DELEGATIONS

1. Kate Humble, on behalf of Parks Canada, and Tenney Homma, granddaughter of Tomekichi Homma, spoke on the addition of a plaque recognizing the National Historic Event related to Tomekichi Homma at the Japanese Fishermens' Benevolent Society (JFBS) building.

Ms. Humble noted the JFBS building is appropriate due to connections with Tomekichi Homma and with the Japanese Canadians who fundraised to help support the legal fees of Mr. Homma in the National Historic Event known as Cunninham v. Homma. Ms. Homma noted it has taken 13 years to locate an appropriate location for the permanent installation of the plaque, and that the installation at the JFBS building would be an honour to Mr. Homma's legacy.

Parks, Recreation & Cultural Services Committee
Tuesday, May 27, 2025

In response to queries from Committee, the delegation noted (i) the steps taken to identify a permanent location to secure the plaque, and (ii) that there has not been any discussion with Richmond School District #38 pertaining to the plaque.

Two additional letters of support were provided on table (attached to and forming part of these minutes as Schedule 1).

- 1A. Jim Tanaka spoke to his submission, including signed petitions proposing the installation of the plaque recognizing the National Historic Event related to Tomekichi Homma be installed at the Homma Elementary School. A further page of signed petitions in support was provided on-table (attached to and forming part of these minutes as Schedule 2).

In addition to the information submitted, Mr. Tanaka noted, (i) the proposed plaque installation at Homma Elementary School ensures Mr. Homma's legacy endures, (ii) it is the most appropriate, suitable and visible location to honour Mr. Homma, providing the opportunity of a brief history of Mr. Homma's achievements within a building also complimented by Japanese inspired design, and (iii) public access would be by appointment during school hours.

Discussion ensued regarding the opportunity to honour Mr. Homma in both locations (JFBX building and Homma Elementary School), with the National Historic Event plaque to be installed at the JBFS building, and to also consider a second plaque or something significant within Homma Elementary School that further honours the history of Mr. Homma and the Japanese Canadian community.

It was moved and seconded

That the proposed location for the installation of the National Historic Event Designation Cunningham v. Tomey Homma plaque, in the front garden of the Japanese Benevolent Fishermen's Society Building, be supported in principle, and that the application process for the associated Heritage Alteration Permit required for the building, proceed.

The question on the motion was not called as discussion ensued noting (i) the 125th anniversary of the important landmark legal case Cunningham v. Homma, (ii) the importance of the JBFS heritage building that will remain in place, updated and preserved, providing a permanent location for the National Historic Event plaque, and (iii) concern expressed with respect to encouraging the public to access the school to view the historical plaque.

Parks, Recreation & Cultural Services Committee
Tuesday, May 27, 2025

The following referral motion was then introduced:

It was moved and seconded

That the presentation from Jim Tanaka at the May 27, 2025 Parks, Recreation and Cultural Services Committee meeting, regarding the proposed additional plaque recognizing the National Historical Event related to Tomekichi Homma at Homma Elementary School, be referred to the Council/School Board Liaison Committee.

The question on the referral motion was not called as staff reported they had reached out to Richmond School District No. 38 earlier who advised they are checking if there are any guidelines or policies to be considered, and that the matter would need to be considered by the Richmond School Board.

The question on the referral motion was then called and it was CARRIED.

The question on the main motion was then called and it was CARRIED.

3. PROPOSED PRACTICES TO ACCELERATE BLACKBERRY MANAGEMENT IN RICHMOND

(File Ref. No. 10-6160-07-01) (REDMS No. 7808159)

In response to queries from Committee, staff noted (i) with the proposed pilot of Option 1, staff would focus on pedestrian trails, park areas and multi-use pathways, with exact locations to be determined, (ii) approximately 10 years ago the use of sheep or goats was considered for invasive species management, however it was determined to be cost prohibitive, (iii) the effect of repeated mowing would be an effective control method, however fully eradicating blackberry is challenging because of how its seed is disbursed, (iv) developed park areas such as Railway Greenway and Garden City Lands, are good examples where blackberry is effectively being managed, having had the sites cleared, replanted with new vegetation and at that time considered to be clean and free of blackberry, and (v) the City has not used pesticides on blackberry; the use of pesticides would need Council endorsement and could only be used in areas not accessible by residents.

Cognizant of the budgetary impact, Committee noted Option 2 provides a commitment to accelerate blackberry management and achieve greater success in significantly reducing the rate of blackberry growth in multiple areas.

It was moved and seconded

That Option 2, as outlined in the staff report titled “Proposed Practices to Accelerate Blackberry Management in Richmond”, dated May 5, 2025, from the Director, Climate and Environment and the Director, Parks Services, for the implementation of an annual blackberry management program be approved.

