1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

DA Architects + Planners were asked to facilitate a public consultation process for the Lingyen Mountain Temple's proposal to redevelop and expand their facilities on their land located at 10060 No. 5 Road. On June 23, 2015, an information-only Open House was held at the South Arm Community Centre. Previous Open House events presented design schemes for a much larger project proposed by James Cheng Architects Inc. The June 23rd Open House presented a reduced scheme that responded to the feedback received from the public.

The purpose of the Open House was to:

- provide an overview of the revised application for the Lingyen Buddhist Temple expansion.
- present preliminary design concept of the revised Temple development
- illustrate positive responses to issues identified at the prior Open House events
- gather feedback, suggestions, and opinions of the public about the new proposal.

Notification for the Open House replicated the methods used for the public consultation during the previous Open House events. Notification included Canada Post delivery of approximately 3,549 event flyers; advertisements placed in five print media; and, letters to stakeholder groups, local businesses, and political figures.

Approximately two hundred and ninety six (296) attendees signed in at the Public Open House held on June 23, 2015 between 6:30 – 8:30 PM (see Appendix D). The public was invited to view the presentation boards (see Appendix K) and ask questions of the project design team. Comment forms were provided for attendees to give their feedback (see Appendix B). Three hundred and fifty two (352) comment forms were submitted in paper form during the Open House event (see Appendix M). Comment form respondents were asked to provide feedback on the following:

- the reduced height and size of the project;
- the elimination of the Agricultural Land Reserve encroachment
- the traffic management strategies initiated by the temple for special events
- whether they were generally supportive of the revised proposal

The Open House display boards and the Questionnaire comment forms were made available online at www.lymtdevelop.com (see Appendix C). The attendees were given flyers containing the web address (see Appendix J) and encouraged to visit the web-site for information and as an option to provide their feedback in digital format until June 29th, when the results were collected and analyzed.

Ninety-seven percent (97%) of respondents indicated that they were in support of the Lingyen Mountain Temple’s proposed redevelopment and expansion. Overwhelming majority of the comments provided were positive. Many members of the community indicated that the existing facilities are congested and they welcome the much anticipated expansion. Others expressed how important the Temple is in their lives as a place of worship, spiritual sanctuary and educational facility for their children.

Next Steps

Throughout the next several month, the project team will endeavour to work with City of Richmond staff to prepare the Lingyen Mountain Temple proposal for presentation to Planning Committee.

The project team at this time includes:

1. DA Architects + Planners
2. Sharp & Diamond - Landscape Architect
3. Bunt & Associates - Traffic Consultant
4. McTavish Consultants – Agronomist

The Design team completed preliminary concept planning which is currently under review with the City of Richmond. The Open House was meant to provide the community a “snapshot” of the preliminary design work that responds to the concerns expressed about the previous larger proposal.

Our direct next step is to:

1. DA continue to develop, refine and coordinate the design.
2. Landscape – provides the level of detail appropriate for the rezoning application.
3. Bunt & Associates – The traffic consultant has been working with City of Richmond engineering staff to determine the terms of reference for the updated traffic report. When this is completed it will be submitted for City review and comment.
4. Agronomist – Bruce McTavish is updating the Farm Report, and the Pre and Post Development Runoff Calculations

2. NOTIFICATION METHODS SUMMARY

Notification for the Open House was similar to the methods used for the public consultation during the previous Open House events, and as suggested by the Planning Department.

Open House Invitation Flyer

Approximately 2,600 flyer invitations were distributed to residents and businesses by a Canada Post flyer drop off. The notification extended along No. 5 Road southward to Horseshoe Way, eastward to Shell Road to Blundell Road to the North. See Appendix D for a Map showing the distribution area.

Open House Format

Open House Event on June 23, 2015 was held to illustrate the new design proposal and gather feedback from the community regarding the revised proposal that has been reduced and updated to respond to the key issues raised in the previous Open House Events #1 and #2, to do with size and scale of the project, traffic management and ALR encroachment.

