Analysis

Activities and Noteworthy Files

Arrest

On April 8, 2019, Richmond RCMP officers assisted in the arrest of a suspect after a road rage incident in Langley. The 22 year old male suspect reportedly threatened another driver with a firearm. The suspect was followed by the RCMP Air 1 helicopter into Richmond and was observed fleeing into a building. The Lower Mainland Emergency Response Team and Richmond RCMP responded and arrested the suspect.

Volunteers are Stars

On April 9, 2019, Richmond Cares Richmond Gives held their annual Volunteers are Stars Gala event, which celebrates the city's volunteers for their exceptional community work. This year, the Richmond RCMP Community Police Office front counter volunteers won the Constellation Award, which honours volunteer groups for their service and contribution to the community.

Thefts at Vancouver International Airport (YVR)

On April 17, 2019, Richmond RCMP officers at YVR arrested a suspect in a series of thefts, which occurred in and around YVR in March and April 2019. Plainclothes investigators had been conducting surveillance and observed a female suspect stealing a purse from a passenger. A 60 year old foreign national has been charged with nine offences, including six counts of theft. The accused is believed to be part of a larger, organized theft group. Additional law enforcement agencies are assisting in the investigation.

Emergency Simulation

On April 30, 2019, Richmond Detachment participated in a simulated emergency scenario at YVR. This multi-agency exercise involved a variety of YVR stakeholders including Richmond Fire-Rescue, City of Richmond Emergency Programs, BC Emergency Health Service, the United States Customs and Border Protection, and Canada Border Services Agency.

Analysis of Police Statistics

In January 2019, important changes were implemented regarding the collection of Uniform Crime Reporting Survey data.¹ As a result of significant media attention in February 2017 regarding sexual assault reporting, the Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics (CCJS) and the Police Information and Statistics Committee of the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police worked to develop recommendations for changes to police records methodology, with particular attention on classifying founded and unfounded cases. These changes will impact police statistics across Canada with effects on all crime types, not only sexual offences. The new standards will classify a case as founded unless there is evidence that the offence did not occur. As a result, there will likely be an increase in many police/crime statistics and clearance rates will conversely decline. This creates numerous challenges when conducting comparisons with previous years' data. The information presented in this section must be evaluated within the context of this limitation. Further analysis will be provided throughout the year.

Arson

In April 2019, there were two reported incidents of arson, which represents no change from the previous month and is one more incident than was reported in April 2018. The number of arsons this month is within the five-year statistical average range.

Assault Serious (Assault with a Weapon)

There were 13 assault serious events in April 2019, which is up one incident from March 2019. The number of serious assaults this month represents an eight per cent increase from April 2018. The number of serious assaults this month is above the five-year average range; however this increase is largely attributed to CCJS scoring changes.

Auto Theft

There were 17 auto theft incidents this month, which is a 32 per cent decrease from March 2019 and a 26 per cent decrease from April 2018. The number of auto thefts this month is below the five-year average range.

Drugs

In April 2019, there were 45 drug incidents, which is a 67 per cent decrease from the previous month and a 27 per cent decrease from April 2018. The number of drug offences this month is within the five-year average range.

¹ Statistics Canada, <https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/pub/85-002-x/2018001/article/54973-eng.htm>

Mental Health

There were 159 mental health incidents in April 2019, which is a 15 per cent decrease from March 2019 and a 34 per cent increase from April 2018. For a fifth consecutive month, the number of mental health incidents is significantly above the five-year average range.

The elevated number of files this month indicate no patterns or trends. Analyst projections indicate these elevated numbers are expected for future months. Further analysis indicates that there were 70 police apprehensions this month, which represents a nine per cent increase from March 2019.

Residential Break and Enter

There were 46 break and enters to residences in April 2019, which is a 31 per cent increase from the previous month and a four per cent decrease from April 2018. The number of residential break and enters has been trending downwards the last three months and this month the total is below the five-year average range.

This decrease can be largely attributed to a combination of proactive and investigational crime reduction efforts. This includes key arrests of a number of residential break and enter offenders, who remain in custody.

Commercial Break and Enter

In April 2019, there were 18 break and enters to businesses. This number represents a 38 per cent decrease from March 2019 as well as a 38 per cent decrease from April 2018. Commercial break and enters are below the expected range.

Robbery

There were five robbery incidents in April 2019, which is down two incidents from the previous month and is three more incidents than reported in April 2018. This number is within the five-year average range.

Sexual Offences

There were 25 sexual offence files in April 2019, which represents a 79 per cent increase from the previous month and a 56 per cent increase from April 2018. This month's total is significantly above the five-year average range.

