving community characterized by diverse social and wellness programs, services and spaces that foster health and well-being for all.

4.1 Robust, affordable, and accessible sport, recreation, wellness and social programs for people of all ages and abilities.

4.2 Ensure infrastructure meets changing community needs, current trends and best practices.

This report also supports Social Development Strategy (2013-2022) Action 38:

Nurture and enhance existing communication channels and networks with community agencies (e.g. through staff support to the Richmond Community Services Advisory Committee, participation in networking groups).

This report presents the RCSAC 2019 Annual Report (Attachment 1) and proposed 2020 Work Plan (Attachment 2).

Analysis

RCSAC Charter

As indicated in the RCSAC Charter (Attachment 3), the mission of this advisory committee is "to encourage and promote those social policies and community services which contribute to the general health, welfare and quality of life of the residents of Richmond, and to increase inter-agency relations and cooperation in order to enhance community capacity”. Their mandate is described in the attached Charter as:

Section A

The RCSAC shall advise Richmond City Council and may, in consultation with City Council, make representations to other policy-making bodies on the following:

- 1. Policies that encourage cooperative planning and delivery of community services to ensure optimum efficiency and effectiveness;*
- 2. Social issues/concerns that have an impact on community services, special needs groups and the quality of life in the community;*
- 3. Community impact of governmental changes to policies and/or programs affecting Richmond’s community services; and*
- 4. Any other matters that may be referred by Richmond City Council, RCSAC member groups and the community at large.*

Section B

- 1. Coordination of activities and information sharing between the voluntary and public sector.*

The RCSAC also has separate “Operating Policies and Procedures” describing membership, structure and procedures.

2019 Annual Report

The 2019 RCSAC Annual Report, based on a number of Council Strategic Plan 2018-2022 focus areas (Attachment 1), includes the following highlights:

- The Non-Profit Social Purpose Space Needs Review, including the results of a space needs survey of Richmond-serving non-profit social service agencies (NPOs), was presented to Planning Committee in the 1st Quarter of 2019. This review was funded by the City and the Richmond Community Foundation based on background information provided in the RCSAC’s “Richmond Non-Profit Space Review, Phase 1” report previously presented to Council (3rd Quarter of 2017);
- Members provided agency-specific space needs information to staff for consideration by Planning Committee and Council in the 4th Quarter of 2019;
- The RCSAC and member agencies participated in the Community Action Team, led by Vancouver Coastal Health with a grant from the provincial government to address the opioid overdose crisis. This initiative included significant involvement of those with lived experience, who worked with peers and service providers to raise awareness and reduce stigma; and
- The inventory of community-based tables and committees relevant to social services was updated (Attachment 3).

2020 Work Plan

The RCSAC's 2020 Work Plan includes building on previous undertakings as well as new initiatives:

- Continuing work on social service space needs by participating in the “Rent-Lease-Own” survey of NPO space needs conducted by the Social Purpose Real Estate Collaborative (SPRE), of which the City is a member. Results will be analyzed by municipality, as well as regionally, and shared with City Council in the 3rd Quarter of 2020;
- Participating in a SPRE-sponsored workshop about real estate fundamentals for social purpose organizations to increase sector capacity;
- Conducting the Jennifer Larsen Gains and Losses Survey about non-profit finances and related service impacts, particularly the impact of Federal and Provincial policy and funding decisions on Richmond services;
- Supporting service providers by bringing in guest speakers about Compassion Fatigue; and
- Continuing to apprise Council of matters affecting community agencies and Richmond residents.

As indicated, this work program will be revised as necessary, based on emerging issues as well as future Council priorities.

Financial Impact

There is no financial impact.

Conclusion

The RCSAC 2020 Work Plan is designed to reflect the Council Strategic Plan (2018–2022) and to advance Social Development Strategy (2013–2022) actions by strengthening social infrastructure and addressing emerging issues impacting the community. Through its annual work plans, the RCSAC continues to play a vital role in sustaining and enhancing the social services sector, and thereby the social well-being and quality of life of Richmond residents.

Action Group Reports

RCSAC Addictions and Mental Health Task Group

Membership: Brenda Plant (Chair), Belinda Boyd, Kathie Chiu, Rick Dubras, Heather Hall, Jamie Smulders (on leave), Claire Pitcher, Una Mulhall (left during the year), Kiran Toor, Stasa Pasic (stepped down during the year), Ling Chu, Morgan Meloche, Sean Spear, Shannon Guiboche.

Mandate: To support the RCSAC's advisory capacity to the City of Richmond on issues related to Addictions and Mental Health (AMH); to enhance the continuum of AMH services in Richmond; and to develop partnerships and identify funding sources for the implementation of AMH working group initiatives.

Activities:

Many of the initiatives of the AMH Working Group during the year were informed by the work being done in our community through the Richmond Community Action Team (CAT) to address the current opioid crisis and the impacts this is having on Richmond's most vulnerable citizens and the community at large.