The attendees were encouraged to sign in at a table placed near the entrance to the event space. The sign-in sheet requested attendees to indicate if they were a resident of Richmond or not. As well, the sign in sheet requested attendees' names, address/email and phone number. Members of the Lingyen Mountain Temple design team were available to receive feedback and answer questions during the event. Attendees were invited to review display boards placed around the room (see Appendix I). Several display boards provided comparison between the last Temple Development Proposal submitted in April 2014 and the current design. Major part of the display boards was dedicated to explaining the current proposal in terms of planning, architectural character and relationship to context. The architectural presentation was supported by presentation boards prepared by the Landscape Architect, Agricultural and Transportation Consultants.

In the centre of the room several tables with Questionnaire forms were placed where the attendees were encouraged to give their feedback and leave the completed forms in the drop box at the sign-in table up front. All the information presented at the Open House, as well as the Questionnaire forms were made available online at www.lymtdevelop.com . Flyers containing the web-site address (see Appendix) were distributed during the event and the participants were given an option of providing their feedback either online, or in a paper form during the Open House Event.

4. FEEDBACK SUMMARY

Feedback was received through Questionnaire forms that were submitted during the June 23rd Open House in paper form (see Appendix B) or uploaded to the web-site (www.lymtdevelop.com) by June 29th (see Appendix C). Questionnaire form questions were phrased with the assumption that respondents had read the Open House boards or reviewed them online. The comment forms asked the respondents to provide a Yes/No answer to the questions listed below, as well as asking for General Comments on the project.

1. Architecture/ALR Encroachment (height and size): The height and size of the project has been reduced and Agricultural Land Reserve encroachment eliminated since April 2014 rezoning application. Do you support these changes to the project?"
2. Traffic and Parking: "The temple has initiated Traffic Management Strategies for special events in the last couple years. In your experience has this improved the traffic?"
3. Overall Thoughts: "Are you generally supportive of the revised proposal?"

Of the 352 Questionnaire forms submitted at the Open House, 351 (99%) were in support of the Revised Lingyen Temple Development Proposal. This approval rating was mirrored by the data re-examined based on households. Some households were represented by numerous comment form submissions. When the respondent data is reassessed on the basis of one comment form per household, however, the total submission amount during the Open House is reduced to 227 households. Of these households, 226 (99%) were in support of the proposal while 1% were opposed (See Appendix A for all Questionnaire Form Summary Tables, Appendix E for Questionnaire Transcription and Appendix M for the original scans).

Respondents were asked whether they were supportive of the changes made to the current proposal as compared to the one submitted for review in April 2014. One hundred percent (100%) of respondents indicated that they liked the new direction of the design. Respondents were also asked to indicate their thoughts on the traffic mitigation and parking control measures proposed. Ninety seven percent (97.4%) of respondents felt that the measures proposed were sufficient, 0.6% did not and 2% indicated they were not sure one way or another.

Respondents' negative sentiments generally included:

- The temple is trying to create a tourist destination.
- The temple's height is out of proportion to the existing buildings in this area.
- There will be an increased traffic volume in the neighborhood causing traffic congestion.

Website Feedback

A total of 176 comments have been received via the Lingyen Mountain Temple Consultation Website (<http://www.lymtdevelop.com>) between June 23rd and June 29th. 173 (98%) were supportive of the Temple expansion, and spoke of how it will benefit the community (see Appendix H for the transcript of Website Feedback). A total of 121 households have been identified in the analysis of the feedback received online, 75% of which lived in Richmond, while 25% did not (see Appendix F for web-site Questionnaire Transcription).

Two percent (2%) of the online respondents were opposed to the changes made to the proposal, one percent (1%) was unsure and ninety seven percent (97%) were in favor of the new direction. Three and a half percent (3.5%) did not think that the traffic management utilized by the Temple was adequate, eight and a half percent (8.5%) were unsure and eighty eight percent (88%) thought that the Temple was effective in managing traffic during special events. An overwhelming majority of the online respondents were generally in favour of the revised proposal at ninety eight percent (98%), with only one individual opposed and two that were unsure.