The increased number of sexual offences this month is primarily due to nine investigations which originated with the BC Integrated Child Exploitation Unit. The number is also elevated due to the CCJS scoring changes. No patterns or trends have been identified.

Shoplifting

There were 78 shoplifting thefts in April 2019, which is a 10 per cent decrease from the previous month and a 13 per cent increase from April 2018. This month, reported shoplifting thefts are above the five-year expected range. This increase is likely due to improved detection rather than an actual increase in this crime type.

Theft from Auto

There were 152 theft from auto incidents in April 2019, which represents a 19 per cent decrease from the previous month and a 33 per cent decrease from April 2018. The number of theft from automobiles is significantly below five-year average range.

Crime Trends across Jurisdictions

Data on crime rates is presented below (Figure 1).² Out of the four largest municipalities policed by the RCMP in the Lower Mainland District (LMD), Richmond has the lowest violent crime rate as well as the second lowest property crime rate. Many municipalities are experiencing crime types which are above the five-year averages. Violent crime rates, in particular, have significantly increased across the Lower Mainland.³ Surrey, for example has experienced a 43 per cent increase in violent crime year to date compared to last year. Although absolute numbers in Richmond remain comparatively low, the violent crime rate has increased 48 per cent over the same period last year. There is a strong likelihood that these increases are a result of the CCJS scoring changes.

Auxiliary Program

In April 2019, Richmond Detachment had a complement of 37 Auxiliaries.⁴ Auxiliaries provided a total of 656 volunteer hours during the month of April. In the coming months, the Province of BC and RCMP “E” Division are expected to announce the training standards for the Tier 3

APRIL 2019 STATISTICS

RICHMOND RCMP

This chart identifies the monthly totals for founded Criminal Code incidents, excluding traffic-related Criminal Code incidents. Based on Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) scoring, there are three categories: (1) Violent Crime, (2) Property Crime, and (3) Other Criminal Code. Within each category, particular offence types are highlighted in this chart. In addition, monthly totals for Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (CDSA) incidents and MHA-related calls for service are included. Individual UCR codes are indicated below the specific crime type.