Activities of the CAT Team included hosting a series of "Belonging Matters" dialogue sessions, the creation of a visual legacy (poster project) highlighting peer's voices, holding "How to Tell Your Story" workshops and Health Champion Conversations; convening peer meetings and hosting the final event held in October. The final event celebrated the success of the initiative by supporting participants and those with lived-experience to tell their stories and express their unique voices.

Other highlights during the year included continuing to advocate and support the development of the Foundry Youth Services Centre; the opening of the temporary Modular Housing in Richmond in April, and ensuring local agencies have access to Naloxone training and supplies.

The Resource Guide for Richmond was updated by the OARS program with a final version completed in October. Over 500 copies were produced and have been circulated. The Richmond Addiction and Mental Health Resources Wallet Card has also been updated, printed and circulated. A revised version is under consideration.

Of note: Vancouver Coastal Health - Richmond has released a new Mental Health and Substance Use one number access line (604-204-1111).

NPO Space Needs

Membership:

Janice Barr, Rick Dubras, Janice Lambert, Sandy McIntosh, Judy Valsonis

Mandate:

To explore the space needs of Richmond's NPOs and find collaborative solutions to report back to the RCSAC on those needs.

Activities:

The final phase of the NPO Space Needs survey and report has been completed. The results of the Phase 2 Richmond Non-Profit Social Purpose Space Needs Review report was presented to the RCSAC in September.

Report:

2019 has been a busy year for the NPO Space Needs Committee. On April 25, 2019 City Staff submitted a report on the Richmond Community Services Advisory Committee Non-Profit Social Service Agency Space Needs Review to Planning Committee. A delegation from the NPO Space Needs Committee attended the Planning Committee meeting and spoke to the issue. The report included two recommendations:

- 1. That support be extended for the RCSAC to develop a database on space needs of non-profit social service agencies, to be updated and maintained biannually through surveys of agencies; and*
- 2. That staff investigate potential options available to increase the supply of affordable non-profit social service agency space in the City Centre and other appropriate locations and report back.*

These recommendations were endorsed at the May 27, 2019 Richmond City Council meeting.

On October 8, 2019 City Staff returned to Planning Committee with the agency-specific information report, "Non-Profit Social Service Agency Current and Future Space Needs". This report included agency specific information regarding space needs and further recommendations. A delegation from the NPO Space Needs Committee attended the Planning Committee meeting and spoke to the issue. The report included three recommendations:

- 1. That non-profit social service agency space needs be communicated and a letter be sent to key stakeholders, including the Premier, the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, the Minister of Social Development and Poverty Reduction, the Minister of Health and Addictions, the Leader of the Opposition and Shadow Ministries, the Richmond Members of the Legislative Assembly (MLAs), the Richmond Members of Parliament (MPs) and appropriate Federal ministers, the Richmond School District, Vancouver Coastal Health, and the Urban Development Institute, to encourage collaboration in addressing the concerns of social service agencies;*
- 2. That the City and key stakeholders seek immediate opportunities to prevent the loss of at-risk, high priority social service agencies in Richmond as described in the staff report titled "Non-Profit Social Service Agency Current and Future Space Needs", dated September 20, 2019 from the Director, Community Social Development; and*

3. That options to increase the supply of affordable non-profit social service agency space in the City Centre and other appropriate locations be identified.

These final recommendations were endorsed by City Council on October 15, 2019. A delegation from the NPO Space Needs Committee attended this City Council meeting.

The NPO Space Needs Committee looks forward to the final report produced by City Staff on the potential options available to increase the supply of affordable non-profit social service agency space in the City Centre and other appropriate locations in spring 2020.

In addition to the reports and recommendations to the Planning Committee and City Council, a delegation of the NPO Space Needs Committee has met with City Councillors to discuss the NPO Space needs issues in Richmond. These Councillors include:

- Councillor Bill McNulty
- Councillor Linda McPhail
- Councillor Michael Wolfe

I. MISSION STATEMENT OF THE RICHMOND COMMUNITY SERVICES ADVISORY COMMITTEE

To encourage and promote those social policies and community services which contribute to the general health, welfare and quality of life of the residents of Richmond, and to increase inter-agency relations and cooperation in order to enhance community capacity.

II. HISTORY

The Richmond Community Services Advisory Committee, hereinafter referred to as “RCSAC”, received formal recognition as an advisory body to Richmond City Council and its appropriate Committees on May 25, 1987¹.

It builds on the information gathering and sharing strengths of the Richmond Community Services Council, which served the community in a similar but less formal capacity from April, 1978 to its evolution as the RCSAC in September, 1987.

During several years of Community services as a voluntary collaborative of non-profit, government and private agencies and organizations in the field of social and related community services, the Richmond Community Services Council and its member organizations were instrumental in the development and establishment of:

- The municipally funded RCMP Youth Intervention Program;
- A municipal social planner position;
- Richmond Child Protection Network;
- Richmond Family Place;
- An open referral in-the-home parenting program (lost with others during the 1983 restraint measures imposed by major government funding sources);
- Collaboration in preparation of the report Preparing for a Livable Future: Recommendations by the City Center Steering Committee;
- Improved Municipal Grant application and appeal processes;
- The Child Care Advisory Committee;
- The Inventory of Social Services in Richmond
- The Richmond Intercultural Advisory Committee

An RCSAC Poverty Response Committee was established, and reports were submitted to Council. This has now become an independent committee.