CARRIED

4. HUGH BOYD COMMUNITY PARK PLAYGROUND RENEWAL – ENGAGEMENT RESULTS AND NEXT STEPS

(File Ref. No. 06-2345-20-HBOY1) (REDMS No. 8006401)

In response to queries from Committee, staff noted (i) end of life for parks playground equipment is approximately 18 years; in this case it has been 16 years since the last update to the western side of the park playground, (ii) a playground fund is brought forward as part of the capital submission every year and typically identifies one to four playgrounds from a revolving list of required equipment replacements, and (iii) the playground is open for everyone to use.

Parks, Recreation & Cultural Services Committee
Tuesday, May 27, 2025

It was moved and seconded

- (1) That the priorities and scope as outlined in the Playground Renewal section in the staff report titled “Hugh Boyd Community Park Playground Renewal – Engagement Results and Next Steps”, dated May 5, 2025, from the Director, Park Services, be approved; and
- (2) That staff proceed with next steps as outlined in the staff report titled “Hugh Boyd Community Park Playground Renewal – Engagement Results and Next Steps”, dated May 5, 2025, from the Director, Park Services.

Dear Mayor and Council,

I strongly support the placement of the plaque commemorating Tomekichi "Tomey" Homma's Legal Case at the Japanese Fishermen's Benevolent Society Building (JFBSB).

- Placing the plaque at the JFBS building will serve as an educational resource to cultivate greater visibility and raise public awareness and understanding of the early Japanese settlers in a public space in the heart of historic Steveston.
- The current renewal landscape plan outside the JFBS building could incorporate the plaque, this is in progress by the City of Richmond's Culture team.
- The plaque promotes and preserves an aspect of Japanese Canadian history, heritage and contribution that can be shared with a broad audience.
- The plaque's location would be across the street where people can conveniently view the Nikkei Stories short video, Tomekichi Homma, Man of the Times on their cellphones. Information about Tomey would be centralized for those who are interested in learning more about his life.
- Tomey Homma was instrumental in fundraising and arranging support for the building of the Japanese Benevolent Fisherman's Society Building in Steveston and was the President of this society for many years. The connection to the JBS could be easily seen and enhance the story of the JBFSB and its work during a difficult era.

The plaque recognizes the historic contribution to the hard-fought, long-awaited struggle for fundamental rights of citizenship. This placement is central to the story of Tomey Homma, and the Japanese Community that he fought for.

As this commemoration belongs to all citizens it should not be encumbered by placement in a location whereby access could be restricted by competing agendas more than in a public space. An example of this would be a school where access would require special dispensation during school hours or on certain dates due to the school calendar.

Dear Mayor and Council:

Re: TK Homma Commemorative Plaque Installation

The Steveston Community Society supports the placement of the plaque commemorating Tomekichi "Tomey" Homma's Legal Case at the Japanese Fishermen's Benevolent Society Building (JFBSB).

As this commemoration belongs to all citizens, it should not be encumbered by placement in a location whereby access could be restricted by competing agendas. By placing the plaque at the JFSB building, this will serve as an education resource to cultivate greater visibility and raise public awareness and understanding of the early Japanese settlers in a public space in the heart of historic Steveston.

The current renewal landscape plan outside the JFBS building that is in progress by the City of Richmond's Culture team, could incorporate the plaque that promotes and preserves an aspect of Japanese Canadian history, heritage and contribution that can be shared with a broad audience.

The plaque's location would also be across the street where people can conveniently view the Nikkei Stories short video, Tomekichi Homma, Man of the Times on their cellphones. Information about Tomey would be centralized for those who are interested in learning more about his life.

The plaque recognizes the historic contribution to the hard-fought, long-awaited struggle for fundamental rights of citizenship. This placement is central to the story of Tomey Homma, and the Japanese Community that he fought for and is best placed at the JFBSB.

Analysis

Provincial Context for Recent Chinese Canadian History Projects

In recent years there has been a growing interest in sharing the history of the Chinese Canadian community in British Columbia.

In 2014, the Provincial Government apologized for the historical wrongs imposed on Chinese Canadians by past provincial governments. Following this apology, there have been several significant initiatives to share Chinese Canadian history in British Columbia at both the provincial and local level.

Some notable history projects include:

- The Province's production of the 180-page coffee table book Celebration: Chinese Canadian Legacies in British Columbia in 2018 which seeks to increase awareness of past discriminatory practices and celebrate Chinese Canadian heritage and the community's achievements. The concept for this book came out of the historical wrongs consultation process and the book's curation was led by the Legacy Initiatives Advisory Council. The digital book is currently available in English at no cost (Attachment 1).