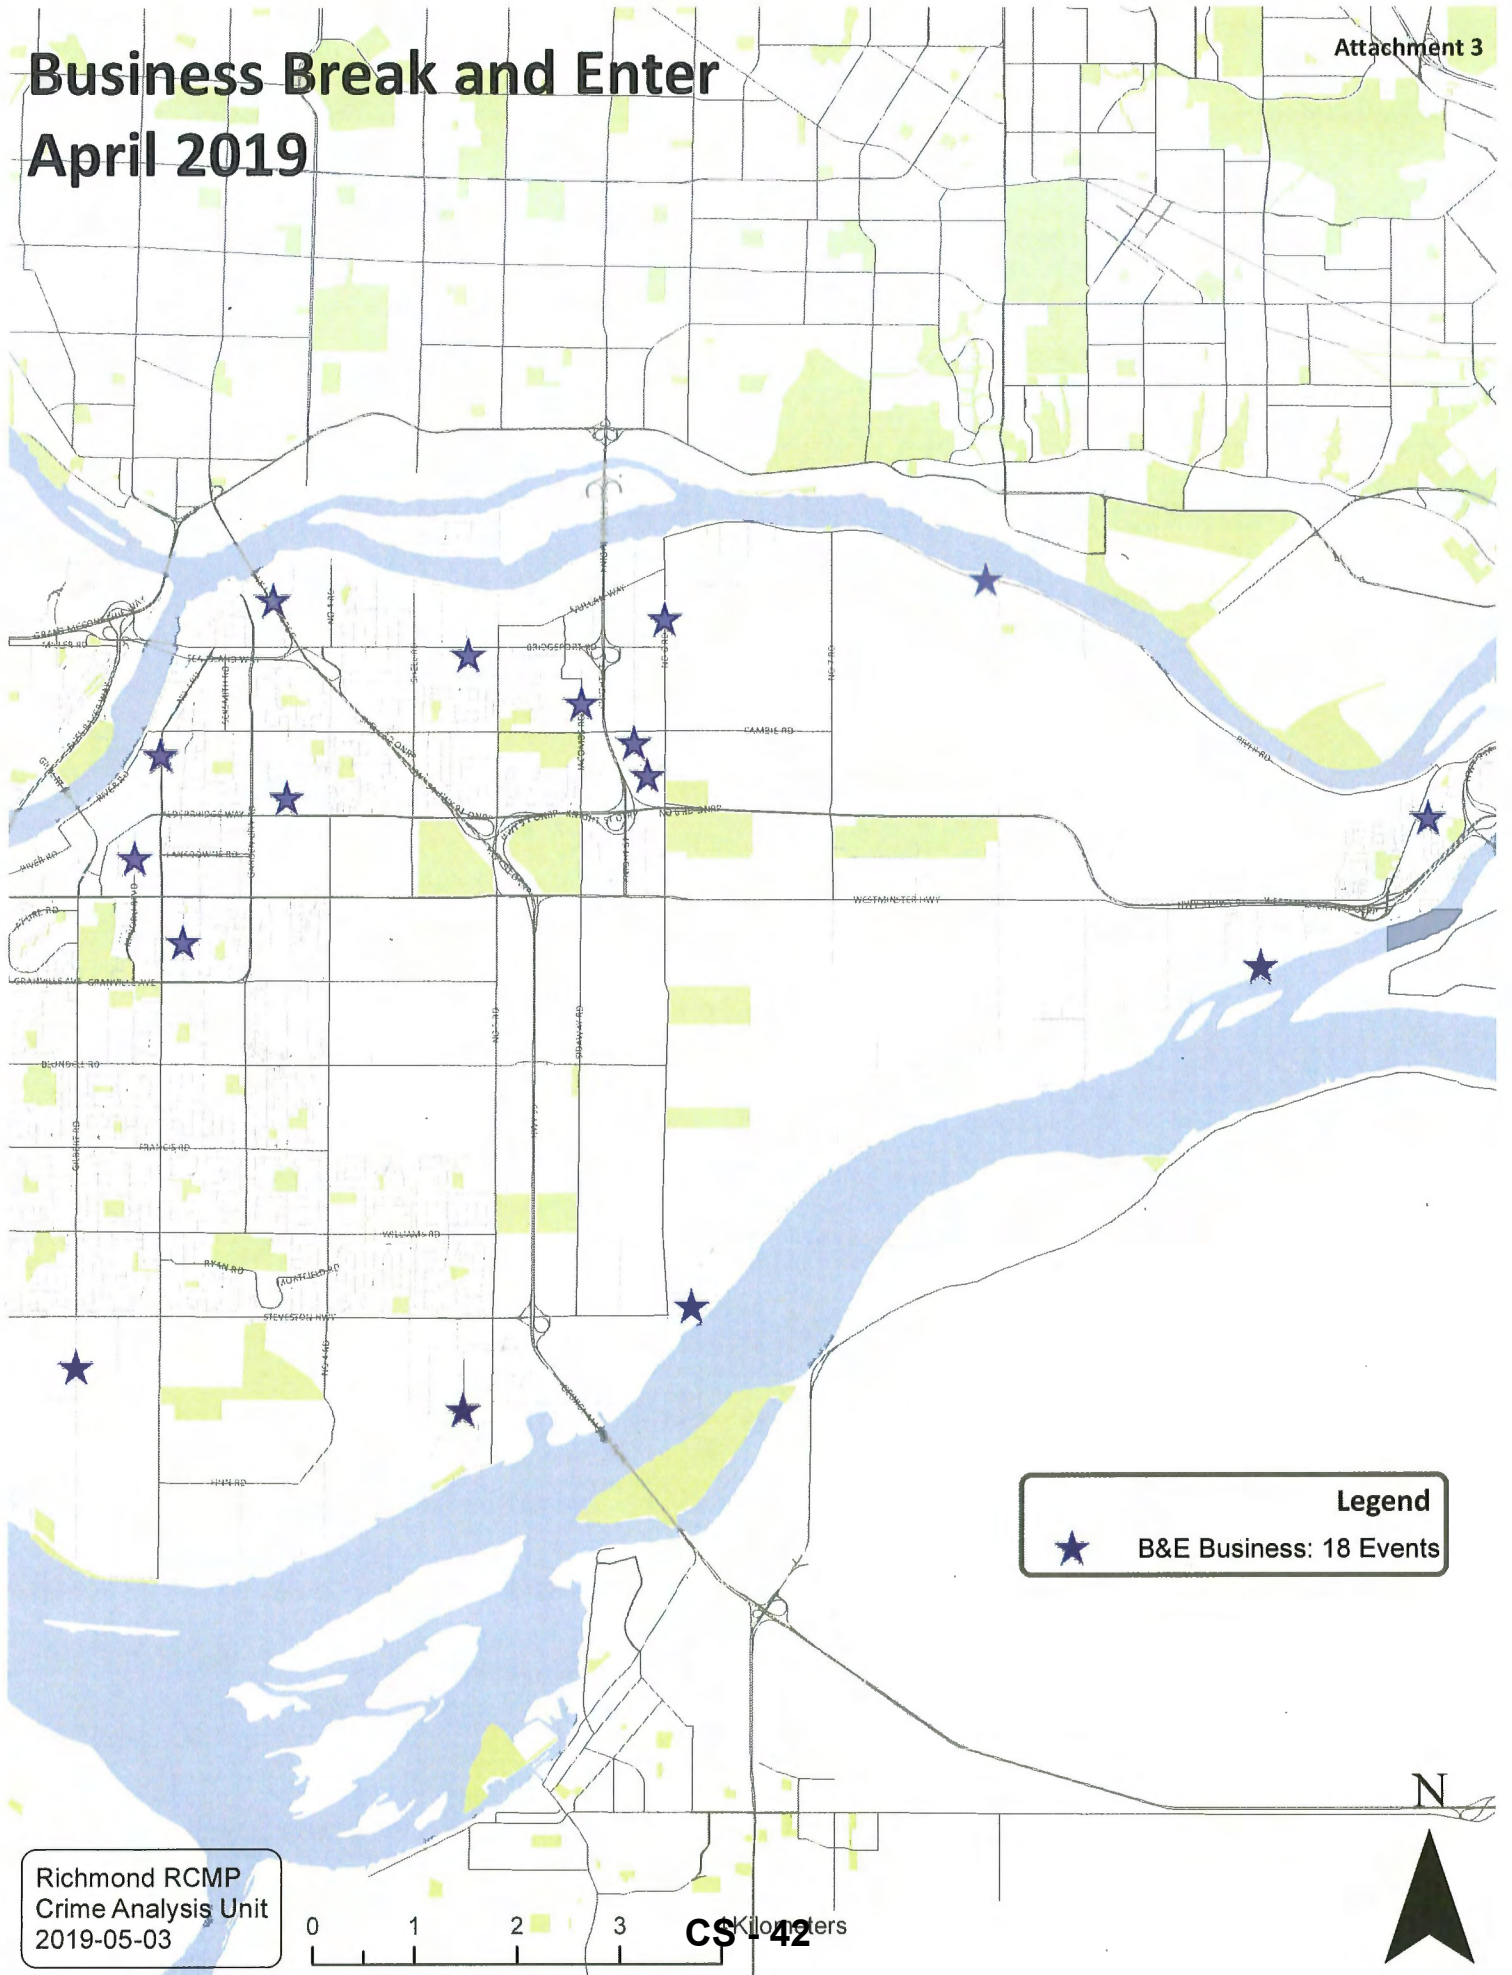

In 2019, changes were implemented regarding the collection of UCR data. The new standards provide much more stringent criteria to classify a file as unfounded. As a result, there will be an increase in many crime statistics, and clearance rates will conversely decline. This creates numerous challenges when comparing previous years' data. Full details on the Uniform Crime Reporting Survey are available at Statistics Canada: <https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/pub/85-002-x/2018001/article/54973-eng.htm>. For more information, contact Richmond Crime Analysts.

The 5 year average range data is based on activity within a single month over the past 5 years. If the current monthly total for an offence is above the expected average range (using one standard deviation) due to crime trends, patterns, or spikes, it will be noted in red. If the current monthly total for an offence is above the expected average range due to primarily non-operational reasons such as the new UCR standards or other scoring issues, the total will be noted in purple. Below expected numbers will be noted in blue.

Year-to-Date percentage change is used to numbers from the prior year, but the new CCIS/UCR standards reduce the utility of this metric. 2019 YTD numbers will be biased to increase from the 2018 totals, despite any positive police action.

Message from Superintendent Will Ng

The Block Watch program has been a significant part of our Community for many years. Sir Robert Peel, the founder of modern policing, once stated: police, at all times, should maintain a relationship with the public that gives reality to the historic tradition that the police are the public and the public are the police; the police being the only members of the public who are paid to give full-time attention to duties which are incumbent upon every citizen in the interests of community welfare and existence. This tradition remains true today and Block Watch is symbolic of the notion that the public are the police. As the Officer in Charge of the Richmond RCMP, I am committed to listening to the feedback of our Block Watch members and to find ways to enhance communication and engagement with the goal of making Richmond the safest community in Canada. Thank you for your continued leadership and support of the Block Watch program. Together, we will make our community safer.