Total Feedback Summary

The Questionnaire forms received during the Open House were cross-referenced with the Questionnaire forms received online to identify 528 unique individual submissions. These were further assessed to find 6 households where some members of the household have attended the Open House event while others filled out the Questionnaire forms online. Thus this report was able to identify 342 unique households that submitted Questionnaire forms either on the web-site or during the Open House Event. The majority of the respondents (90%) live in Richmond, while 10% do not. (see the Total Feedback Summary Tables per individual and per household in Appendix A)

Left Hand turns into the development will be an issue. Restricting the access to Right Turn In and Right Turn Out as has been done with other local developments would greatly reduce the probability of accidents and keep traffic flowing in adjacent lanes of traffic. |

| Yes | No | Yes | Lingyen Mountain Temple brings great peace and happiness to all its disciples and visitors. Who would want to destroy a place of piece? Buddhism is a wonderful religion and people should respect that and help it grow just as they would with their beliefs. If others are concerned with this, they should first focus on expanding and realizing their own beliefs first, rather than criticizing other's. The new temple will only bring peace, happiness and joy. So why go against it? |

Agricultural Land Strategies:

Current proposal remains within the 110m setback zone in order to maximize the agricultural potential of the ALR land on the remainder of the site.

Current and Potential Agriculture Uses

The Lingyen Temple has always farmed the Temple backlands. In 2010 a detailed assessment was undertaken of the soil and drainage characteristics of the Temple lands to determine the agricultural capability. The farm plan is being updated for 2015.

Current Agriculture Use:

The temple has a 6 acre orchard with 400 fruit trees and a further 6.5 acres are in forage.

Agricultural Capability of the Lingyen Mountain Temple Land

The agricultural capability of land is determined by the climate and soils of the area. In general the climate will determine the range of crops and the soil will determine the type and extent of agricultural management practices that must be applied.

Current unimproved classification

The current agricultural classification is 4W. Land in this class has limitations that require special management practices or a severely restricted range of crops or both. This specific site has a sub classification of W which indicates that there is frequent or continuous occurrence of excess water during the growing period causing moderate crop damage and occasional crop loss.

Improved classification

As part of the proposed temple expansion the temple backlands will be improved by the installation of subsurface drains and improved surface drainage. This will improve the land to a class 2WD capability. Class 2 land has minor limitations that require good ongoing management practise, or slightly restrict the range of crops, or both. The "D" subclass indicates that there is a root restricting layer within 50 to 75cm of the mineral soil surface.

Updated Information based on the Current Proposal

The Lingyen Mountain Temple has updated their farm plan based on the present temple proposal.

Proposed Crops

- Existing fruit trees will remain and their production will be improved by the proposed drainage. Fruit will continue to be used by the Temple and donated to local charities.
- Approximately 2.8 acres of land closest to No. 5 road will be planted with Blueberries and Haskap berries. These berries will be used by the temple and donated to local charities.
- Approximately 4.5 acres of land closest to Highway 99 will be a tree nursery specializing in large high quality trees for the local landscape market.

Rationale for Crop Choices

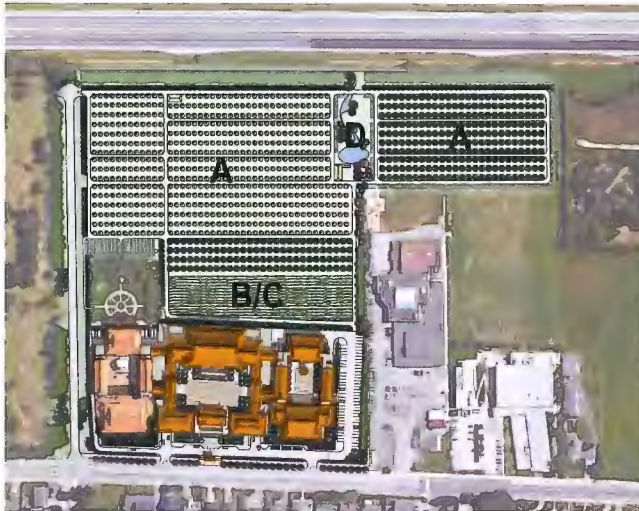

Blueberries and Haskap Berries

- Ideal soil for production of both Blueberries and Haskap berries
- Haskap berry varieties developed in Canada can be successfully grown without pesticides. They also have higher antioxidants than blueberries.
- Complements the existing fruit tree production.
- Both can be grown organically without use of pesticides which fits with the Buddhist philosophy

Tree Nursery

- The soil is ideal for field tree production.
- Most trees will be native to the lower mainland and will not require application of pesticides which fits with the Buddhist philosophy.
- Management inputs are relatively low and can be managed by the Temple.
- Close to markets in Vancouver, Richmond and Delta.