- The Chinese Canadian Museum Society of BC (CCMS) was formed in 2020 with the mandate to honour and share Chinese Canadian history, contributions, and living heritage with aspirations to build a dedicated museum. The vision of the CCMS to open a permanent museum was realized in 2023, when the Chinese Canadian Museum (CCM) celebrated its grand opening in the historic Wing Sang building in Vancouver's Chinatown. Since its inception, CCMS has produced a number of exhibitions about Chinese Canadians in BC which have been displayed at the CCM and in various communities across BC and Canada. Most notably, the inaugural exhibition A Seat at the Table: Chinese Immigration and British Columbia explored historical and contemporary stories of Chinese Canadians in BC and their struggles for belonging. To accompany the exhibition the CCM produced an exhibition catalogue which is available in three languages at a cost of $45 each (Attachment 2).
- In 2017, the Burnaby Village Museum (BVM) began a project to share the history of the Chinese community in Burnaby through interpretive signage. An advisory group was created and dedicated staff were hired to carry out research and community engagement. As a result of feedback gained through the community engagement process, the initial signage project expanded to include the exhibition Across the Pacific which shares Chinese Canadian history in Burnaby. Following the exhibit, the advisory group conceived of a coffee table book that builds upon the stories heard through their previous research and engagement. Published by the BVM in 2023, the book titled, Rooted: Chinese Canadian stories in Burnaby, celebrates the legacy and contributions of Burnaby's Chinese Canadian community over a century in three languages. This project was eight years in the making with a staff position created to lead the research, community engagement, writing and project management. The digital book is currently available in English and Traditional Chinese and English and Simplified Chinese at no cost (Attachment 3).

Opportunities to Learn About Chinese Canadian History in Richmond

Since its most early settlement by non-Indigenous peoples, people of Chinese descent have been an integral part of the Richmond community. From building early dike and road infrastructure and working in the canneries, to the fruitful market gardens of the early 20th century, to later waves of migration from Hong Kong, Taiwan, and mainland China, Chinese people have helped shape Richmond.

Currently there is no publication dedicated to the history of Chinese Canadians in Richmond. However, there are a number of opportunities for residents and visitors to learn about this rich history in other ways, including:

- At the Britannia Shipyards National Historic Site and the Gulf of Georgia Cannery National Historic Site, visitors can learn about the stories of Chinese labourers who came to Richmond to participate in the fishing industry at the end of the 19th century. In particular, the Chinese Bunkhouse at Britannia Shipyards offers a permanent exhibit on the stories of hardship and hope Chinese men experienced as they laboured in Steveston canneries from the late 1880s into the 1920s. The exhibit recreates the living quarters of Chinese migrants and the various jobs available to them at this time and includes a 9-minute documentary video, Hardship and Hope: The Chinese Cannery Workers of Steveston, about the living conditions in a bunkhouse, home to the Chinese men who worked in canneries.

- Over the years, the Richmond Museum has shared stories of Chinese Canadians in Richmond through various exhibits and programs. This includes:
 - regularly incorporating Chinese Canadian stories in the program of temporary exhibitions;
 - a past exhibit featuring the Hong Wo Store; and
 - an education kit for school teachers called Knocking on Rich Man's Gate where students can learn about the trials and tribulations of early Chinese immigrants to Canada.
- The City of Richmond Archives has also led a number of initiatives documenting Chinese Canadians in Richmond, including:
 - a report entitled, Thematic Guide to the Early Records of Chinese Canadians in Richmond, in 2011 to support researchers in finding archival resources. Written by a volunteer, this document contains a listing of municipal and community records relating to early Chinese Canadians that are available to consult at the Archives and a brief history of Chinese Canadians in Richmond to 1949;
 - an educational kit for school teachers called Bringing the Box to You: The History of Richmond's First Superstore Hong Wo General Store, which contains archival records illustrating the history of the Hong Wo Store;
 - an exhibit entitled Hong Wo 同和, presented in partnership with the Richmond Art Gallery and the Richmond Museum from October 2024 to June 2025; and
 - short written pieces, including stories of Chinese Canadians, regularly produced by the Friends of the Richmond Archives for their social media platforms about Richmond history. One example of this is the extensively researched blog post about the Hong Wo Store published in 2023.
- The City's recently produced video series, available for viewing online and at the Richmond Museum, incorporates stories of Richmond's Chinese Canadian people and places in many of the videos. In particular, Growth of a City speaks about Chinese migration to Richmond since 1970. A Window to the Past talks about the establishment of Chinese cultural practices in Richmond over the past 60 years through the development of places like Aberdeen Centre. From Farm to Table includes the story of Richmond's market gardeners.