Crime Prevention Tips: Secure Your Windows

- Windows are left unlocked more often than doors are—be sure to CLOSE and LOCK all windows before heading out and/or going to bed
- Most manufacturer's window locks are not strong enough to keep determined burglars out—install additional locks, such as a pin lock, sash window lock with key or wooden dowel as a visual deterrent
- The sound of breaking glass plays a very small role in deterring crime—install tempered glass or laminated glass so that multiple strikes are needed to break through the glass, creating more noise
- Window sensors only work if the window is pried open and not when burglars break the glass—install glass break detectors so that alarm will be triggered when it detects the sound of breaking glass
- Valuables that are in plain view attracts burglars—keep them out of sight, use blinds and window shades or install privacy film
- Burglars do attempt to break in through the second floor windows—make sure the windows on the second floor are also secured with additional locks and reinforced glass

Residential Break and Enter Point of Entries January to March 2019

4 D's of Crime Prevention

Deny — denying access, i.e. install fences/gates and make sure to lock them

Delay—slow down the process of an attack, i.e. by installing strike plates and additional door locks

Detect—install devices/systems to signal when an attempted or actual access has occurred, i.e. by installing motion-sensor lights and alarm system

Deter—enhance the perceived risk of detection and apprehension, being caught is the number one deterrence for criminals

Attempted Break and Enter : Access Denied!

One of our Block Captain reported an attempted break and enter at his residence. The window sensor triggered the alarm and a window screen was found damaged. No entry was gained as he placed a wooden dowel between the sliding window and the jamb to secure it and prevent it from being pried open. Upon further inspection, he noticed pry marks on his front door as well but again no entry was gained. Being a Block Captain, he set a great example by initiating home security and target hardening measures in his own home. Not only that, he also helped 3 other neighbours to upgrade their strike plates and cut dowels to secure the neighbours' windows after this incident. Strengthening the security of your house does help protect your property and reduce the risk of break and enters.

To start a Block Watch group:

1. Select a Block Captain and a Co-Captain

- ◇ Each Captain/Co-Captain must submit an application and be deemed a suitable candidate by passing a Criminal Record Check.

2. Recruit and build your group

- ◇ Recruit homes on your alley side, facing your front door and ends of the next block. Try and get at least 10 households to participate.

3. Captain and Co-Captain complete the Captains training session

4. Setup 1st Block Watch group meeting/ training session with participants

5. Activation of your group

- ◇ Submit a participating household list of your group then a Block Watch street sign will be provided and activation is complete.

BUSINESSES WORKING TOGETHER

Businesses that work together with the Richmond RCMP have proven effective results with combating business crime. On the 16th and 17th of January 2019, Richmond RCMP partnered with loss prevention officers to help make 30 arrests over the two day period. The Prolific Offender Suppression Team (POST), Property Crime Unit (PCU), General Duty, and just over 20 loss prevention officers took part in collaborating with 12 local businesses throughout the downtown core of Richmond in their efforts to combat business crimes. Corporal Dennis Hwang (Media Relations Officer) states that "Of those thirty arrests, twenty generated recommendations to the BC Prosecution Service. One prolific Richmond property crime offender was among the twenty that were arrested. Some arrests arose from suspects breaching the conditions of their release stemming from previous arrests."

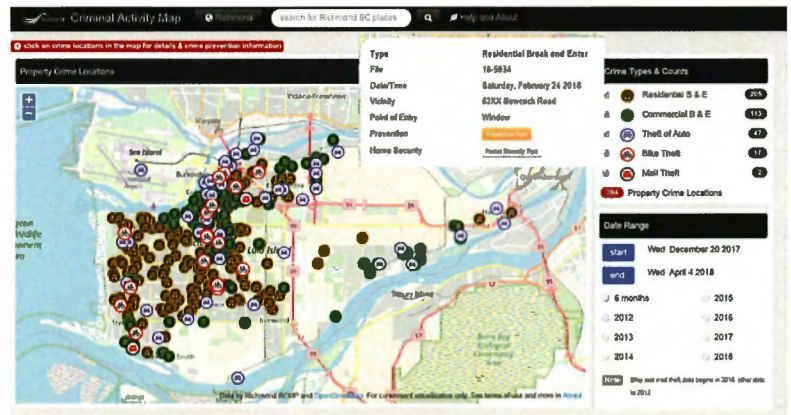

Items that were commonly stolen includes: alcohol, food, health and beauty products.

Thanks to the businesses in Richmond and the Richmond RCMP, the success of these arrests were made possible. You can also help with business crime by reporting suspicious activities to 604-278-1212 or dial 911 when you see a crime in progress.

Height Strips

Height strips are a useful tool in aiding employees, police officers and security officers to tell how tall a suspect(s) is when they are entering or leaving your business.