General Comments: almost every weekends, I went to temple for worship and make wishes, that become a part life of mine. I experienced every changes although, lots of people went there. The management of traffic was well controlled. I support for rezoning and expand new construction to hold more people get there (for mainly for proactive activities). It is better for our community.

General Comments: I am a resident in Richmond, and I think the temple has done a good job in promoting the ideas of charity. What they have been doing is offering free lunches for visitors, helping can do so much within a community especially with limited resources and facilities I think expansion will create more opportunities for people to know what

General Comments: They encourage people to become vegetarians. It's not only because of religione but also for the sake of health. Their starting point is to promote peace. I believe that more people will be benefited if the expansion proposal is approved.

意見：

我很希望今次行建計劃可以批准，因為每每逢周日的文和同日的小朋友上班，真是太擠了。比中國的學校都差很多。我們有這麼好的因緣可以去靈巖山寺學可，希望有更好的環境可以給小朋友上學。謝謝！

The meeting was a round table open forum workshop. It opened with a project overview presentation by DA Architects, followed by comments / questions from the attendees.

- Randy Knill (RK) opened the meeting at 7pm.
- Questionnaires and comment forms were provided to all attendees (see attached).
- RK asked that everyone present introduce themselves.
- RK presented a history of the Temple project, which included how DA became the project Architect, and a history of the previous James Cheng Architects submissions.

Group concerns, questions, and discussion items:

1. Traffic / Parking:

- a. DA current proposal has the majority of the parking (approx. 377 cars) hidden within a covered parking structure, below the temple buildings. The group indicated this is a much better and practical solution than past proposals.

- b. For the 3 large annual Temple Celebration Days (Chinese New Year's, Buddha's Birthday, and The Temple Opening Anniversary), the proposed 377 parking stalls may not be adequate. Lingyen has signed agreements with Winners and other institutions along No. 5 road to share parking, and has committed to provide shuttle busses and traffic directing persons. These agreements have been given to The City. The group generally agreed this was an improvement.
- c. No. 5 Rd existing traffic is already at high volumes and considered "dangerous", due to excessive speeds. Traffic is generated by many users, not just Lingyen.
- d. Most No. 5 Rd. traffic is moving southbound, and bottlenecks at Steveston Hwy. Much of this southbound traffic is generated by "rat-runners" using No. 5 Rd. as a means of short-cutting the Hwy. 99 Massey Tunnel backups. It was noted that the resultant problems at the No 5 Rd / Steveston Hwy intersection, and the Steveston Hwy on - ramp to Hwy 99 would be remedied when / if the new Massey Bridge project proceeds and that No. 5 road traffic volumes during peak hours would be greatly reduced.
- e. Attendees commented that a median strip, or concrete curbing (as installed at "The Gardens"), running the full length of No 5 Road would allow for left turn in, and only right turn out from the eastern sites. This would help reduce the traffic congestion and "dangerous" left turn out conditions. The concrete median causes problems, however for residents along No 5 Road.
- f. Attendees commented that much of the existing hazardous conditions at Williams and No 5 Rd. arise from parents dropping their children off at the neighbouring Church School south of the Lingyen site. Common traffic patterns have parents turning right onto No. 5 from Williams Rd., then weaving to the centre lane to turn left into the school parking lot.
 - i. A recommendation made by attendees was to allow eastbound Williams Rd. traffic to continue across No. 5 Rd. intersection and enter the Lingyen Site from the north property line. Cars would then turn south (right) and enter the Lingyen site using the proposed laneway running parallel to No. 5 Rd. Cars would continue across the Lingyen site and enter the temple parking, or continue south and enter the Church School grounds via a newly cut access. Attendees felt that this would remove much of the congestion and the perceived dangerous "maneuvering" the parents were making under the current traffic conditions.
 - ii. DA promised to bring this idea to the attention of the City Traffic Planners and to our Traffic Consultant for review and comment.
- g. Distribute traffic load when exiting the Lingyen site. Concern that all Temple practitioners would leave the Temple at the same time was addressed by DA. Historically, the temple users do not all leave at the same time, but are distributed over several hours.