In addition, there are two other projects which will share the history of Chinese Canadians in Richmond currently in process.

- The Richmond Museum is in the process of developing an exhibit on Chinese Canadians in Richmond over the past 60 years which is set to open in Fall 2026. This exhibit is part of the work the Museum has been doing with UBC's Centre for Asian Canadian Research and Engagement.
- Members of the Sea Island Heritage Society are in the process of documenting the family stories of early Chinese Canadians who resided on Sea Island, with stories being shared through their quarterly newsletter.

Opportunity to Develop a Book on the History of the Chinese Canadian Community in Richmond

Generally, municipalities do not lead the production of historical publications or other documentary projects. On occasion, municipalities will commemorate significant city events with the production of a book. One example of this in Richmond is the commemorative book, Richmond's Olympic Journey, produced by the City to celebrate the 2010 Olympics.

Municipalities occasionally support community-led initiatives related to historical documentation with funding or in-kind contributions. Some examples of this in Richmond include the Steveston Nikkei Stories film project led by Orbit Films in 2014, and the Steveston Judo Club 50th anniversary memory book produced in 2003.

Additionally, there are numerous books on Richmond's history published by private authors or community organizations without City support. For example, the Gulf of Georgia Cannery Society produced The Monster Cannery in 2011 detailing the history of the cannery and how the community worked to make it a National Historic Site. Another example is Sutebusuton: A Japanese Village on the British Columbia Coast which offers a study of the history of Japanese Canadians in Steveston written by Mitsuo Yesaki, a Steveston community member, in 2003.

In particular, the production of local history books has been a common practice of the Friends of the Richmond Archives whose volunteers have produced numerous books on Richmond history at the expense of the organization. This includes books on the settlement of Lulu Island, the history of Richmond schools, and the history of horseracing in Richmond.

In consideration of the information provided above, staff do not recommend proceeding in the development of a history book at this time. Work on an exhibit on Richmond's Chinese Canadian community will continue with the goal of a new temporary exhibit in Fall 2026. Following the development of this exhibit, staff will consult with the exhibit advisory group on the level of interest for a more enduring documentary project, such as a printed publication.

Because of the multi-faceted nature of the Chinese Canadian community, a community-led approach in the production of any documentary project is particularly important. There are a number of non-profit organizations who have strong connections to the Chinese Canadian community in Richmond and may have an interest in participating in a future project. Should there be interest from the exhibit advisory group, staff would reach out to these organizations to assess level of interest.

Should there be interest, staff would assess potential for existing exhibit research and content to inform a future project, explore opportunities for external funding, and report back to Council with this information.

A comprehensive history book project would be a multi-year endeavor. Costs (in 2025 dollars) could range from $150,000 for a basic history book to $240,000 for a professionally-designed coffee table book. This costing is inclusive of research, community engagement, writing, translation into two languages, graphic design, printing 200 copies, project management, and promotion/distribution.

Next Steps

Staff will continue work on the Richmond Museum exhibit on Chinese Canadians. Following the opening of the exhibit in Fall 2026, staff will consult with the exhibit advisory group and assess if there is a desire to proceed with additional work. Should there be interest, staff would report back to Council in 2027 with information on potential opportunities for partnerships and funding from other sources, and cost estimates.

Financial Impact

None.

Conclusion

While there is currently no comprehensive book on the history of Chinese Canadians in Richmond, there are many pieces of work which include elements of this history.

Generally, municipalities do not undertake the production of historical books, but instead support community-led initiatives. With this in mind, staff recommend to work with the Richmond Museum's newly formed exhibit advisory group to assess interest in a future documentary project in conjunction with the 2026 exhibit on Chinese Canadians in Richmond. Through the process of exhibit development, staff can explore opportunities for partnerships and available resources for book content and report back to Council should there be interest in a future documentary project such as a history book.

Reckoning and Recognition

As the time of the writing of this paper in 2012, a surge of anti-Muslim globally had occurred across Canada and the United States. The Vancouver Police Department reported a 70% percentage increase in anti-Muslim hate crimes between 2008 and 2010. I have been cited by many journalists that I can remember to explain the rise in anti-Muslim violence and anti-Arab/Arab crimes. Going on in 2008, there seemed to be anti-Muslim violence, anti-Arab violence being viewed to be the ground a warzone existed in this world. Another member reported, "during it of a war zone. But from the increase of anti-Jews being in Arabic in March 10, 2003, up to their Arab violence, brought home for 14 years, including the globe the devastating impact of anti-Muslim kidnapping and war in their America. Well, and journalist asked me, had these incidents occurred as a result of violence that the anti-Muslim racism happened in it, I surprised."