Representatives from the RCSAC

- participated in the Community Parks, Recreational & Cultural Working Group to assist in providing City Council with a Master Plan;
- currently participate in the Substance Abuse Task Force; and
- the Richmond Intercultural Advisory Committee.

APPENDIX I

An Oral History of RCSC, later to become RCSAC

(Delivered by Olive Bassett at the RCSAC General meeting of December 8, 2003)

It is ten years since I have been associated with this advisory council, some of which I speak on today could be familiar to many of you but perhaps some of you are not familiar with the early history I hope it will be of interest to you. I was a member of RCSC for many years before becoming a school trustee then I was elected as their Rep. on the PAC (Policy Advisory Council) in 1990. Back in 1978, there was very little planning for social services, something had to be done, and the United Way was invited to set up some social planning for the community. There was no Social Planner at the municipal level at that time. The Child Services Committee, a committee of the United Way, was not representative enough; its mandate was services to children 12 & under. A newly formed Child Abuse Committee was attempting to educate the public on what was happening to children; the community health nurses and social workers were the only ones going into the homes of many abused children. But the climate of the times prevented anyone from speaking out especially about sexual abuse, this was a taboo topic, no one wanted to talk about it. And there were many turf problems, every one was working in isolation on their own particular issues and problems, this is mine that is yours, don't mix the two! Finally the United Way placed an arms length community person in as Chair of the Child Services Committee hoping to become more effective. Something was still needed; the committee was not representative of agencies working with families, children & youth. Palmer School had just gone up in smoke, at the hands of a teen-age girl who badly needed treatment. There were no services of the kind youth like her needed, but it was risking a teachers or a community health nurse's job to speak out on lack of services. It was so difficult to address so many social problems in the community but at that time, the thought of washing your linen in public was not to be tolerated. The School Board refused to put a family life program into the schools. The community was polarized. Many were demanding the program, just as many were in denial it was needed, and these felt the only place to teach this subject was in the home. Which was fine but those children needing the program did not come from homes where this kind of education was taught. It was a little later I believe the Richmond Youth Services Agency came into being to focus on the issues and problems facing the over 12's. And so, it was in this type of atmosphere that a major meeting was held with many of those delivering social services to families. Through this meeting, they got the endorsement needed to be something much broader than the Richmond Children's Committee. A Steering Committee was set up that met twice a month for a solid year and what came out of that was the framework for the Richmond Community Services Council. That was in 1978, and nine years later in '87, with the assistance of a municipal councilor, a social planner had finally been hired, RCSC was restructured and given the formal title of the Richmond Community Services Advisory Council, RCSAC, as it is known today. They would make recommendations for social service issues and report those issues & concerns directly to the Municipal Council through the Policy Advisory Council, who were elected from the Boards of the individual agencies to serve on PAC. They were the political arm of the RCSAC. And Council listened. In their eyes, it was no longer just staff driven. These were elected people making the recommendations. With the new structure, there was also the IAC, Inter Agency committee, made up the staff and the 'Hands On' people who worked in the field, and the Coordinating Committee overseeing both IAC & PAC. This is all in your charter, I found it very interesting to re-read, and it would be well worth your re-reading pages 20 to 24. In 1989, the RCSAC held a "Strategy Planning and Priority Setting Meeting". This was an extremely important meeting for RCSAC. Johnny Carline, Deputy Administrator, Strategic Planning for Richmond spoke on what Richmond could look like in the future, two questions he asked of the group: 1. "What are the priorities for service provision for all of the agencies in the next three years?" 2. "What suggestions do you have for the municipality to incorporate social issues into the growth management strategy?" A planning committee took all the suggestions, solutions, comments and concerns and brought in a final report in January 1990. Seven (7) recommendations came out of it and were presented to council, they may help you in your deliberations on the restructure process, I will leave it with Michael Then in 1994, RCSAC sent out an excellent questionnaire to member organizations, to see if the advisory council was meeting the needs of its membership by addressing gaps, identifying issues and resources to address them and then develop an action plan. The survey was divided into six major sections: Role & Function, Participation, Community issues, Strengths & Weaknesses, Suggestions for raising the profile of RCSAC and lastly the potential for sending out a newsletter. I will also leave a copy of this with Michael, as it may prove useful. I see you are now contemplating another re-structure, perhaps some questions that you may ask yourselves are: "What do you want to accomplish that you are not doing now?" "When was the last time your charter was brought up to date?" "How many agencies out there are not aware of what you do?" "How many agencies or groups out there doing a service for the community, are you not aware of?" In my opinion the reason RCSAC has survived while many others have not, is because community volunteers and staff have worked together for a common goal, this way everyone wins. The effectiveness of RCSAC has always been present to a greater or lesser degree. It is a tremendously important organization and the accomplishments you have gained have not come easy. It is an organization you can be proud to belong to. However, it must be supported by each and every social service organization in order to have the greatest impact for good.

Thank you.

M. Olive Bassett