- h. Attendees also noted:
- i. No. 5 Rd. / Steveston Hwy intersection congestion is an existing big problem.
 - ii. Might need a traffic light at Seacliff and No. 5 Rd.
 - iii. Concern for "added load to an already busy street" on No. 5 Rd.
 - iv. Tandem dump trucks and semi-trailers, as many as 40 at a time, running southbound and clogging intersection at No. 5 and Steveston Hwy.
 - v. Rice Mill Rd. joining Steveston Hwy. discussed as a "hopeful" traffic improvement for future.
 - vi. Port of Vancouver wants to open Blundell access to Hwy 99 for truck access route. Attendees noted this would be "a nightmare" and that Blundell is not designed to carry this additional load or truck traffic.
 - vii. Future Massey Bridge (Tunnel Replacement)
 1. Carol Day noted that in a presentation given by MoTI at their recent presentation (Oct 30), that 60% of Hwy 99 existing northbound traffic is Richmond-bound and exits the 99 before reaching the Oak St. Bridge. This was presented and received with skepticism. Belief was that the existing tunnel bottlenecks would transfer to the Oak St. Bridge.
 2. Prior to Massey Bridge proposal, the Province would not entertain widening of the Steveston Hwy exit due to the existing watercourse. Now that the bridge is gaining momentum, the watercourse has disappeared as a Provincial concern.

2. Building Height / Size / Placement:

- a. Size of the overall project was presented to be much smaller than previous proposals. All attendees agreed that changes in height and overall scale were improvements from previous submissions. Some concern about the new height was expressed.
- b. DA confirmed that the new proposal does not encroach into ALR land as previous proposals had. This was favourably received by the group.
- c. Tallest building (main temple) is 85' tall, with flanking buildings max. height of 70'. Greatly reduced from previous submissions. Some concern that if approved, other places of worship may wish to build taller structures. (Pandora's box syndrome)
- d. Asked if the main temple height could be reduced to 70', DA responded that it would be difficult to achieve due to the historic traditional architectural proportion system the temple is based on. DA noted that the building was set back and away from No. 5 Rd. and that the one storey buildings (in conformance with the 12m height allowance) closer to No. 5 Rd. would block much of the view to the larger temple building beyond.
- e. Building height concerns were that the DA proposal might have similar building heights as the Cheng Architects proposal. DA presented the new proposal and much of the attendees concerns were addressed. They saw that the building heights were greatly reduced and other than the main temple building located back from No. 5 Rd, all the new buildings would be built at the same height or lower than the existing temple buildings. Also, the Main Buddha Hall is approximately 1/3 the floor area of the previous proposal, which was favourably received.

3. Building Use:

- a. How many people stay at the Temple, and where? The Group had the opinion that up to 450 residents would be at Lingyen.
 - i. DA confirmed that the proposed numbers of resident nuns / monks, as well as "sleep-over" guests/workshop attendees were greatly reduced from past proposals. Approximately 50 nuns and 30 monks would be residents, and approx. 80 workshop guests (maximum) are anticipated by the Temple.
 - ii. Residents, as well as guests sleep in very basic dormitory facilities. A platform style bed, with a small cupboard for personal belongings is all that is provided. There are no "private hotel style rooms", VIP apartment suites, or resort facilities available for residents or guests..
- b. Where is Buddha statue?
 - i. Concern that the Buddha would be visible from No. 5 Rd. DA verified that the new Buddha statue would be located within the new main temple building back from No. 5 Rd. and not visible from No. 5 Rd.
 - ii. Concerns about sightlines to the existing / future Buddha(s) statues. DA presented the Landscape Architects plans showing proposed tree plantings across the front of the existing and adjacent proposed building sites, as well as the proposed pedestrian / cycling path bordering No. 5 Rd. "These are pretty drawings that Architects generate" was one attendee's comment. Others seemed to have concerns put to rest that landscaping was being proposed.
4. Business cards were distributed by DA, with encouragement to share further comments.
5. When DA asked attendees whether the meeting was helpful, the response was a unanimous "yes".
6. Questionnaires were gathered, and additional questionnaires distributed for filling in by people who could not attend meeting (Subsequently, several questionnaires have been sent to DA and are included in this report package)

MEETING ADJURED approx. 9pm.