A Squat at the Table can mean many things — for some people, it's an open moment of sharing meals with loved ones, of sitting around a dinner table or at the bar with family and friends. This emotion, we hoped, would let the stories of new Chinese cuisine and Chinese immigrants and Chinese culture in Philadelphia's Chinatown have shaped the city's eat and live and celebrate the together. We hoped this celebration would make you hungry and happy and remind you of family and friends brought together in laughter and joy around food.

But A Study of the Fable is less an economic argument or the long history of suspicion and warily judiciously test-forged Chinese conditions and wrapped up danger and named against them. Attachment 3: Rooted: Chinese Canadian stories in Burnaby

本拿比的历史由数次的华人移民浪潮塑造而成。这些浪潮各自贡献了不同的文化知识、饮食传统和语言。当华人移民在十九世纪后期首次在本拿比落脚时，他们是在居住既族（使用hàqímiáohú和Sìwǎnjūmèshì这两种语言的原住民族）但传统未割让的领地上安家并谋生。自古以来，这块地常被称作“本拿比”的土地一直为原住民族提供生存所需的养分与庇护。

最早的华人移民来自中国广东省，众多男性前往海外寻找“金山”——早期华人移民用金山一词来指代有着淘金热的美国、加拿大和澳大利亚。这个词汇同时也暗喻到异乡冒险谋生的移民期望能为家人带来更好生活的目标。他们当中有人参与金矿开采，也有人在煤矿、菜园和罐头厂工作。还有一些人用自己的积蓄在小镇开设杂货店、洗衣店和小餐馆，为在矿场工作的定居者和当地原住民提供服务。

早期的华人移民受到联邦、省、市各级政府的歧视。从1881到1885年，超过一万七千名华裔铁路工人被招募建造10条太平洋铁路的西段路段。这个危险穿越险恶的地形，将卑诗省和新斯科舍省连接起来，为这个名叫加拿大的新兴国家建立了横贯大陆、安全高效的运输系统。这些华工人数被视为重要

The history of Burnaby has been shaped by many waves of Chinese immigration, each contributing diverse cultural knowledge, food traditions and languages. When Chinese immigrants first settled in Burnaby in the late nineteenth century, they made their homes and earned their living on the ancestral and unceded homelands of the hálq'məkwə- and Səl̓wəŋəmsh-speaking peoples. Since time immemorial, the lands that became "Burnaby" provided subsistence and shelter for Indigenous communities.

The earliest waves of Chinese immigration to Canada arrived from Guangdong, China. Many men travelled in search of Gold Mountain, a term used by early Chinese migrants to refer to the United States, Canada and Australia, where gold rushes took place. The term is a metaphor for the places Chinese migrants ventured to find work and a better life for their families. Some of them participated in gold mining, others worked in coal mines, on farms and in canneries. Some of them used their savings to open general stores, laundries and cafes in small towns, serving settler miners and local Indigenous Peoples.

Early Chinese migrants were discriminated against by federal, provincial and municipal governments. From 1881 to 1885, more than 17,000 Chinese railroad workers were recruited to complete the western portion of the Canadian Pacific Railway over treacherous terrain, connecting British Columbia to Haida Gwaii and creating a safe and efficient transcontinental transportation system in the new nation.

Analysis

Background

The Rotary Club of Richmond Sunset (the Club) has a history of serving the local and global community through provision of services, infrastructures donations and scholarships. Some examples of their contributions to the Richmond community include organizing the grand opening of Richmond City Hall in 2000, fundraising for the Garden City Community Park arboretum in 2009, and arranging the Winter Wonderland fundraiser at Richmond City Hall for the past 22 years.

Building on this legacy, the Club proposed the Garden City Park gathering space project (the Project) in the summer of 2022 through the City's Partners for Beautification, Adopt-a-Garden Program. The Program provides a unique opportunity for Richmond residents of all ages, community groups, service clubs and businesses to get involved in the maintenance of existing and creation of new garden areas in Richmond's open spaces and community parks.

The Project aims to create a peaceful gathering space at Garden City Community Park to promote reflection, intercultural harmony, and community connection. The Club has committed to fully fund the creation of this new space as a continuation of their dedication to enhancing public spaces.

As part of the planning process, a concept design with preliminary cost estimates has been developed. To date, the Club has raised $130,000 toward the $300,000 project goal, and has committed to providing the balance of the funding, with the target to complete the project by summer 2026.

The vision for the gathering space is to serve as a place of quiet contemplation and reminder of the importance of peace, intercultural harmony, community belonging and social connections in the Richmond community and beyond. The overall goal is to create a gathering space that feels both inclusive and peaceful, providing a welcoming spot for visitors of all backgrounds to rest, reflect, and connect with nature.

Gathering Space Concept Plan

The Concept Plan was developed through close collaboration with the Club to align with the vision for the gathering space. The design goal is to create a space that invites people to rest, connect, and enjoy the serenity of Garden City Community Park. Attachment 1 provides the project location and photos of the existing site, while Attachment 2 illustrates the concept plan for the proposed gathering space, including visual references of the planned design elements.

To ensure inclusivity and universal access, the concept plan will also be reviewed by the City's Accessibility Advisory Committee. This consultation will support the identification of accessibility considerations and promote a design that accommodates the full range of user abilities.

The proposed gathering space will be located within an opening, between existing large trees in the northwest area of the park and arboretum. Spanning approximately 430 square metres, the design thoughtfully integrates with the park's natural environment, ensuring the preservation of its aesthetic and atmosphere. The existing pathways, topography and surrounding trees will be maintained. Additionally, all proposed hardscape materials will be selected to complement and blend seamlessly with the existing surroundings.

The design includes a small entry plaza, a walkway, and a seating area with a rock feature. At the entry plaza, a ginkgo tree will be planted as the main feature, accompanied by a selection of perennials and shrubs. The plaza will also feature a recognition sign and a series of peace poles, contributing to a welcoming atmosphere. Timber benches will match the existing benches in the park and placed along the walkway to offer seating opportunities, while the existing asphalt pathway will be upgraded with stone pavers installed on either side. At the east end of the walkway, a circular seating area constructed with a permeable surface and stone pavers will provide a spot for rest and reflection.

At the centre of the seating area, a rock feature will serve as both a visual focal point and a symbolic element. Representing stability, endurance, and timelessness, the rock reflects the values of peace, resilience, and connection that the space is intended to inspire. Frequently used in meditative and cultural landscapes, such features often act as grounding elements, offering visitors a quiet moment for reflection. Surrounded by natural plantings, the rock reinforces the contemplative character of the space and invites park users to pause and connect with their surroundings in a meaningful way.

Gathering Space Recognition Details

To acknowledge the Club's contribution and fundraising efforts, as well as those of individual donors and other contributors, the Project will include several forms of recognition. These will consist of a recognition sign, dedication pavers and peace poles. Reference images illustrating these recognition elements can be found in Attachment 2.

Recognition Signage: Prominently placed signage at the entry plaza will serve as a focal point, acknowledging the collaborative efforts behind the creation of the gathering space. It will provide general recognition of both the Club and the City, who contributed their time, services, and resources to the project. The design of the signage will seamlessly integrate with the park's existing wayfinding system. A similar example of this type of recognition signage can be seen at the Cambie Community Gathering Place at King George/Cambie Community Park.

Dedication Pavers: Approximately 500 engraved stone pavers will be placed along the existing park pathway and within the small gathering area around the rock feature. These pavers will feature personalized messages from donors, serving as lasting tributes to those who contributed. A similar approach has been used at The Millennium Plaza in Steveston Community Park, where engraved pavers celebrate community involvement.

Peace Poles: To further enrich the gathering space, 16 Peace Poles will be installed, each displaying the message "May Peace Prevail on Earth" in multiple languages. A dedication plate will be attached to each pole, allowing for simple personalized messages of tribute. These poles symbolize the values of peace, unity, and cultural diversity, reinforcing the park's inclusive atmosphere and commitment to promoting multilingualism and harmony. The Peace Poles are part of the Rotary Club International initiative, which aims to spread the message of peace worldwide. As a result, this gathering space could potentially be included on the global map of Peace Pole locations, connecting it to a broader network of communities dedicated to fostering peace.

Dedication Program Amenities: Seven dedication benches will be installed along the walkway and within the circular seating area. Each bench will represent one of Rotary's seven areas of focus, including peacebuilding and conflict prevention; disease prevention and treatment; water, sanitation, and hygiene; maternal and child health; basic education and literacy; community economic development; and environmental sustainability. A ginkgo tree will also be planted as a dedicated tree, aligning with the original vision of incorporating a symbol of hope and resilience. The ginkgo tree, known for its ability to endure and thrive in challenging conditions, will serve as an emblem of strength, resilience, and renewal. Its presence in the gathering space will offer visitors a reminder of overcoming adversity and the enduring power of hope, while also enhancing the arboretum with its unique beauty and historical significance.

Contribution Agreement

Subject to Council's approval, a Contribution Agreement will formalize the partnership with the Club. The agreement will outline the responsibilities of both parties, including the Club's role and financial commitment and the City's role in supporting the project, such as assisting with project design and implementation, managing the construction process, and future routine inspection and maintenance.