RE: Lingyen Temple expansion

A group of concerned neighbors attended a small workshop with Randy Knill of DA Architects to review the 2015 revised plan for the Lingyen temple expansion. The Architect gave us a review of the new plans and then asked for comments from the group, here are some of the comments and questions I heard.

The new proposal is much smaller than the other proposals, we are happy.

The temple has parking for the cars under the new complex this is better.

Can the temple have access from Williams road if it was extended? DA Architects will ask the city.

Can we have a median along No. 5 road to stop car turning into temple south bound? Maybe the architect will ask.

We might need a traffic light at Seacliff and No. 5 Road.

The new main Temple is 85' can that be reduced to be the same as the existing temple 70'? Prefer not to.

Are we opening Pandora's Box to the other temples asking for 85'?

How many people can have sleep ,over's at the new temple? 50 Nuns. , 30 monks and 80 guests.

Does this new plan affect any farmland over the 110 meters currently allowed? No

How many cars can park at the temple ? 377 cars

Where will the extra cars park during big events? Temple has signed agreements with Winners store and other institutions along No. 5 Road. They also have shuttles and traffic people who will help during three large events a year.

Please fill out the comment form before Friday Nov 6th, 2015 if you want your comments to be part of this workshop.

Thanks Carol Day

LINGYEN MOUNTAIN TEMPLE – QUESTIONNAIRE

COMMENTS:

Parking and Traffic have always been a major concern. Residents have been forced to live with cars parking on residential roads and major traffic congestion on No. 5 Road.

The parking complex under the temple is an excellent idea.

Traffic congestion can only be controlled with right in right out access on No. 5 Road to Temple and a new entrance off Williams road. Allowing for a East Bound lane on # 5 Road and Access from Williams Road, East of No # 5 Road, will solve current and future traffic congestion.

LINGYEN MOUNTAIN TEMPLE – QUESTIONNAIRE

COMMENTS:

1. Height is an issue, but perhaps it is because it is going to be a huge change outside our window & whatever any one says...it is definitely going to be in our face!! I have just discussed with Carol Day the 12m bylaw issue [that you responded with to my email] & the more recent comparison of other temples along No.5 Road, so I will concede that this proposal you have worked hard to comply with the neighbours and we will have to say goodbye to the open space in front of us and our view of Mount Baker.

2. TRAFFIC: a left hand turn lane is a good consideration BUT the suggestion of going thru on Williams and flowing with the traffic light is an excellent proposal which I totally support. You would have a straight thru lane from Williams and best to have a left hand turn light traveling south on No5 Rd, and folk could turn Rt heading North on No.5 Road. They could travel down the side of the temple to not create any back up on the Street, then make a right on the existing driveway behind the existing temple complex and straight into the parkade. Then the proposed plan of entering at N end of property where they presently enter should be made an EXIT ONLY to accomodate Delivery trucks and be a "right turn only"

I DO NOT support the idea of a median down No.5 Road...that would mean all of us on the street would not be able to turn left-going north into our own driveways!! If anyone has to drive around blocks Or down back lanes [which we don't want to become a main thoroughfare] to get to & from their destination, it should be the folk going & coming from the temple ... NOT the neighbourhood & and our visitors.

3. OVERNIGHT USE: the 100 is probably the more realistic use at retreat time which would include Nuns/ Monks [which I keep telling them to leave the Monks in Taiwan!!] I might add here for a "plug" for the temple ...it is my understanding that the temple in initial stages of development PAID THEMSELVES for the upgrade in sewer etc infrastructure..so that could be checked out...[thank you Randy for responding that all the similar costs to be incurred in the future are being taken care of by them & not the taxpayer]

VIP. SUITES make smile...there is nothing VIP about the hard boards they /guests alike sleep on!! mind you I have never seen where the Grand master sleeps when HE comes to town!! haha

I have never seen 80 guests/sleepovers/retreaters at one time either!...but of course we are considering the "future" here in our discussion of proposal.

4. A flashing light at Seacliff & No.5 might help a little instead of just the crosswalk light BUT really at high traffic events they employ traffic directors which manages things well & I don't see this resolving anything. I think this addresses our thoughts about what the meeting was about & apologize again that I could not be there to meet & participate in person. THANK YOU for giving me this opportunity to have input.

The nuns are very good neighbours & I have appreciated the dialogue between us.

best regard, Lenore Radom