The agreement will include detailed provisions specifying dedication amenities and recognition. All tree and bench dedications, including associated costs, conditions, and renewal terms, will comply with the City's Tree, Bench, and Picnic Table Dedication Policy.

All other recognition items such as signage, dedication pavers, and peace poles, will receive final approval through the City regarding their location, size, design, and wording with reasonable efforts being identified to repair and/or replace any elements that are damaged, missing, or require maintenance. Specific maintenance responsibilities and details will be outlined in the agreement.

Next Steps

Should Council approve the Concept Plan and key terms of the Contribution Agreement, as described in this report, next steps would include completion of the Contribution Agreement followed by the first payment of $130,000 from the Club. Procurement activities are expected to begin in fall 2025, with construction scheduled to commence in spring 2026 and conclude by summer 2026. City staff will oversee project management throughout the construction phase.

As part of the next steps, staff will also engage the Accessibility Advisory Committee to review and provide feedback on the Concept Plan prior to finalizing detailed design and implementation.

An official opening has been earmarked in August 2026, which will be organized by the City in collaboration with the Club. An update will be provided regarding the opening event, once details are finalized.

Financial Impact

The total estimated cost for implementation of the proposed gathering space is $300,000, excluding in-kind support by the City. Funding is available in the Council approved capital project Garden City Community Park Gathering Space, which will be fully provided by the Club.

Additionally, Council approved an Operating Budget Impact (OBI) of $3,278 for the ongoing operating and maintenance costs of the gathering space.

Conclusion

The gathering space at Garden City Park will serve as a reminder of the importance of peace, while also providing a serene environment for personal reflection and quiet contemplation, and offering visitors a meaningful respite from the fast-paced demands of urban life.

Built on the strong history of partnership between the City and the Club in the past, the Project will be fully funded by the Club through its fundraising efforts. In turn, the City is contributing staff resources to lead the planning and design, manage construction, and ensure the gathering space is well integrated into the park in the long-term. Should Council approve the proposed Concept Plan and contribution agreement key terms, staff would immediately proceed to next steps, with implementation funded by the contribution from the Club.

Staff Report

Origin

The purpose of this report is to seek Council's approval to develop a Parks, Recreation and Culture Allocation Policy (PRC Allocation Policy).

This report supports Council's Strategic Plan 2022–2026 Focus Area #1 Proactive in Stakeholder and Civic Engagement:

Proactive stakeholder and civic engagement to foster understanding and involvement and advance Richmond's interests.

1.3 Increase the reach of communication and engagement efforts to connect with Richmond's diverse community.

This report supports Council's Strategic Plan 2022–2026 Focus Area #6 A Vibrant, Resilient and Active Community:

Vibrant, resilient and active communities supported by a wide variety of opportunities to get involved, build relationships and access resources.

6.1 Advance a variety of program, services, and community amenities to support diverse needs and interests and activate the community.

This report also supports a variety of City of Richmond strategies, including: Community Wellness Strategy 2018–2023, Recreation and Sport Strategy 2019–2024, and the Arts Strategy 2019-2024.

Analysis

Background

Richmond is home to a wide array of parks, recreation, and cultural amenities and facilities that support diverse programs, activities and services. Through a variety of operating and service delivery models and agreements, the Parks, Recreation and Culture Division (the Division) works closely with a variety of community organizations to provide a range of services to the community including registered programs, drop-in activities, events, rental and casual use opportunities that provide both community and personal benefit.

Guidance on allocating spaces and facilities (such as pools, fields, gymnasiums and multi-purpose rooms) for these purposes are set out in allocation policies.

These policies include:

- Policy No. 8011 – Aquatics Program;
- Policy No. 8300 – City Facilities: Provisions to Groups;
- Policy No. 8501 – Outdoor Sport Facilities and Amenities Allocation;

- Administrative Directive No. 8501.01 – Outdoor Sport Facilities and Amenities Allocation; and
- Policy No. 8701 – Parks and Leisure Services: Community Involvement.

As highlighted in Attachment 1, these policies vary considerably in terms of when they were developed, with older policies either remaining unchanged since their original adoption or updated some time ago. Some existing policies are specialized and apply only to specific Parks, Recreation and Culture (PRC) spaces. As a result, gaps exist across the broader PRC facility spectrum, where spaces without an applicable allocation policy do not benefit from the structure, consistency, and guidance such a policy provides.

This context presents an opportunity to develop a comprehensive PRC Allocation Policy that addresses gaps, promotes equitable access, optimizes PRC infrastructure use, and enhances clarity and consistency to decision-making across the system.

An overarching policy will establish foundational principles and provide direction for the allocation of all PRC spaces and facilities. The process of developing an overarching policy will include a review and assessment of existing allocation policies, which are specific to certain PRC spaces, to determine whether they should be integrated into the overarching policy or remain separate but aligned with its principles and structure. Specialized areas—such as aquatics—may continue to benefit from tailored guidance provided by facility-specific policies that respond to unique aspects of the facility and its use.

Policy 8501 Outdoor Sport Facilities and Amenities Allocation, the most recent of the City's allocation policies, is an example of a facility-specific policy. It remains current, works well and may serve as a model for other specialized areas such as aquatics that may require a more tailored policy to align with the overarching policy.

Municipal Review

Staff conducted a review of allocation policies for parks, recreation and cultural facilities from seven (7) Canadian municipalities including Burnaby, Coquitlam, Surrey, Vancouver, Calgary, Regina and Saskatoon. This review revealed a number of common themes and promising practices that could be considered within the City's context.

While the structure and detail of policies vary, many include:

- Strong emphasis on alignment with broader strategic goals;
- Principles of equity and inclusion;
- Transparency in decision-making;
- Roles and responsibilities for staff;
- Expectations and requirements for users;
- Defined types of user groups;
- Defined types of use;
- Time-based allocation principles;
- Optimization of facility use supporting economic sustainability; and

- Prioritization frameworks.

These insights present an opportunity for Richmond to strengthen its policy framework, and to establish a more unified and responsive approach to facility allocation—one that optimizes the use of PRC infrastructure, reflects operational realities, community values and evolving needs.

Allocation Policy – Objectives and Scope

An overarching policy would enable consistency across all facility types for the allocation of PRC spaces to optimize the use of infrastructure, and offer clear guidance regarding allocation priorities. It would also enhance transparency for the public and user groups by clearly outlining how allocation decisions are made and articulating the expectations and requirements for users.

The scope of the policy will include:

- Providing guidance for space allocation in alignment with Council priorities;
- Establishing equitable, transparent, and consistent processes for facility space allocation;
- Defining types of user groups and establishing a framework for assigning priority within and across these categories;
- Defining types of use and outlining how priority is determined within and across categories;
- Outlining roles and responsibilities of City staff, as well as users and additional relevant groups such as Associations and Advisory Boards;
- Outlining clear expectations and requirements for all groups utilizing PRC spaces;
- Accommodating emerging and evolving community needs as well as future growth; and
- Supporting equitable and inclusive opportunities for all Richmond residents to engage in play and recreation.

Policy Development Process

Should Council support the development of a PRC Allocation Policy, staff will initiate a policy development process that will progress through three phases as outlined in Figure 1.

Phase 2

- Develop draft PRC Allocation Policy and consider revisions to existing allocation policies to ensure alignment; and
- Re-engage with Richmond residents.

Phase 3

- Report to Council for PRC Allocation Policy endorsement; and
- Undertake revisions to existing policies in alignment with endorsed PRC Allocation Policy.

Report to Council

A number of factors will need to be considered as part of overarching policy development and existing policy review, including, but not limited to:

- Evolving best practices in facility and service allocation policies and procedures;
- Population and demographic shifts;
- Space utilization trends; and
- Shifts in user group needs and participation trends.

The policy development process will prioritize interested party involvement and public engagement throughout. Engagement with community organizations that work closely with the Division will play a central role in shaping the policy and reflecting community perspectives.

The proposed plan for involving interested parties includes two methods:

1. A Working Group that allows for in-depth involvement in identifying policy options and recommendations. Membership would include both staff and Community Association and Society board representatives from across Parks, Recreation and Culture (e.g., Richmond Sports Council, London Heritage Farm Society, Minoru Seniors Society, Richmond Arts Coalition, Nature Park Society, and members of the Richmond Council of Communities). Groups will be asked to appoint a representative to the working group.
2. Interested party meetings that invite representatives from all Association and Society boards to provide feedback on the work of the Working Group at key junctures in the process. (see Attachment 2)

An initial and foundational step for the Working Group, and policy development process, will be to establish a set of Guiding Principles. The Guiding Principles will state the values that are important in the development of the Allocation Policy, and will be key in shaping the direction of this initiative, supporting decision-making.

Next Steps

Pending Council approval of the development of a Parks, Recreation and Culture Allocation Policy, staff will proceed with Phase 1 of the policy development and bring forward draft Guiding Principles for Council endorsement in a future report.

Financial Impact

None.

Conclusion

A Parks, Recreation and Culture Allocation Policy will strengthen the City's ability to manage facility allocation in a consistent, transparent and equitable manner, optimize the use of PRC infrastructure, and ensure that community spaces deliver shared value to all Richmond residents.
